LOTHERS, NOT MANNERS, WILL MAKE THE MAN

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Well tailored men of the coming fall will be narrow of shoulder and broad of chest and the present type of wide shouldered but anaemic "Clothing Store Athlete," will have vanished from the realm of the elite. Exhibitions at the fashion show, which was formally opened today, presaged the passing of the artificial wide shoulders and bore evidence that superfluous cloth in future will be lavished on the chest. The overcoat of "The man who knows" will be loose and baggy. The latest thing in keep warm clothing is called a "great coat." Any size will fit anyone fairly well, but is guaranteed not to fit any individual perfectly. The coat will bear the ulster collar of last winter, only more so.

I found the making of the dress so interesting that I lost my nervous, restless feeling, and also the blues, before it was finished.

HOOF BEATS

Chester Lasell worked the 2-year-old Young Mac, by Macougal, 2:10 1/2, out of the Nun, 2:24 1/2, at Kalamazoo. Bon Proctor will mark the Bingara 3-year-old Bergen in 2:10 this summer. He showed 2:12 at Kalamazoo last week.

The Direct family gets a couple of new pacers to Corroctly, 2:11, by Directly and Annie Laury, 2:12 1/2, by Walter Direct.

With members racing colts of their own breeding the matinees of the Gentlemen's driving club are certain to become popular.

Lon McDonald has the first stake trotter for 1911 that has shown in Miss Burbrook, 2:23 1/2, who worked in 2:08 1/2, the other day.

Miss Stokes, 2:14 1/2, the yearling champion, has worked in 2:13 1/2, the fastest mile to the credit of a 2-year-old trotter this season.

Sam Blampied, for many years a member of the American Horse Breeder staff, has gone to New York as statistician for the Fasig-Tipton company.

ST. MARY'S STARS WON FROM MARYSVILLE IN LAST INNING

Score was 6 to 5—Scotts Home Run Feature of the Game—Errors Numerous.

It was rather rocky baseball that was played on the St. Mary's diamond last evening, but nevertheless it was exciting and the fans enjoyed a close game, for Marysville tied the score in the first of the fifth, only to have St. Mary's win out in the other half of the inning. Score 6 to 5. Brogan pitched for Marysville but not in his usual style, evidently saving himself for next week.

A Brewer was between the points for the Stars and did fairly well. Errors abounded on both sides however, neither pitcher getting good support.

Marysville started the scoring, Brogan rallying in the first. St. Mary's evened matters when Walker drew a pass, got to second on an error and to third on choice and beat a throw to the plate.

In the second inning Boyce scored the second run for Marysville, getting a hit and stealing second going to third on choice and scoring on passed ball. In their half of the inning the Stars got four. Brogan passed McLean, who stole second. Wilson struck out but A. Brewer was safe on an error which let McLean get to third. An error at first base allowed McLean to score and everybody was safe. Brewer was put out at third but Walker's two-base hit advanced Gorman to third. At this point Scott put the ball into the bushes back of right field and three runs came in before the ball was found. Scott being credited with a home run. Score—St. Mary's, 5; Marysville, 2.

In the third inning Steeves drew a pass, reached second on choice and scored when Gorman dropped Hovey's fly.

In the fifth Marysville tied the score amid great excitement. Brogan started the fun by scoring from second base, when Osborne was thrown out at first. Umpire Staples did not notice whether or not Brogan touched third and the run counted.

An error, a couple of stolen bases and a passed ball enabled Cain to rally and the score was 5 to 5.

It was up to the Stars in their half of the inning and they responded to the call. A. Brewer drew a pass. Ernie Boone reached first on choice but died at second. A. Boone fanned but McLean reached first safely, when Boone was put out. Wilson won the game with a base hit, scoring A. Brewer.

The line-up was as follows:

MARYSVILLE ST. MARY'S.
Boyce Catcher R. Brewer
Brogan Pitcher A. Brewer
Cain 1st Base Scott
Osborne 2nd Base E. Boone
Bird 3rd Base Walker
H. McDonald S. S. McLean
Steeves L. F. Gorman
McDonald C. F. Wilson
Hovey R. F. A. Boone

Umpire—A. Staples.
Score by innings:
St. Mary's ... 1 4 0 1—6
Marysville ... 1 1 1 0—5

NOTES.
Marysville is expected to turn out in force when Calais plays here next Tuesday.

The St. Mary's field needs some improvements in the outer garden. Scott's home-run last night was due to the bushes.

Brogan is expected to open out some next Tuesday.

Evening games should start on time. It was dark when the last inning was played last night.

BIG LEAGUE SCOUT WATCHED WOODSTOCK TRIM PRESQUE ISLE

Malachi Kiltredge Took a Look at Peaseley and Neptune—Presque Lost Twice.

Woodstock, Aug. 3.—When the local team lined up to play the Presque Isle aggregation this afternoon they had as a spectator one gentleman who watched every good play on either team with the keen appreciation of an expert and it is said tonight that some of the fast ball players of this section may find themselves in faster company next season with a chance to blossom out into big league stars at a fat salary. Malachi Kiltredge, the well known scout for the major baseball organization, was present, and as he is on the lookout for promising youngsters for big league ball next season, there was no small amount of interest as to the showing the teams would make. To give Mr. Kiltredge a chance to see both Peaseley and Neptune in action, the former pitched the first three innings of the evening game, while the Indian heaver delivered the shots in the last four. Woodstock won both games with ease, the score in the afternoon being 7 to 0, and in the evening 10 to 0. The afternoon game was all Woodstock's, and at no time was it necessary for Peaseley to show form. Presque Isle has a clever battery in Upton and Minot, but its support was ragged. The evening game was also a shut out for the visitors, with ten against them. In the evening game Peaseley had six strike outs in three innings. In the remaining four innings, with 12 men up, Neptune had eight strike outs, a record of 14 strike outs for 21 men at bat. Both teams played snappy ball, but the visitors were out classed. Heavy batting was done by Hughes, Milmore and Iott, and stellar field work by Hughes and Ryan.

There was a large attendance and the weather was perfect. The first game was played in one hour and twenty minutes and the second game in one hour. Score by innings, afternoon:

Presque Isle, ... 00000000—0
Woodstock, ... 16000000—7
Batteries, Upton and Minot; Peaseley and Milmore.

Umpire, Roy McLaughlin.
Score by innings, evening:

Presque Isle, ... 00000000—0
Woodstock, ... 221113x—10
Batteries, Rogers and Minot; Peaseley and Iott, Neptune and Milmore.

Umpire, Jas. Long.
The Woodstock team has won 11 out of the last 14 games played.

Mary G., the 4-year-old daughter of Walnut Hall, in Walter Cox's stable, was timed in 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/2 at Kalamazoo. She will not be started again this year.

Arthur Parker has a brother to The Abbot and The Abbe at Readville, who is going to develop into a very fast trotter. He has already worked better than 2:20.

St. Louis is to have boxing next winter. A boxing club with 500 bonafide members is planned and the authorities say they will stand for such an organization.

Ad Wolgast and Fred Cole have been matched to box in Muncie, Ind. Aug. 9.

ST. STEPHEN WON FROM UTOPIANS

St. Stephen, N. B., Aug. 3.—The Thistles and Utopians met this afternoon on the diamond in St. Stephen Driving Pari. The score was 8 to 1 in favor of the Thistles.

Tommy Burns, who meets Sam Langford in England next month, is to witness the Langford-Kaufman bout in Philadelphia to get a line on Langford's style of milling.

HOW SAM LANGFORD FIRST BROKE INTO THE FIGHTING GAME

Weymouth Negro Acted as Janitor at Joe Woodman's Club and Got His First Chance.

Seven years ago in Boston there approached Joe Woodman, a fellow who would do anything in the world for a place to sleep which would accommodate him and his yellow dog. Woodman, ever given to the goodness of the heart, was then running a boxing club, and he gave the stranger permission to sleep in the club with his yellow dog as a bed fellow.

The stranger thanked him and Woodman dismissed the matter from his mind. In appreciation of the night's care the owner of the yellow dog assisted in the cleaning of the club house the next morning. He gradually drifted into the graces of Woodman until he was the janitor of the club, but he never forgot the yellow dog which was, by the way, his first recommendation to Woodman.

One night there was a disappointment at the club and the janitor asked the chance to participate in the place of the absent boxer. He made his plea to Woodman, but Joe disliked the idea of a good janitor being a hum fighter, so he waved him away and told him to go down to the amateur tourney and get a fair start there where the game would not be so tough.

On the next Monday morning Joe Woodman nearly keeled over when he saw the janitor of his club wearing a gold watch, the first prize in the tourney. Woodman had staked his janitor to a quarter as entrance fee to the tourney and had loaned him fighting togs to wear, thinking he would return to the club a sadder boxer, but a slicker janitor.

The janitor staked himself to the next tourney fee and asked Woodman to be present and watch him knock the novices spinning. A series of successes followed the janitor until Woodman gave him his first professional fight, which he won. Seventeen dollars and fifty cents was the share of this fight. For two days after the fight, the janitor of Joe Woodman's club was not to be found and when he did appear he was tagged out in raiment which would have made Bert Williams' stage front look as silent as the catacombs in Rome.

It was so distinct in the riot of colors that the wearer narrowly escaped arrest for creating unnecessary noise. The janitor played no favorites in his collection of hues and no color was neglected, but with all his glad arrive he did not forget the fact that he was the janitor of Joe Woodman's club, and he was back on his first job in Boston.

Woodman was more amused at the climb of his janitor than he was serious in the thought that he would ever go higher in the glove game, but when he beat top-notchers Woodman knew he had a wonder and prepared him accordingly. Sandy Ferguson, Jim Flynn, Jim Barry, the "Dixie Kid," and many of the marvels of the ring fell before the fist of Joe Woodman's janitor, and from a lightweight he grew into the middleweight class, and while at this weight he met Jack Johnson and gave that fellow one of the tightest tussles the Texan has tackled since his entry into the game.

The janitor of Joe Woodman's Club visited California twice and he was the sensation of the Pacific coast. Then he went to England and France where, because of his effervescent smile he was acclaimed the second Peter Jackson. And that janitor was Sam Langford.

The pride of England, Ian Hagur and Tiger Smith, slumbered when he smote them on the jaw, and he returned to America determined to try and capture the middleweight championship.

Langford is ranked as one of the greatest middleweights who ever drew on a glove. He is a puncher and a phantom, as the occasion demands, and he is sure that some day the sun will shine on Sam Langford when he is the middleweight champion of the world.

In Woodman he has a manager who is a favorite with the fistie promoters from Boston back to Frisco. Langford is a wonderful fighter, but he could have no better man behind him than Joe Woodman, and Sam knows it, and he will fight for fifty cents or $50,000, according to Joe Woodman's wishes.

Clubs have tried to go over Woodman's head to secure the services of Sam, but Langford only laughed and said: "You see Woodman before I'll fight."

Today Langford is rich in the wealth of the world. But no matter what be the turn of the tide, nothing can part Langford from the man who made him, Joe Woodman.

The two big clubs in New York are again to clash on Aug. 12, both having bouts for that date. Tom O'Rourke has Tony Ross and Jim Smith for this card, while the Fairmount has Ketchel and Lngag of Australia in the main event.
