BRITISH MONARCH PASSES AWAY

Duke of Cornwall and York, who now becomes King; Princess Louise, who was married to the Duke of Fife; Princess Victoria Alexandra and Princess Maud Charlotte, who was married to Prince Karl of Denmark, now King Haakon VII. of Norway. The king was of the House of Hanover, which dates from the accession to the throne of King George I. in 1714.

TWICE BEFORE AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Twice before ascending the throne Edward's life was despaired of. In 1871 he was seriously ill with typhoid fever that for weeks his death was expected. In 1898 he fell on the stairs during a visit to Baron Ferdinand De Rothschild at Waddesdon Manor and fractured a knee cap. Complications ensued, and for a time his condition was dangerous.

His coronation, originally set for June 26, 1902, and postponed until August 9, was a pageant of almost unparalleled splendor and the occasion of celebration throughout the world.

His short reign was a peaceful one after the conclusion of the Boer war, which was in progress when he became king.

Several times the king's life has been in danger from anarchists or cranks. On April 4, 1900, when, as a prince he was in Brussels, Jean Sisko, a boy of fifteen years, fired at him as he was seated in a railway coach. The shot did no harm. The boy was held to be mentally irresponsible. A plot to assassinate him and King Carlos at Portugal while he was in Lisbon in 1903 was discovered and frustrated.

OFFICIAL MESSAGE OF REGRET.

St. John, N.B., May 6, 1910.
To His Excellency The Governor General, Ottawa:

Will Your Excellency please forward the following telegram:

(Signed) L. J. TWAEDIE

On behalf of my government myself and the people of the province, I beg to tender most heartfelt sympathy to the Queen and Royal Family in their bereavement, and to assure them that in no part of the British Empire will the death of His Majesty be more sincerely deplored.

(Signed) J. L. TWEEDIE.
Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick.

LIEUT-GOVERNOR TWEEDIE.

Lieutenant Governor Tweedie, when he heard the deplorable news, expressed the deepest sorrow at the untimely death of His Majesty who, he said, "was one of the most illustrious kings that ever ruled the British Empire." "No monarch," the Lieutenant Governor continued, "in the world commanded the respect and love of the people as he did."

"It required a ruler of remarkable qualities, of tact and good judgment to so successfully succeed his illustrious mother, Queen Victoria."

"The world has lost its greatest peacemaker, and one whose influence was always exerted for the benefit and uplifting of mankind."

"In view of what is transpiring in the British Empire at the present time, his death is more especially to be deplored, as there has been no time in the history of the Empire, when his influence could have been more beneficially felt."

"All Canada mourns for Edward the Seventh whose memory will ever be cherished by the loyal subjects of the Crown."

"With the example of Queen Victoria and his noble father to inspire him there can be no doubt that the present King will be true to the traditions of the Empire, and, supported by the intense loyalty of the people will prove himself a worthy successor to the King for whom today all the Empire is sorrowing."

PREMIER HAZEN.

Premier Hazen said:
"I regard the sudden demise of King Edward VII as a calamity, not only to the British Empire, but to the world at large."

"Even under ordinary circumstances the death of the sovereign of a great nation cannot be regarded by his subjects otherwise than with feeling conditions of British politics and the relation of the European nations to one another, the removal of a wise, prudent, experienced and politic monarch, is an event that may be attended with consequences of most serious import to the nation and the world."

"King Edward's reign was a comparatively short one, but the verdict of history will undoubtedly be that he was one of the wisest and greatest rulers that ever sat upon a throne."

"He took a most keen and active interest on all his country's institutions endeavoring at all times to promote the well-being of his subjects, and his appreciation of the British dominions beyond the seas was shown, when soon after his accession, he sent his son, the heir to the crown, upon a mission to Canada and other parts of the empire."

"This was one of his first acts after ascending the throne, and the loyal greeting which the Prince everywhere received in Canada demonstrated how warmly the people of the dominion appreciated His Maj-

GETTING IN SHAPE.

Reports from the country districts are to the effect that the frost is all out of the ground and that the farmers are ready to begin putting in their crop during the coming week. The recent changeable weather has delayed operations somewhat, but the outlook is not unfavorable. It is scarcely likely that the farmers will go in quite so heavily on potatoes this year as they did last.

A BIRTHDAY GIFT.

Mrs. A. E. Kilburn who has been organist of the Macquac Baptist church for ten years was on Thursday evening presented with a beautiful cut glass fruit dish by the church ann congregation this being the fourth time that Mrs. Kilburn has been so kindly remembered in like manner. The address was read by Deacon J. F. Haines to which Mrs. Kilburn made an appropriate reply.

DEATH OF WM. D. CHASE

The death of William D. Chase occurred this morning at the residence of Mr. Charles Atherton after a lingering illness, leaving four brothers Frederick and David of this city and James and Augustus at Lakeville Corner and two sisters Mrs. George Searles of this city and Mrs. H. Randles of Lakeville Corner. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. McConnell assisted by Ensign Hargrove. Interment will be made at the Rural cemetery.

MASONIC BANQUET AT McADAM.

Dr. H. S. Bridges, provincial grand master of the Masonic grand lodge of New Brunswick with J. Twining Hartt grand secretary; H. E. Gould of Sussex, grand director of ceremonies; W. H. Smith, grand deacon; D. Arnold Fox, grand organist; Donald Munro, of Woodstock; grand senior warden and George Pender, junior grand warden, paid an official visit last evening to Ashlar lodge at McAdam. After the regular lodge session a reception was served and a very pleasant evening was spent, marred only by the receipt of the news of the death of King Edward.

esty's thoughtful and tactful action. His popularity was unbouded, and he enjoyed to a greater extent than any British sovereign, with the exception of his sainted mother, the confidence and esteem of his people.

"That his son, who succeeds him upon the throne with the universal approval of the loyal people of the British Empire has inherited the wisdom, patriotism and other qualifications of Edward VII and Queen Victoria in a marked degree, will be the heart-felt prayer of every loyal Britisher and of everyone who desires well for the welfare and prosperity of the world at large."
