BOY BANDITS BATTLE
IN AIR WITH POLICE

Thirteen-Year-Old Chief at Head of Gang of Twenty Robbers in Montreal--Defence of Lair by Three Lads in Teens Who Fought Revolver Duel with Attacking Force.

Montreal, Oct. 23.—Twenty boy bandits, armed with revolvers, and with a thirteen-year-old robber chief at the head of their gang, have at last been interrupted in their daring nocturnal burglaries after a thrilling midnight battle with the police on the roof of a private residence at 220 Berri street.

Firing upon the police, who in the darkness were climbing up a ladder to arrest them on the roof, the boy bandits made an audacious stand when brought to bay by Constable Eugene Martin and the men who were following him. Only after the police men answered the volley from the young bandits and called out that they would shoot to kill if they did not surrender, did the boys throw down their arms. Constable Martin had a narrow escape before the boys gave up the fight, one of their shots having passed through his hat.

It then transpired that the defence of their lair on the roof had been conducted by three boys who had been left behind to guard the hiding place. They gave their names as Romeo Binette, aged 14; Louis Dillala, aged 15, and Emile Levesque.

When the arrests were made, the young bandits' ingenious hiding place was discovered by the police. The gang had forced open a cupola used to store awnings on the roof of the residence at 220 Berri street. This cupola led to an attic. It was only four feet high, but it afforded excellent facilities for storage and furnished a snug sleeping place for the juvenile robbers. In it the police found firearms lying about, a kit of burglars' tools, and various stolen articles. The roof was reached by means of a ladder leading from a lower shed.

Following the revolver battle at midnight, the leader of the gang, Evance Lafayette, aged 13, was arrested by Constable Martin yesterday, which with the arrest of Peter Hall, who was the first of the gang to be caught, makes five arrests in all. There are fifteen others being followed up, and more arrests will likely be made today.

WERE AIDED BY WOMEN

One of the amazing features of the case is that a woman living in the rear of 37 St. Elizabeth street, was in league with the boys, urged them on to their robberies, told them about good places to break into, and purchased all the stuff that they stole. A search warrant was taken out against her yesterday and $500 worth of stolen goods was discovered on her premises. There was also another woman living on St. Timothy St., who also aided in stowing away the goods. A search warrant was taken out against her this morning.

Although very young, the boys are all expert lock-pickers, in fact they surprised the police this morning by an exhibition of how they could open any lock they wanted. Lafayette, the leader of the gang, in the presence of the police, in No. 4 station, took up a small stone rapped a lock on the side and had the door open while the police were still wondering how it was done.

Then the police tried to do the trick, but although they followed the movements of the boys, they could not open the locks.

It is astounding to the police that boys of such tender ages could be such astute criminals. In the last few months they stole over $500 worth of goods, and their robberies extended over three years.

BOYS ENJOYED OUTLAW LIFE

"There will be about forty arrests in this case, before we get through with it," said Constable Martin this morning. "This will include the twenty boys and others who were in league with the woman in St. Elizabeth Street in disposing of the goods. Their system of getting rid of the goods so quickly was what made the business a fairly profitable one for the boys. They said they always had money in their pockets and that they enjoyed their outlaw life thoroughly."

The case is replete with remarkable incidents, and one of them is that the boys could make a hiding place on the roof of a house in a respectable residential district, not a stone's throw from St. Catherine's Street, without giving the neighbors an inkling about what was going on.

It was true that residents in the immediate vicinity now remember that they heard noises coming from the roof of the residence, scraping on the gravel, and, occasionally, the sound of footsteps on the tin part of the roof, but they never imagined that such a locality would be chosen as a robbers' lair.

Those who had the best chance of noticing suspicious circumstances about the roof were the sisters in the convent, on St. Catherine Street, from the side windows of which they could look out on the lane, sheds and roofs of the Terri Street houses.

Sometimes early in the mornings, the sisters, would see a boy coming down the ladder, but only when they were aroused at midnight by the revolver battle did the meaning of it all dawn upon them. They thought at first that it was an attempt upon their chapel, and rushed in in their alarm, turned on the lights and searched the place. Then they noticed that the revolver shots came from the opposite roofs.

HELPED BY DARK STREETS

The sisters complained to The Star this morning that the streets in the neighborhood of their convent are too dark, and the darkness of the lane was a great aid to the misguided boys.

Included among the recent robberies to which the boys have confessed was the stealing of twenty-four revolvers and other arms, from a shop on St. Lawrence street, near Ontario. They were also expert poultry thieves and among other places, systematically looted the premises of a man at 13 Demerais Street, who keeps so many chickens, that he is familiarly known as "Chicken." He is among the chief losers from the robbers.

They also broke into a store on La-guachetiere Street not long ago and robbed as much oilcloth as they could carry.

BLAMES MOVING PICTURES

"I cannot account for the fact that there are so many boy burglars in Montreal," said Captain Hebert, of the police district in which the arrests were made. "It may be due to the moving picture shows showing exhibitions of burglars' operations, or it may be due to cheap novels. But we are making an alarming number of arrests among boys of this age."

At detective headquarters, the theory is advanced that the recent translation of Sherlock Holmes stories into French was liable to have a bad effect on the juvenile mind.

The five boys arrested are arraigned this morning and will appear again in court on the 28th.

VALUABLE FIND AT CAMPBELLTON

Campbellton, Oct. 24.—Two bales of supplies were recently received from Vancouver by the relief committee of this place. While examining these one of the members of the committee found three notes of hand in the pockets of an old garment. These, which aggregated in value $4,000 were payable at the Bank of Nova Scotia, Vancouver, and were immediately forwarded there.

A temporary school building erected near the site of the one which was burned down was opened today. The relief committee's building committee has $7,000 balance on hand. There are sixty applications on the books of the committee, which may be described as pressing, with the few buildings in course of construction not half finished. Besides these are ninety cases which the committee have not felt justified in touching, on account of the shortness of their funds.

BALLOON RECORDS
HAVE BEEN BROKEN

New York, Oct. 25.—Lines of search extending out into the wilds of Canada brought no word today of Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, who sailed from St. Louis in the balloon America II on October 17th in the International Balloon Race and have not been heard from definitely since the first day. The members of the Aero Club of America were still anxiously waiting word today of the missing aeronauts, who are believed to have landed somewhere in the Algonoma district, and are now making their way to civilization through the forests.

A rescue balloon will be sent up in the northern part of Michigan, in hopes that it may take the direction of the America II and see any distress signals that may have been sent after the aeronauts landed.

PRINCE EDWARD
REACHED BY 'PHONE

Cable Successfully Operated Between Pictou and Island--Great Step in Advance.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 23.—The private telephone cable laid between Pictou and Wood Islands for F. B. McCurdy & Co., Halifax, is completed and may be in use by the firm in a short time.

The laying of the cable is an epoch in the history of this province. On Saturday the telephone company of this city tried the experiment of talking over the cable to Pictou, and the results were most satisfactory. The conversation was distinctly heard. Later on talk was carried on between Charlottetown and Halifax for several minutes.

This is the first time in the history of Prince Edward Island this has occurred and the possibilities for the future are great. These experiments were conducted under conditions not entirely favorable with the removal of points in a telegraphic cable which are detrimental to telephone transmission, the feasibility of telephone communication with the mainland, as frequently advocated by the P. E. Island Telephone Company, is a certainty.

COAL SHED DESTROYED;
LOSS HALF A MILLION

Superior, Wis., Oct. 25.—A huge coal shed on the M. A. coal wharf was destroyed by fire early today. It contained 250,000 tons of anthracite coal. The entire department and several fire tugs worked to prevent the blaze from spreading to other big piers and boats nearby. The loss is $500,000.

To prevent thread from knotting when doing hand sewing, always make a knot in the end last broken from the spool. This done, stretch the thread by giving it several quick pulls.
