Give your servants GOLD DUST to clean with, treat them rightly and you will have few occasions to insert a "help wanted" ad

"They say a good workman is known by his tools. You cannot expect your maid to keep everything ship-shape unless you give her every modern help. To keep house without GOLD DUST is to do work by hard, old-fashioned methods." For cleaning everything and anything about the house—from cellar to attic—GOLD DUST is worth its weight in gold. It cuts grease and dirt like magic, does away with scouring and scrubbing, and saves time and tempers.

Your servant can do more and better work and keep sweet with the aid of GOLD DUST in all household cleaning.

ATTELL AND MORAN FOUGHT DRAW AT PHILADELPHIA

English Boxer Worked Hard in the Clinches—Attell Did His Fighting at Distance.

Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Abe Attell, featherweight champion of the world, and Owen Moran, of England, put up one of the best bouts ever witnessed at the National Athletic Club last night. There was nothing to choose between them at the end of the six rounds.

Attell proved the cleverer of the two, but the hard work of the Englishman in the clinches offset whatever advantage the champion had on him at a distance.

Attell scored many times through his left jab, connecting quite often on Moran's jaw, but the latter would invariably counter with a right swing, making the champion wince several times.

The last round proved the fastest of the bout, each trying hard to score a knockout with punches that appeared well timed, but generally met with a stout defence.

In the fourth round Attell started out with a left jab and Moran appeared for a time unable to fathom his opponent's punches. He came back strong, however, and landed heavily with his right on Attell.

There was no questioning the sincerity of both boys, as it was nip and tuck in every round, each trying hard to score something tangible, but the clever defence of each ward off any finish punches.

When the gang ended the bout, the boys were hammering each other, and both appeared able to have gone a longer distance.

The crowd was on its feet several times, but there was not an idle moment while the men were in the ring.

JACK TWIN WILL MEET PORKY FLYNN

Lewiston, Nov. 10.—Fight followers hereabouts are pretty much interested in the visit of Billy Payne, of Philadelphia, to Lewiston, Thursday, and his announcement that Jack (Twin) Sullivan would meet Porky Flynn here Nov. 16th. Now the two men would be among the biggest boxing attractions seen here in a long time, and while it is not to be expected that they will battle for blood the 6-round bout should be a good exhibition.

Jack Twin Sullivan is now 23 years old, with a 12 years' fighting record in which he has bested some of the most famous fighters in the country, several of his earlier fights being with Billy Payne, who as "War Horse Billy Payne," is well known in Lewiston. Sullivan fought a ten-round draw with Dick O'Brien of Lewiston, in 1902, when Dick was one of the best fighters in New England. Some of Sullivan's matches last year were with Bill McKinnon, Jim Stuart, Sailor Burke, Frank Mantell and Porky Flynn. He won from Porky in 12 rounds at Boston.

The battle royal which will precede the main bout will be a feature, Payne says. He has five colored scrappers in the middleweight class, and they'll earn their money.

Payne came to Maine with the original intention of putting on the Johnson-Jeffries moving pictures, but found that Maine authorities would not countenance them.

In meeting Flynn, Jack Twin is certainly climbing the ladder as the former's win over Jim Barry in Boston last week, caused him to be considered as a possible opponent of Jack Johnson some time in the future.

RING NOTES

Phil Brock and Jack Redmond will meet in Akron Nov. 24.

Biz Mackey and Joe Theel will clash in New York next Saturday night.

Kyle Whitney is matched to box Bumbo Wells at Albany next Monday night.

Walter Little and Jack Britton have been matched to box in Savannah the latter part of this month.

Jimmy Walsh will box Sammy Keller in New York next Tuesday night. Teddy Murphy is to meet Young Riley at the same show.

Aleck McLean, manager of Joe Thomas, is eager to match Thomas against sailor Burke. Manager McLean is willing to let it be winner-take-all and would make a good side wager on Thomas.

As a large crowd is expected to see the bout between Leo Houck and a rank Mantel at the Rhode Island A. C., Thornton, R. I. tonight, the seating has been rearranged so that 1000 more persons can be accommodated. The bout is creating more interest than any held in that section for years.

MILLION CHANGED HANDS ON NEW YORK ELECTION

New York, Nov. 10.—This was the day for cashing in election bets, and one Tammany election captain hired an express wagon, a union express wagon to do it. When he had made the rounds he had a full load of new hats and boxes of cigars. Down town in the financial district along the "curb," on "change," and up town in "Peacemaker Alley" and the hotel corridors, it is estimated that fully $1,000,000 changed hands. One curb broker is said to have handled $350,000. Fred Brooks, the old time betting commissioner, says he placed $250,000. Another broker made $5,000 in commissions, and $20,000 in backing his own judgment. Oddly enough, the heaviest individual loss reported, befell a man who bet on Dix, but placed his plurality at 75,000 or better.

"BAT" NELSON WILL FIGHT AT WOLGAST

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 10.—Louis Bolt, whose Metropolitan Club holds the December boxing permit, has matched Battling Nelson and Ad. Wolgast for a 20-round match for the lightweight boxing championship of the world. Bolt intends holding an open-air fight Saturday, Dec. 4.

Wolgast has not signed articles, but he sent Bolt a message naming the terms under which he would meet Nelson. Bolt promptly wired his acceptance of the conditions.

NATIONAL LEAGUE TO MEET DECEMBER 13

New York, Nov. 10.—President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, announced today that later in the week he would issue the formal call for the annual meeting of the League which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria on Dec. 13.

SMALLPOX SPREADS ON NORTH SHORE

Chatham, Nov. 10.—The Smallpox situation is assuming considerable proportions and much alarm is felt at new developments. Yesterday morning a new case was discovered at Neguac and the house was at once quarantined. In Newcastle three houses have been quarantined including Larry Comlort's and Fred Arsenault's.

In the latter home there are two developed cases. A house also has been quarantined at Nelson. The victim at Neguac is another lumberman who escaped from quarantine at Sinclair's camp and reached Neguac.

Col. Maltby leaves tomorrow morning for that camp where he will deal vigorously with the situation and see that quarantine is enforced in future. Dr. Duffy also leaves tomorrow morning for Grand Downs and Neguac to deal with the cases there.

FREDERICTON CITY WILL PLAY AT
ST. JOHN TOMORROW

Clynick Expected to Play Half in Baird's
Place—St. John Team Strengthened.

The Fredericton City football team will leave tomorrow morning for St. John where it will play All-St. John in the afternoon. The local team will not be as strong in the back division as it has been in the games against U. N. B. The forward-line will be about the same however. The members of the City team had a work-out at the College field yesterday afternoon and expect to make a pretty good showing. Fred Baird will not be able to play at St. John and "Selina" Clynick is likely to be moved back from quarter to half and Brooks will play third-quarter in Clynick's place. The Fredericton forward line will be heavy and should be able to gain ground all right.

The St. John team according to announcement will be very much like that which defeated U. N. B. here on Thanksgiving Day. The forward will be heavier and stronger however.

THE TORONTO TORIES AND THE NATIONALISTS

It is quite natural that prominent Conservative politicians should offer very much among themselves in discussing the Drummond-Arthabaska election. It will take them a long time to agree as to what they should say, and unfortunately there is no time to be had for that purpose. It is necessary that something should be said by somebody, for silence would be even more injurious than discord. The alliance between Mr. Monk and Bourassa is not at all embarrassing to Liberals; it is extremely embarrassing to the Conservatives who could not drive Mr. Monk out of their party if they would, and who would not if they could. Mr. Monk is essential to Mr. Borden as a colleague and they both know it.

The hesitating manner and the discordant votes of the Conservative leaders everywhere were reproduced in an interesting way, but on a small scale, in ward association meetings on Monday evening in this city. Mayor Geary thought that Mr. Bourassa is not helping on the unification of the Dominion, and that the "Laurier man" was a "better man" to vote for than the treason-preaching Bourassa and his followers." Mr. McNaught had a very poor opinion of Mr. Monk, "who had been a Conservative at one time," and the Conservatives "could not read him out of the party quick enough." Mr. Monk might make a fair retort by reminding Mr. McNaught of the time when he was a Liberal until he was won over to the Conservative party, like other manufacturers, by protection to their industries. The business of "reading out" has its dangers.

Mr. Bristol, a fellow-member of and co-worker with Mr. Monk in the House of Commons, was willing to stake his reputation on the statement that neither Mr. Bourassa nor Mr. Monk was "a traitor to the British Empire." They simply believed, he says, "that the navy question should be submitted to the people." All who have taken any interest in or paid any attention to the speeches of Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Monk know that they are both as much opposed to Mr. Borden's proposal to spend Canadian money on British Dreadnoughts as to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy of spending Canadian money on Canadian war vessels to be kept in and controlled by Canada. The member for Centre Toronto will gain nothing by such lack of candor. He would fare better if he were outspoken like Mr. Geary and Mr. McNaught, as Mr. Monk will soon constrain him to be. Mr. Bourassa is not yet in Parliament to be reckoned with; should he find a seat there Mr. Bristol would probably have to promptly revise his opinion.

MANY WAYS OF ENTICING THE IMMIGRANTS

The Commonwealth of Australia has set aside a sum of $20,000 a year towards the expenses of a company which is to play an Australian drama all through the English provinces. It is thought that this will give a badly needed spur to the immigration which the island continent stands so sadly in need of.

Twenty years ago twice as many emigrants went from Great Britain to Australia as went to Canada. Today Canada is getting more than ten times as many as Australia.

Canada, many years ago, saw that her crying need was population, and set to work, systematically, to obtain a good class of immigrant. So long ago as 1895 she set aside $15,000 a year to advertise Canada in British and Irish newspapers. She also appointed agents in this country, paying them bonuses of 7s. 6. a head for each adult they persuaded to settle in Canada.

This policy succeeded so well that the amount voted increased from year to year and by 1905 had reached $1,000,000 a year.

A capital idea for the advertisement of Canada was devised by Lord Strathcona. A Canadian text-book and atlas was specially prepared, and many hundreds of copies were distributed free to rural schools in England. The book was charmingly written, and told all about the life of an immigrant, and of the good fellowship which existed between the farmers and their hands. A yearly examination was held, and the scholar best up in the book received a bronze medal from the Canadian Government.

Exhibitions are a very paying form of advertisement. The writer recently saw in the market-place of an out-of-the-way Devonshire town a great motor van with glass sides, filled with samples of Canadian produce. The man in charge was ready to give any kind of information, verbal or printed.

The New South Wales Government some time ago, had a big exhibition at the Guildhall, where Australian nuggets were shown and fleeces of wool weighing up to sixty pounds. Railway sleepers of Australian wood, so hard as to last without creosoting for thirty years, were on exhibition and much other colonial produce.

At another time, Queensland, anxious to get a really good class of settler, advertised that her government would grant a passage for only $25, to any individual who would deposit $250 with her agent in London, the $250 to be refunded on his arrival at Brisbane. And immigrants settled in Australia could nominate friends or relatives for reduced passages.

Two years ago Western Australia began advertising her need for settlers in English papers on an unparalleled scale. The advertisements were written by experts, and form most interesting reading. We see, for instance, that no fewer than 50,000 acres of farming land are open for selection in free grants of 160 acres each. There are no "hard winters," this being, of course, a cut at Canada; and there is a vote for every man and woman.—London Answers.

Europe has 20,000 newspapers of which Germany possesses the largest number. Britain however has the greatest number of daily newspapers.

Among the best needle workers in the world are the men of Japan, their chief rivals being the women of Persia.
