TWO NEGROES HUNG IN LYNCHING AFFRAY IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Charles, S. C., July 4.—An exodus in the negro population of Charlestown is in progress, following the double lynching yesterday when Robert Coleman, and Sam Fields, were hanged by an infuriated mob for the murder of William Fox, a Mississippi County farmer.

Sheriff Culp and his deputies, whom he hastily swore in after the lynching threats were made, were powerless against the crowd which attacked the county jail. No shots were fired on either side. In the crowd which packed the court house yard in front of the jail, were many women, children, and the authorities feared on their account to resort to shooting. On the outskirts of the crowd were several automobiles, their occupants standing on the seats the better to watch the attack on the jail.

Seemingly the mob waited only for a leader. The yells of the officers to give up the negroes became louder and more insistent. And then, without warning, about four o'clock in the afternoon, a man seemed to take charge, and the crowd surged forward. A concentrated rush was made at the jail and in a moment the front fence of the yard was tramped down.

The sheriff and his men, begging the men in the van to disperse were brushed aside. A railroad tie was shoved forward as a battering ram. Coleman was dragged forth and lynched in the jailyard, while the crowd cheered. A man climbed up a tree and put one of the ropes over a limb. The negro was jerked up and soon swung clear of the crowd.

While Coleman dangled, another body of men from the jail, dragging and pulling the other negro, Sam Fields. A rope was placed around his neck and the mob, shouting, started west along Court Street. The negro said he would show the men where he and Coleman had hidden the revolver they had used to shoot William Fox, the man whose death the crowd avenged. The men in charge, after a short parley, decided to take the negro to find the revolver. The rope still about his neck and drawn tightly by his captors, Fields was thrown into a carriage.

Followed by the mob, on foot, in carriages and in automobiles, the crowd, started to the scene of the shooting, half a mile out of town. After going part of the way, the negro told the captors "he guessed after all he couldn't find the spot." A stop was made and Fields was jerked out of the carriage. Without any preliminaries the rope was tossed over the limb of a tree and Fields was strung up. This morning his body was still hanging. Hundreds from the city and county visited the place and gazed curiously at the tree and the hanging body. The body of the other negro was allowed to hang until six o'clock when it was cut down by several persons who wanted pieces of the rope as souvenirs. For some time afterwards the body lay on the ground.

William Fox, a farmer of Mississippi County was driving toward his home four miles south of Charlestown Saturday night. The negroes were walking along the road and asked Fox to let them ride. He told them to get in. No sooner were they in the wagon than they attacked Fox and demanded his money. Fox tried to defend himself and was shot down. The negroes escaped. Though weak from loss of blood, Fox managed to drive his team to a neighbor's house. He told what had happened, the news was telephoned to Charlestown and bloodhounds were also started out. With the aid of the dogs, the two negroes were arrested and put in the county jail. They were hurried to the house where Fox lay wounded and he identified them.

CAMP SUSSEX HAS ITS FIRST MILITARY FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Sussex, N.B., July 4.—In the midst of a dirty drizzling rain the first military funeral in the history of Camp Sussex was held this afternoon, when the body of Private Frederick Lovejoy was taken on a gun-carriage to the depot, whence it will be conveyed to Rockland (N.B.), where interment will take place. The services were very impressive, and in spite of the inclement weather, were witnessed by a great many civilians and by almost all of the late soldier's comrades-in-arms, who were off duty.

A gun carriage was placed in commission as a hearse and carried the body covered with a large Union Jack, and held in position by two members of the 10th Field Battery. Six members of Company "E" of the 67th regiment to which the deceased belonged, acted as pall-bearers, while the chief mourners were his companions in the same company. The regimental band under the direction of Bandmaster G. F. McLaughlin, played several appropriate selections and the cortege marched off to the strains of the Dead March in Saul. The company was under command of Col. Perkins and Capt. Taylor, while Capt. F. H. J. Jones, of the A.M.C., also rode in line. Capt. Jones is receiving much commendation for his promptness in reporting the accident at camp yesterday. A firing party composed of twelve men, a corporal and a sergeant marched in the procession in accordance with the rank of the deceased.

When the body was being taken from the mortuary to the soldier's hearse, the ranks opened and the men stood at attention as the body of their chum, who yesterday was as merry and full of life as any one of them, was borne on its way to its last resting place. A burial service will be held at Rockland when the body arrives.

When the coffin was placed aboard the train, the procession again lined up and marched to camp. Following the sad fatality of yesterday it seemed that some of the men, perhaps to start a sensation, spread rumors of many deaths among the troops, until no less than five of the soldiers were reported to have passed away. The reports were investigated—a proceeding which took up considerable time, as it necessitated visits to the lines of the 67th, 74th, 73rd, and cavalry, the dead men having been said to belong to these regiments. It is thought that some "would-be" joker was at work spreading these reports, which startled the men greatly for a time, but were unfounded.

The weather since last evening has been very disagreeable, and has restricted drill and inspections today. For a short period this afternoon the rain ceased and a partial inspection of signalling was made by Capt. McMillan was much pleased with the showing of the "iddy-umpty" men, and will finish his inspection tomorrow.

General Otter, of Ottawa, arrived today and is expected to begin his inspection work tomorrow. Col. Foster, of the army medical branch of the service of Halifax, also reached camp and will remain a couple of days conducting inspections of the men and their equipment.

The work of attending to sick men in the hospital goes merrily on with new patients being admitted to and others discharged from the care of the Red Cross laddies every day. There are now twelve patients being attended to by the A.M.C. several having been given their discharge.

The soldier boy likes his joke as well as anybody. One of the men in the army service corps realized the truth of this this evening, when he was sent to secure the "key of the last post." The "rooky" of course, was not aware of the meaning of the phrase and, willing and eager to obey went to the lines of the A.M.C. where on inquiry he was told that the key was in the hands of an officer in the infantry. With explicit directions to guide him the greenhorn went to the tent of the colonel in question and

THE DIVORCE COURT HAS TWO CAUSES ON THE JULY DOCKET

Moncton Man Seeks Absolute Divorce From His Wife On Grounds of Unfaithfulness—Harcourt Woman Wants Divorce.

The July sitting of court of divorce and matrimonial causes opened in the supreme court chambers this morning with His Honor Judge McKeown presiding. Two cases were up for trial. The first was that of Alonzo Horseman vs Barbara Jane Horseman. The petitioner makes application for absolute divorce on the ground of adultery. The parties resided at Moncton and were married at that place in 1888 by the Rev. James H. Talbot. They lived together until 1908 when the husband left his wife on the ground as he alleges of her misconduct. One Henry Fortune is named as the Co-respondent. Mr. C. A. Steeves, Barrister of Moncton represents the petitioner and the action is undefended.

Ellen Cady Spencer vs Odbur Arnold Spencer, was the second case before the court. The petitioner, who was formerly Ellen C. Richardson, was married to the defendant, then a resident of St. John, but now residing at Harcourt, Kent County, in April, 1905, the Rev. William S. Pritchard performing the ceremony. In 1906 a daughter was born to the parties and in 1907 the wife left her husband and has since resided with her parents. The action is brought for an absolute divorce on the usual statutory grounds the co-respondents being a party or parties unknown to the petitioner. There is no defense. Powell & Harrison, barristers, St. John represent the petitioner. Judgments will probably be delivered by His Honor on Friday of this week.

NINE WEDDINGS IN SEVEN HOURS

New Jersey Pastor Breaks Record for Rapid Tying of Marriage Knots

Trenton, N. J., July 4.—His marrying record was smashed by the Rev. Charles H. Elder, pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church, when he united nine couples in seven hours. At three o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Elder went in an auto to Mercersville, five miles away, and married Miss Annie Jones to George Young. The clergyman barely had time to take one kiss from the bride before he hurried back to the auto and returned swiftly to Trenton. Here he wedded another couple at 3.30.

The "marrying parson" had a rest until 5 o'clock, and began to fear he was growing unpopular. But at that hour a third couple appeared, and thenceforth until 10 o'clock he was engaged in his favorite specialty. In fact, couples entering and leaving the house were bumping into one another most of the evening.

The multiple marrying would not have been so difficult a task had Mr. Elder been able to make his study place of every hitching. But certain girls wanted to be married in their homes and he had to hustle to fill all his engagements.

was told that the key had been lost. Somewhat discouraged the man returned to his lines and informed the non-com. who sent him on his mission the result of his search. For a time he wondered why a laugh was raised but gradually it dawned upon him that he had been the butt of a practical joker, though a very old one in military camping circles.

Miss Gertrude Vanstone of Boston, Mass., is visiting relatives and friends in the city.
