

IRISH PARTY IN BRITAIN IS STILL UNDECIDED

Conditions Changing Hourly, Says T. P. O'Connor—Unionists Condemn Asquith's Application of Closure—Very Few Members Anxious for a General Election.

London, April 5.—When a British (Special Cable Despatch to The Globe) Premier is compared to Robespierre and Danton it is evident that political passions in England are running high.

Mr. Asquith's announcement of his intention to limit the discussion of the veto resolutions which were introduced in the House of Commons on Tuesday last is translated by a Unionist organ into "revolution by guillotine." Five Parliamentary days are given, the Unionists declare, to make the revolution—five days in which to destroy the legislative power of the House of Lords and reduce the life of Parliament from seven to five years. Mr. Asquith's resolutions, it is pointed out, exceed in importance any legislative proposals in the last two centuries, yet only five days are allowed for Parliamentary discussion.

LEGISLATION BY THE CLOCK.

This is compared with the thirty-two days given the licensing bill in 1908, the sixty days given the education bill in 1902 and the eighty-two days given the home rule bill of 1883. Under the time-table laid down by the Premier less than three hours will be allowed the debate on the question of limiting the duration of future Parliaments to five years—a revolution in the constitution.

The Pall Mall Gazette put it thus: "The edifice that has taken 500 years to perfect is to be pulled down in five Parliamentary days, and the arithmetical parallel is to be carried farther by the provision that in the five half hours following the House of Commons is to be compelled to pledge itself to the principle of five-year Parliaments. Debate is to disappear from Parliamentary procedure altogether, and the clock is to be the sole criterion of destiny."

"The House of Commons is bidden to sit dumb and watch the hands of the clock until the fateful periods are reached, when the foreordained decisions of the arch dictator of the Treasury bench are to be registered by such majority as he can command for the time being."

The Unionists' fury is aggravated by their inability to learn exactly what the Government tactics will eventually lead to. When the veto resolutions are sent up to the House of Lords on May 14 Mr. Lloyd-George will reintroduce the old Budget and then it will be seen whether Mr. Redmond will deliver the blow which will bring the crisis to a head at the end of the month or will wait until the Lords have rejected the veto resolutions. It is only those outside of Parliament who would welcome an election. In the House itself there are not a dozen men who have any desire for a second appeal to the country or who believe that such an appeal would give a result materially differing from that of January last.

The Labor party and the Irish are both without funds and there are many who think Mr. Redmond's ultimatum of Tuesday last pure buncombe and that when it comes to the point of voting for the Budget or of turning the Liberal Government out of office with the inevitable result of precipitating an election the Nationalists will show less of what William O'Brien calls Redmond's contumacy.

GREAT DRY DOCK FOR ST. JOHN

Work to be Commenced before
End of Present Year—Ship
Repairing is Included.

Ottawa, April 5.—Before the year ends the construction of two immense dry docks in Canada will be commenced. They will be not less than 900 ft. long, and 100 ft. wide, and will have a depth of 35 feet on the sill.

One of the leading men behind these at Levis and the other at St. John. Both docks will be supplemented by adequate facilities for the repairing of vessels of the largest size, and it is probable that in connection with the St. John dock there will be a first class ship-building plant.

The government bill providing a subsidy of three and a half per cent. for thirty-five years on dry docks of not less than 900 feet, and the growing demand of Canada's water borne commerce are responsible for these two important undertakings.

One of the leading men behind these dry dock enterprises is Sir Robert Perks, who arrived in Ottawa today and had a long conference with Hon. Dr. Pugsley, the minister of public works, who will have the administration of the dry dock aid statute.

After the conference Hon. Dr. Pugsley said to your correspondent that there was every indication that Canada would be provided with two first class dry docks as soon as they can be constructed.

"Sir Robert Perks and his associates," said Hon. Dr. Pugsley, "are very much in earnest and they are quite capable of carrying through the construction of these docks with all possible expedition."

Sir Robert Perks said: "A company is being registered today at the state department of Canada, for the purpose of building two dry docks. One will be located at Levis and the other at St. John. On this company Harland & Wolff will be represented by Lord Perry, the Canadian Pacific by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the Allan Steamship Company by one of that firm, McArthur, Perks & Company by myself and there will also be as incorporators, Mr. Dobell of Quebec, Mr. Davies, of Levis, and Mr. W. E. Foster of St. John."

"We regard the Canadian government's bill for dry dock aid as satisfactory, and we will be prepared to begin construction work soon after the measure becomes law."

"What will be the size of the docks?"

"Well, the bill provides bonuses of three and a half per cent. only for first class dry docks, having a length of at least 900 feet, and I do not think it will be worth while to go in for anything less than first-class docks at these points."

"You will naturally provide the equipment necessary for undertaking repairs for ships of a character in keeping with the size of the docks?"

"Yes, naturally," said Sir Robert, "as that is an essential complement to a dry dock."

"Will the plant be sufficient for steel shipbuilding?"

"The shipbuilding plant will be established in connection with the St. John dry dock," said Sir Robert. "The extent of this will depend upon several things and these details will have to be decided after the company I have referred to has been organized."

"Have you fixed upon the site of the St. John dock yet?"

"Well, there are several sites available there, but the dock will probably be located at the head of Courtney Bay where there is an excellent site for both the dock and for the establishment of a shipyard."

"Will you expect the city of St. John to provide the site, as was proposed some time ago?"

"Yes, I understand that the city is prepared to provide a site."

"What about the provincial statute, providing aid in the form of a subsidy?"

"That was designated for the Imperial Dry Dock Company and we will probably be able to come to some arrangement with that company on that point," said Sir Robert.

TREED BY WOLVES

Ottawa, April 6.—According to a story to a local paper today by William Midlige of La Tuque, Que., he Dr. Michael Boudreau and H. P. Kinney of that place had a thrilling experience with wolves last Sunday night. While walking in the woods five miles from La Tuque they were pursued by a pack of wolves and compelled to spend a cold night in the branches of a tree. Midlige says that they were followed at first by three wolves and although unarmed they were not greatly frightened by them. A little later, however, a second pack of eight or nine wolves came up, and the men hurriedly climbed a small tree. All night long they huddled together there until at daybreak the wolves slunk away. The night was bitterly cold, and Dr. Boudreau had one of his toes frozen during the anxious hours of waiting for daylight.
