Desolation Now Reigns Where Campbellton Stood

Supplies Being Sent in From Many Outside Points--Tents and Stoves Sent From St. John by Order of Ottawa Militia Department--Provincial Government and St. John Each Donate $2000.

(Telegraph.)

Campbellton, N. B., July 12.—There is still uncertainty in regard to the number of deaths in the fire of yesterday. It is known that the infant child of a man named Doyle was suffocated, and it was rumored that Dr. Doherty and Dr. Sproule had lost their lives. These rumors have not been confirmed, however. It is difficult to learn whether there is truth in them or not, as families are broken up and scattered throughout the neighboring villages.

Seven buildings are all that are left by the flames which swept the little town of Campbellton Monday night. Tonight the 4,000 homeless are camping in the vicinity of the fire stricken community, or depending on the hospitality of friends in the neighboring towns and villages.

A Telegraph reporter who reached here late this afternoon gazed on a scene of desolation. Hardly a building, where once the town proper had been, could be seen. All was a mass of blackened ruins. The atmosphere about the smouldering embers was thick and suffocating. Had it not been for the fresh, invigorating breeze that did not cease throughout the day the heat would have been unbearable. Here and there on the outskirts of the ruins were men and women, gazing longingly on the places where their homes had stood. To all the fire was a terrible blow, taking, as it did, all that they had toiled for years to save.

As darkness fell tonight the wind freshened and the smoke cleared somewhat. So far there has been no disorder.

Distressing scenes are on all hands. Several babies have been ushered in the open fields. Relief to the sufferers is coming in well and the kindly weather man has helped to make their lot a little less hard.

The fire burned itself out a little after noon today, after laying waste to practically the whole of Campbellton and the greater part of Richardsville, a small village situated about a mile distant. Tonight but seven houses remain of what was one of the most prosperous and flourishing towns on the North Shore of the province, and the inhabitants, numbering about 4,000 in all, are camping on the outskirts of the city, while some are quartered on board steamers which happened to be anchored in the harbor when the flames first broke out.

The damage done will amount approximately to a little more than $2,500,000, about half of this amount being a total loss, as the insurance claims on all the buildings destroyed will, it is thought, not amount to more than half of the loss.

Besides this pecuniary loss, a child belonging to a mill hand named Doyle was suffocated, and two doctors, Dr.

Beverly Sproule and Dr. W. W. Doherty, are reported to have lost their lives, the former while trying to escape from the doomed town in his automobile, and Dr. Doherty dying while being taken across the river. Another resident named O'Keefe is also reported to have been killed.

A Telegraph reporter arrived on the scene early this evening, and the sight that met his gaze made a desolate picture. Not a building could be seen as far as the eye could reach, the few that escaped the flames being situated on the outskirts of the town.

The Sisters of Charity although themselves burned out, worked indefatigably to aid the afflicted ones, in tending with the people and speaking a word of cheer to the down hearted. A party of nuns from Quebec arrived on the scene today and entered heartily into the work of caring for the homeless ones.

Although many are quartered on the outskirts of the town the steamer Senlac owned by William Johnson & Co., of St. John, and the government steamer Canada have on board a number of the homeless inhabitants who took refuge on board as soon as they saw that their homes were doomed to destruction. Many also sought safety on the Quebec side of the river as well as at Mission Point Cross Point and Athol. Several sick people were in the Hotel Dieu Hospital and these were removed in safety to the opposite side of the river.

RELIEF COMES IN.

Relief is arriving hourly from many of the neighboring towns, including Chatham, Dalhousie, Moncton, Sussex, St. John and Fredericton and it is thought that by tonight everyone will be fairly well cared for.

The weather was quite warm last night, and those who were forced to sleep in the open did not suffer much. What clothing that had been saved was given to women and children. Meagre quantities of food and water had been saved and these were also passed around as far as they would go.

This morning the smoke had cleared away somewhat, and the sun shone bright and clear. The day would have been very sultry had it not been for a cool easterly breeze which sprang up about 9 o'clock. Although Bathurst forwarded quantities of provisions and equipment to the afflicted town, the first actual relief train left Newcastle soon after 2 o'clock this afternoon, carrying more than $1,000 worth of provisions, which had been purchased by the people of the town. Mayor McMurdo and ex-Mayor Miller accompanied by several other prominent citizens of Newcastle, worked laboriously there, getting goods shipped to the stricken town. The place was a mass of ruins, through which the people walked or gathered around the sites of their former homes, seeking, perhaps, some little keepsake or some cherished thing that might have escaped the fire.

On the outskirts of the town the scene was a pitiful one. Mothers and fathers with their children grouped around them, were sitting on the ground, and here and there some members of the relief crew passing among the sufferers, ministering to their wants and supplying them with food and water.

Magistrate Maltby and Hon. John Morrissey, of Newcastle arrived in Campbellton today on the Ocean Liner as did H. C. Creighton superintendent of the Canadian Express Company at St. John. A special train carrying Commissioners Brady and Tiffin arrived here early this morning. Engineer Burpee and track Master McPherson of the I.C.R. also arrived on a special train.

A shipment of tents and blankets is expected to arrive here tonight from the military stores department at St. John, and these will be distributed among the people immediately. Of course the chief problem at the present time is the manner of sheltering and providing food for the thousands of homeless people, but the systematic manner in which the relief operations are being carried on is expected to prevent hardships.

A relief committee has been formed composed of Dr. Murray, honorary president; J. P. Reed, secretary, and A. E. G. McKenzie, Dr. A. Martan, A. Connell, J. D. B. McKenzie, J. White and Mr. Glenie, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia. These men have taken an active hold of the work and hope to make everything as comfortable as possible for the homeless ones as soon as can be.

ST. JOHN SENDS HELP

St. John, July 12.—At a special meeting of the city council this morning, it was unanimously decided to send $2,000 to the aid of the fire sufferers in Campbellton. One half of this amount was invested in provisions, tents, cooking stoves, etc., which were sent forward on the Maritime express tonight to the stricken town. The other $1,000 will be forwarded, either in cash or provisions, as Mayor Murray, of Campbellton, may ask.

The Provincial Government is also taking a hand in the work of relief. The Mayor of Campbellton has been authorized to draw upon the government for $2,000 for immediate relief of the distressed, and a wire was despatched to the Minister of Militia by Premier Hazen, advising him as to the extent of the conflagration and calling upon him to forward militia tents and supplies for the temporary housing of the afflicted.

BIGGEST LINER TO BE SOON LAUNCHED

The Olympic, of 45,000 Tons, Rapidly Approaches Completion at Belfast

London, July 11.—The construction of the two-45,000 ton White Star liners, the Olympic and the Titanic, at Belfast is proceeding rapidly. Their advent into the mercantile marine will confer a unique distinction on the Ulster capital. Interest in the construction of the vessels—which will be the largest ever built—is widespread and an expectant public in two hemispheres will soon begin to count the weeks that intervene before the stately hull of the first ship takes the water.

With the advanced condition of the shell of the Olympic, the hydraulic riveting is coming into great prominence. All the iron work of the structure is completed up to the shelter deck which is the highest continuous deck in the ship, and the bridge deck plating and riveting is well advanced. An idea of the progress of the work may be conveyed by the fact that more than one thousand of the shell side-lights are already fitted in the vessel. The erection of stateroom framing on some of the decks is also well under way.

An important item in such a large vessel is, of course, the stairways, and already those of the second and third class are completed up to the shelter deck. The main first class stairway will excel anything yet seen in the art of the shipbuilder. Internal work is proceeding in connection with the fitting of sanitary and air pipes, tank sections, watertight doors, &c.

Perhaps the most interesting news of all, however, is that the lying launchways are fitted fore and aft and the builders have commenced

CHEAP DEVICE TO COOL A ROOM

New York Times

Procure a small zinc-lined tank holding from two to three gallons of ice and salt, and put in about a half pint of ammonia. This tank can be placed in a corner of the room, occupying very little space, and a drip pan put under it to catch the water condensed by the heat of the room. This process of condensation is quite rapid, and will very quickly reduce temperature. The larger the room the larger the tank, and vice versa. The practicability of this scheme has been tested, and it is simple, clean, and inexpensive. The tank will have to be replenished but once a day, except when the weather is extremely warm.

There is one objection to this plan of cooling rooms on our hottest days and that is we will be apt to feel the heat of the streets when we are obliged to go out, and are more likely to suffer from prostration or sunstroke. That is something for us to think of especially old people, before we make the experiment. Of course, it is understood that these little tanks can be made no less ornamental than radiators, and take up very little space in a room.

putting the sliding ways into place. Thus early are they preparing for the launching, which will take place in October.

The shell plating and deck plating of the Titanic are also well under way. Quite an army of workmen is employed both day and night on these vessels and in the various shops connected with them every day marks an important advance in construction.

The construction of the machinery is keeping pace with that of the hull.
