A COLORED GENTLEMAN IN THE WOODPILE

(Woodstock Sentinel)
From the first announcement of this "grand free picnic" to Aroostook Falls it was felt that there "was a colored gentleman somewhere in the woodpile." Now it would seem as though Mr. Hazen and his followers were not as disinterested as they at first appeared. Ostensibly the excursion to Aroostook Falls was for the purpose of selling bonds, but to the most casual observer it was at once evident that some other motive lay behind elaborate dispensement of good fellowship. Now the cat is out of the bag, the colored gentleman is being located and the flooding of the country with highly colored reports of this electric road and its wondrous possibilities, turns the dial point to wards Mr. Hazen and his followers and the people discover another effort to befool them into accepting an electric road controlled by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Let us reiterate what we have stated many times—nothing but a competitive line operated by I. C. R. management should meet with the approval of the people.

Instead of rinsing laces in blue water, use skimmed milk which will give a soft, creamy tint.

Oatmeal can be used instead of barley or rice in the soup. It thickens it, and adds a flavor which is pleasant.

A meat chopper may be better cleaned by running a piece of bread through the machine before washing.

Celery can be kept fresh for several days by wrapping the stalks in a wet towel and keeping them in a cold cellar.

SCENE AT THE RECENT EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

J. M. ROBINSON & SONS WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REVIEW

St. John, Oct. 8.—With small transactions the stock market has held firm during the week and though there is an undoubtedly growing undertone which will probably develop into a fairly strong bull market it does not appear that this feeling has yet acquired sufficient strength to advance the market with any degree of rapidity.

Current events so far as the market is concerned are rather neutral in their tone, the unfavorable features such as the revolution in Portugal and social troubles in Germany being offset so far as the United States is concerned by the prospects of ready money for the country as the crop is marketed. Political conditions are quiet and will not exert any particular influence until the elections draw near.

Money shows a firmer tendency, there has been evidence of a very large demand on New York by both the South and West this year and it is probable that the moving of the crops will require more financing than has been done in recent years. In the meantime the probability of money commanding better prices is particularly good though this condition will probably be only temporary.

General business conditions the world over are good, it is only in the United States they appear adverse and even there if the Bank clearings may be considered criterion, the trouble is confined very largely to New York and Eastern states, the clearings in the middle west, Pacific Coast and Southern states, being larger than for the corresponding period of last year. In Europe generally business is reported as being very good and the same remarks applies to Canada, it would therefore seem that the dulness reported in the United States is due very largely to superficial conditions mainly political and with the passing of the elections this will be forgotten and the country will resume its normal activity.

The investment market shows continued betterment, the demand which has developed for good investment securities has been a subject of favorable comment by nearly all dealers. As pointed out previously in these columns this demand usually precedes an improvement in the stock market by some two or three months and it would therefore seem rational to suppose in view of this condition and of the several other favorable features above referred to chief among which to the marketing of the country's agricultural products, that a general advance in the close of the year, though it almost goes without saying that the stock market will be due towards intervening period will be accentuated by the occasional declines of lesser importance.

MONTREAL

The Montreal market has been quiet compared with the activity of the past few weeks when the Power Street Railway fight was being waged; there is however in this market as in the New York market a noticeable firmer undertone.

The Cobalt stocks though not especially in evidence of late are gradually obtaining a better standing, several of them, particularly Nipissing and La Rose being well spoken of.

There has been a noticeable increase in the bond sales on this exchange undoubtedly due to a better inquiry from the investigating public for securities.

The transactions in the newer securities particularly the preferred stocks of the Milling Companies is also a feature and it seems probable that these will before long have passed into investors hands.

COTTON

Cotton seems to hold the centre of the stage so far as speculation is concerned. Following the private reports at the close of September and the Government Report of conditions published on the 3rd instant, the market has steadily strengthened and when it is considered that the crop is fully two weeks later than usual, that deliveries up to the present time have been small and that the visible supply of cotton is considerably less than for the same period during the past three years, it will readily be conceded that the prospects for considerably higher prices before the close of October are good though it is difficult to understand how this extremely high price can be maintained when once the full weight of this year's crop moves to market; however the cotton market is governed by conditions so speculative that it is practically impossible to forecast the movement in price.

NEW MARKET

Oct. 7.—The weather for the past week has been very fine which enables the farmers to gather in their crops. Mr. Samuel Davis of Acton is busily engaged threshing in this place. Mr. Davis is an up-to-date workman and everyone is pleased with his work. Miss Jane Feeney, who has been visiting her mother, returned to Fredericton yesterday.

Rev. Father Cormier is instructing the children for Confirmation which takes place this month.

Mr. Leslie Kelley of Kingarth made a flying trip through here last evening.

Mrs. Moses Elliott of Portland, Me., who has been visiting friends here, returned home last week.

Mr. Hugh Foley, who made a business trip to St. Stephen and Calais recently, has returned home.

Mr. Jake Weasel, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to his home in Fredericton.

Miss Sadie McGrand of Keswick has charge of the school here this term.

A great number of sportsmen from other sections as well as from Fredericton passed through this place in search of moose and deer and evidently have been successful judging from their wagons when returning.

BURNT LAND BROOK

Oct. 6.—A much needed rain has come with mild summer weather. Lee and Guy Jenkins returned from Fort Fairfield last week.

John S. Jenkins returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Everett went to Everett last week for a visit among relatives.

Mr. J. O'Regan returned from Montreal on Monday.

On account of the weather, the attendance at Rev. N. McLennan's fortnightly service, was not so large last Sunday as usual.

Major A. D. Hartley, East Florenceville, spent Sunday at Turney Johnson's.

C. A. Hayden is home at present. G. F. Chapman has the new school house on the south side of the river nearly completed.

A couple of moose heads passed by here this week.
