CLERGYMAN'S TRIBUTE TO DOMINION OF CANADA

(The "Christian Register," Boston)

There is a magnificent feeling of fraternity behind the idea of celebrating our century of peace with Great Britain. The American, the Canadian, and the son of Great Britain, whether he be an Englishman, an Irishman or a Scotchman, were never such good friends as they are today. Each clings to his own nationality as the best for him; but each respects those peculiar features of custom, government and temperament that make the other destructive.

All three nations—for I call Canada one, although it is true to the British Empire—have made sacrifices within the past century for the sake of peace. They have known what it is to bear and forbear as no other self-respecting countries in the world, and they have reaped the rewards of their moderation; they have become fast friends. Of the three countries Canada has sacrificed most for the sake of peace. This has been due in part to her descent position, as compared with the United States, and in part also to her regard for the peace and unity of the British Empire, whose interests rather than Canada's have been the first consideration; but not to worthy fear. And Canada is entitled to respect for every point of diplomacy that she has ever yielded. Out of her sacrifices has developed a conviction in her people of her international rights, among them the right of self-development, and natural geographical expansion, such as will insure for her in time all the concessions that she deserves from Great Britain and from us.

One of the things that has most impressed me in reading the history of Canada is this knowledge of herself and her good sense in biding her time. I read a few days ago the speech made by Sir John A. Macdonald in his own defence at the time when he was criticized for surrendering the interests of Canada in the Treaty of Washington. It is an extraordinary speech, such as every student of diplomacy should study as a masterpiece. It is without the sentiment of Chatham, the imagination of Burke, and the eloquence of Webster, it has no sonorous periods for the school-boy to declaim; but for an intelligent understanding of a complicated and delicate international situation, for far-seeing patriotism, sound sense and self-control, for a complete statement of facts, for prudent reasons for positions taken, and for an appeal to the convictions, it is as impressive as it is possible for a speech to be. I speak of it because I believe it is prophetic of what is to be revealed to us when we come to know the political and diplomatic history of Canada, as we shall do when we prepare ourselves for the centennial of peace.

We ought to begin today a careful study of Canadian history. We ought to avail ourselves of every opportunity to improve our relations with our northern neighbor. We see the benefits, in a more cordial understanding, of an exchange of professors between the United States and Germany; we know that we are doing and getting good by sending gifted lecturers like Bliss Perry and Archibald C. Coolidge to interpret America to Paris; we honor ourselves by studying Japan, whose history we have helped to make; and we recognize the duty of our educators and missionaries toward the reform movement in China, but first, nearest and dearest should be our relations with our brothers in Canada. We should know them as we know the people of our own states. We should become aware of the glories of the mighty nation whose foundations are being laid beside our own. We should study the system of responsible government in Canada, and we should learn about the federation that has been worked out there while we have been developing our commerce and dealing with our own constitutional problems here.

We should know the story of Canada from the time that the American colonies became the United States. We should listen to the record of the heroic struggles of our brothers, the United Empire Loyalists, whom we as schoolboys were taught to call Tories and refugees, but of whose misfortune and ill-usage at our fathers' hands we never had any conception. We could then begin to appreciate more than ever what it means to dare to have an opinion of one's own, what it is to build up a state on the virtues of hardship endured by other ancestors than our own. And, in recognition of this right to differ, we should give our neighbors, in sincere respect, the hand of fraternal greeting.

We should know for what our French-Canadian fellow-citizens stand and, with what broader mind, that has come with a century of enlightenment, realize what we can all mean to each other if we will. I believe that the celebration, with all the preparation, historical, literary and practical, that will be incidental to it, will be the greatest event in the annals of world peace next to The Hague Conference and that the lessons to be learned from it will make those conferences the more valuable in the future. It will impress the world with the principles of arbitration and the limitation of armaments successfully tried for a hundred years. It will tend to solidify the English-speaking race. It will enable all branches of that race to profit by its merits and its mistakes. It will increase the love of just liberty under law and the knowledge that liberty is the best bond of unity. It will encourage the cause of local government wherever men are fitted for it, and will enable us to see that they are fitted for it in places from which it is still wrongly withheld. It will show that local government has not been won without struggle, but that it may now be obtained without violence.

BY HARVARD BY
SCORE OF 8 TO 2

St. Francis Xavier Had Weak Goal-Tender and Disorganized Forward Line—Defence Strong.

Boston, Jan. 11.—Before a crowd of fully five thousand people the Harvard University hockey team defeated St. Francis Xavier, of Antigonish, by a score of 8-2. The score is not an indication of the game, St. Francis having the better of the territory but their goal tender was weak and out of sixteen shots Harvard scored eight goals.

The defence work of Harvard was brilliant at times, Chadwick at goal being a veritable stone wall. The Xaverians were weak in the forward line. The wings failed to work the puck into centre and thereby lost many an opportunity to score.

CHISHOLM THE STAR

The brilliant and outstanding feature of their play was the work of Chisholm at cover point. Time and again he rushed from end to end but on coming to the goal tender the centre was not there to pass to. It is the opinion of critics that his defence work was the best ever seen at the arena. The first half ended with the score 4-0 in favor of Harvard. The scoring was all brought about by combination plays, Seamen, Hornblower, Hughtington and Duncan bagging the rubber.

SECOND HALF

The second half opened with a rush St. Francis carrying the disc into the crimson territory. All of their attempts were blocked by Chadwick until McLaughlin combined with Fraser and carried the disc into the goal shooting off Chadwick's toes. Harvard from the next face off rushed into St. Francis territory and scored. Hornblower doing the trick making it five to one.

To the tune of the "Star Spangled Banner" the Harvard quartette of forwards marched down the ice for the next face off, Duncan on a pass from Hornblower making it six to one. St. Francis started away again and banged in their second goal the band striking up the "Maple Leaf." The next two goals were scored by Leslie and Seaman. The St. Francis team play was weak. Their defence was strong with McPhee and Chisholm starting.

MONCTON PROS DECIDE

ON THEIR LINE-UP

Moncton, Jan. 11.—The line-up of the Moncton professional hockey team has at last been completed. Friday night the Vics. go to Halifax to play the Crescents, the line-up to be as follows: Wortman, goal; Spike Doran, point; Jack Brown, cover point; Harry Scott, centre; Joe Crockett, rover; T. B. Kennedy, right wing; R. Norman, left wing. The team has not yet selected a captain, but the system to be adopted is to elect a captain before each game.

NEW GLASGOW PROS.
WON FROM HALIFAX

Halifax, Jan. 11.—The opening game of the Maritime Provinces professional hockey league series was played tonight in New Glasgow when the New Glasgow team won from the Halifax professionals by a score of five to four. With the exception of Stewart and Wilkie, of North Sydney the team was composed of the champion Crescents of 1909.

THISTLE CURLERS DID NOT COME FOR GAME

The match between the Thistles and the local curlers did not materialize today, the St. John men evidently fearing the ice would not be fit to play on. As a matter of fact there is excellent ice here. Last night the following rinks were selected to play against the Thistles:

J. Creaser W. A. VanWart
R. S. Barker A. A. Shute
T. G. Loggie L. C. Macnutt
J.H. Hawthorn sk. R.F. Randolph sk.
J. A. Lawlor J. A. Hughes

SPORT

SUSSEX SNOWED
UNDER BY ST. JOHN
SCORE 12 TO 0

Uninteresting Game on Very Poor Ice—St. John Relied Mainly on Individual Play.

St. John Jan. 12.—There was about four hundred spectators at the Queen's rink last night to witness an uninteresting game of hockey between St. John and Sussex, the result being that the St. Johns scored twelve goals and shut the visitors out.

The ice was wet owing to the mild weather and in poor condition for anything like a fast game, while on the other hand both teams lacked vim and were far from putting up any team work. There was an occasional piece of fast play by some of the players, but on the whole the game was slow and was a ragged exhibition. The St. Johns had the better of the play in both halves and when the whistle blew announcing that the game was over both players and spectators appeared glad. The home team scored five in the first half and seven in the second half. The following is the line up:

Goal	Sussex
Pierce.....	Coggin
Tully.....	Fenwick
McAvity.....	Eveleigh
Mooney.....	White
Philps.....	Mace
Clawson.....	Courtney
Gilbert.....	Matheson
Referee—R. H. Skinner.

On the showing of the two teams against Chatham, Sussex looked good to win, but what they showed last night was mighty poor stuff. The Saint Johns walked all around them. The individual rushes of Philps, McAvity and Tully were too much for the would-be champions, while the effective team work of Clawson, Gilbert and Mooney drove them to the woods. Only during the first five minutes was the game anywhere even and from then on, when Clawson knocked in the first goal, it was all the blue and white.

RUBE WADDELL GOES TO ST. LOUIS AMERICANS

Chicago, Jan. 11.—According to the latest contract and release bulletin of the American association George Edward Waddell is turned back to the St. Louis Americans by Columbus, which also sends Ray, a pitcher to Hartford of the Connecticut league. Indianapolis releases John Hayden to Louisville and Ralph Glaze to Montreal of the Eastern league.

BECK REFUSES TO SIGN

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 10.—Fred Beck, outfielder with the Boston Nationals announced today that he had returned his contract unsigned owing to dissatisfaction over salary and that he had been advised, that all of the regulars of the team had taken similar action.

KENNEDY KNOCKED OUT

Bartlesville, Okla., Jan. 11.—Carl Morris, of Sapulpa, heralded as the "White man's hope," tonight made short work of "Spike" Kennedy, of Kansas City, in a scheduled fifteen-round bout, by knocking him out in the second round. Kennedy was felled four times.

MORAN AND WOLGAST
MATCHED AT LAST

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Charles Harvey, manager of Owen Moran, British lightweight, and T. E. Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion of the world, reached an agreement yesterday for a championship fight, the date of which will be settled within 60 days. It was agreed that the boxers should weigh 133 pounds on entering the ring.

The Model School team will play a Shore Street seven Saturday afternoon.

MARYSVILLE TONIGHT
FREDERICTON FRIDAY

Sandy Staples Had U. N. B. Squad Working Out Last Night—Large Turn Out.

Marysville and Chatham are booked to meet at the Arctic Rink tonight and a first-class game is looked for. The drop in the temperature last night will make the ice all right. It would be hard to prophecy the result of the game as neither team has won yet. Chatham has lost at both Sussex and St. John and Marysville has been beaten by Fredericton. Marysville should have the advantage. The Crescents team will be about the same as that which played against Fredericton Tuesday night.

FREDERICTON—CHATHAM.

The Fredericton-Chatham game will be played tomorrow night. Captain Archie Babbitt had the team out last night for a work-out and players seemed to be in pretty good shape, although a trifle sore from the Marysville game.

U. N. B. PRACTICE.

Coach Sandy Staples was out with the U. N. B. squad for the first time last night and kept the Red and Black players pretty well on the jump. Among the players on the ice were Capt. Willis, Loggie, Babbitt, Barry, Sterling, Pugh, Machum, Binney, Patterson, F. Vanwart, Jennings, Jack McKay, Murray, Greg Feeney, Jack Feeney and Asker.

PUCKERINGS

Mike Murphy was the hardest check on the ice. When he undertook to take the puck to the other end of the rink he did so with a vengeance. Galt-Reformer.

There is talk of a new international hockey league since the announcement of dates, when the Duluth team will play in Fort William.

Frank Rankin and Jimmy Preston have turned down professional offers from Saskatoon and will remain with Batonian. Efforts have been made to get other Toronto amateurs to turn pro., but so far none has made the jump.—Toronto Globe.

Sussex rink is lighted with incandescents which furnish very poor illumination.

"Spike" Doran who will play with the Moncton pros was recommended by Bob Meldrum.

On Monday the Berlin pros with Oren Frood at left wing defeated Waterloo 14 to 7.

It is the opinion of the hockey fans that have watched the Halifax pros, practising that they have the fastest team Halifax has had for years—Acadian Recorder.

Moncton wanted to trade "Chummy" Murray for Stuart, their Halifax centre. Murray does not want to play at Moncton; he may be in Halifax before the season is over.

Tommy Little has accepted an offer from New Glasgow and will play with the pros. He was willing to play with the Halifax, but Wilkie having been secured there was no regular place for him, and he decided to accept New Glasgow's offer.

RING NOTES

Sailor Burke and Jimmy Howard will box in Albany Jan. 24.

Paddy Lavin and Eddie Hamey will clash in Reading, Penn., Jan. 19.

Jimmy Gardner and Terry Martin have been matched to box in New Bedford Jan. 17. Gardner is also likely to meet Frank Klaus again at the Armory A. A. the latter part of this month.—Boston Globe.

As Langford has pulled away from his match with Samly Ferguson that was billed to be held at the Armory A. A. Jan. 24 on account of the terms, Jim Barry, the Chicago heavyweight, will meet Sandy on that date.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has offered Battling Nelson $1,000 a round for a six-round bout at his club in the Quaker City. Nelson had better take it, for he will not be offered any bigger money by any other promoter.—Boston Globe.

Tulsa, a hustling city in Oklahoma, has decided to find out whether Carl Morris, who recently pulverized Marvin Hart in three rounds, is a real pugilist, one who may be regarded as a possible champion of the whole race. The Tulsa A. A. has opened negotiations with Morris and his manager, Bill Stone, a former railroad telegraph operator, H. C. Ponder, the matchmaker of the Tulsa A. A., is anxious to put Morris up against Tony Ross, Jim Barry, Al Kaufman and says that if he can secure one of these men to fight the giant club will hang up a $15,000 purse. Morris and Stone have authorized Ponder to go as far as he likes in this matter.
