TARIEF AGREEMENT ANNOUNCED AT OTTAWA

announcements by Mr. Fielding that dairy products, garden produce, and vegetables were also to be on the free list were greeted with rousing cheers by the Liberals.

THE COAL DUTY

In regard to the question of coal, Mr. Fielding said:
"The present duty on coal is 53 cents, and we propose to make it 45. The duty in the United States today is 45 cents, and our duty under this arrangement will be 43 cents, but it is not hardly placing the matter fairly before the house, for this reason, that in the United States the duty of 45 cents is on the long ton of 2,240 pounds, whereas ours is the short ton, so that while nominally there is a similarity of duty, there is not actually quite an equalization of the rate.

"However that may be, our coal people, who were alarmed over this reciprocity matter, will have to bear a cut of eight cents per ton on their duty, and I hope as one who has warm sympathy for the coal trade that they will be able to stand it and continue to do business at the old stand.

There is a change on the duty on slack coal coming into Canada, but there is a very important change in the duty on slack coal going into the United States. Slack coal is dutiable at 75 cents per ton in the United States. Recently, in the last amendment of the tariff law, words were used in the definition of slack coal which led to considerable trouble. The words used, if I remember correctly, were that all slack coal shall be deemed coal produced in the ordinary way, and therefore one of our coal concerns, which has large contracts in the United States, desiring to build up a large trade in that country in slack coal found itself subject to this condition. That what it regarded as slack coal was regarded by the United States as coal screened and held dutiable at a rate of 45c. per ton. We protested against that and we asked that the duty of 15 cents per ton on slack coal should apply to slack coal of all kinds, including washed coal.

RECIPROCITY IN FISH

"In respect to reciprocity in fish, Mr. Fielding said:
"Canada has never enjoyed the advantage of free fish into the United States except upon the condition that she grant the United States not only similar privileges but the right to fish in the national waters of Canada. That was the condition of the old reciprocity treaty and under that condition very satisfactory progress in our fisheries was made.

"There are some people in our country today who attach so much importance to the item of free fish that they would be willing in order to obtain it to give to our American friends the right to fish in our waters. We do not think that this represents the national sentiment. We said to our American friends that we were willing to meet them in the exchange of commodities, that we wanted to show our good will, but that we could not discuss this question at all of giving them free fishing, and practically at an early stage in the negotiations that feature was eliminated.

BANADA FARED WELL

"We present this agreement," said Hon. Mr. Fielding, "as one which we can sincerely commend to the judgment of the house and of the people. We do not present it as a victory over our American friends. That would be a small return for the good spirit in which they have met us.

"Throughout the negotiations the president of the United States has given us abundant reasons to appreciate his sincere desire to carry out a friendly arrangement. He will carry into the completion of this arrangement the authority of his great office and of his great talents. I know that he will make it a labor of love. No less commendable was the conduct of Secretary Knox. He was not less anxious than the president to bring about a friendly arrangement.

"We present the arrangement not as a triumph of one country over another but as the result of an effort to do justice to both. The one idea I have is that there may be people who will say that we have made so good a bargain that congress should not approve of it. In times past friendly arrangements with the United States have failed to receive the approval of congress, but we think that the time is more favorable now.

"We think we have found the psychological moment for dealing with the question. We think we are within reach of some of the commercial advantages for which we have struggled for half a century. We commit this matter to parliament with the firm conviction that it is going to be a good thing for Canada and a good thing for the United States and that it will promote the friendly relations and the commerce of the two countries."

Mr. Borden followed in the tone

SHAMELESS ATTACK ON HON. MR. FIELDING

(Toronto Globe.)

In the political annals of Canada there have been few more creditable incidents than the attempt of a despicable scoundrel, at the moment unknown, to lie away the good name of the Minister of Finance and make it appear that the action of the Finance Department in regard to the Farmers Bank was in some way or another due to a desire to repay an obligation of Mr. Fielding to the Manager of the Bank. The story seems to have its origin in Ottawa, and was to the effect that Travers had contributed $2,500 to the fund recently presented to Minister of Finance by his admirers. That the malice of some political opponent was at the bottom of the lying statement became evident when Mr. Boyce gave notice in the House of Commons "that tomorrow he would move the adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing 'the receipt by Ministers of the Crown of gifts of money in the form of testimonials, and the reported contribution to such testimonials or testimonial of a sum of money by one W. R. Travers, late General Manager of the Farmers Bank of Canada, now in liquidation, said Travers being convicted and being now under sentence of six years' imprisonment for having falsified returns and theft of sums of money.'"

The whole fantastic fabric is founded on falsehood from beginning to end. Had Travers contributed $2,500 or any other sum to the testimonial Mr. Fielding never would have known of it, for to this day he has not seen or in any other way been informed of the names of the contributors—so careful were those who arranged the testimonial to make sure that no contributions would be given because of a lively sense of favors to come. Senator Jaffray and Mr. P. C. Larkin, who obtained the Toronto subscriptions, desire it to be known that neither directly or indirectly from Mr. Travers or anyone on his behalf or on behalf of the Farmers Bank was any subscription received nor was any subscription asked for or tendered. There was at no time therefore, the slightest basis for the disgraceful attempt to pull down Mr. Fielding from the high place he holds in the affections of the people of Canada. It is to be hoped Mr. Boyce will have the grace to be heartily ashamed that he made the lying statement of an anonymous scandal-monger the ground for spreading a baseless statement on the records of the House. No more honorable man than the Minister of Finance ever had a seat in the Parliament of Canada.

CROWDED HOUSE SAW

"THE THIRD DEGREE"

A crowded house greeted Miss Adelaide French and Mr. John Connery and supporting company when they presented "The Third Degree" at the City Opera House. Miss French was as warmly welcomed as when she visited Fredericton on a previous occasion.

The play deals with New York police methods, the principal theme being the devotion displayed by a young wife in the defence of her husband, who, after seven hours of the "third degree" by a police captain, confesses to a murder he did not commit. Miss French as the brave young wife, Mr. Connery as the lawyer Mr. Brewster, and R. Howard Hall as Captain Clinton, were in the principal roles. The play was well acted and well staged.
