RESIGNATION OF BALFOUR CREATES GREAT SURPRISE

London, Nov. 8.—The Unionist party is to swap horses while crossing the Home Rule party stream. Arthur J. Balfour at an emergency meeting of the city of London announced to his constituents his retirement from the leadership of the opposition.

Impaired health, increasing age and the desirability of the leadership passing into younger hands were the reasons which he gave for this step in a speech which was marked by much feeling. But no one doubts that the increasing attacks against him by the ambitious younger Conservatives particularly the tariff reformers, were the principal factor inspiring his decision.

While a number of influential Unionists and would-be leaders, notably Austen Chamberlain and F. F. Smith have been demanding his retirement from the leadership few believed that Mr. Balfour would drop the helm at such an important stage of the party fortunes.

A POLITICAL SENSATION

The announcement was a sharp surprise to all parties and made an immense political sensation. No sooner were Mr. Balfour's withdrawal known than reports were circulated that Lord Lansdowne, the leader of the opposition in the House of Lords, who shared in the attacks would accompany his colleague to the background. But Lord Lansdowne issued a denial of this tonight.

Mr. Balfour will remain in the House of Commons although he could be elevated to the peerage if he so desired. While he as premier, was recognized as the leader of the whole party the leadership will now be divided, his successor sharing it with Lord Lansdowne.

His successor doubtless will be the Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, who represents the Strand. A Caucus has been called for Monday for the purpose of choosing a new leader. Mr. Long commands the confidence of the older and younger elements of the party.

Advanced tariff reformers favor Austen Chamberlain and Sir Edward Henry Carson, Dublin University and F. E. Smith, Walton division of Liverpool cherishes ambitions for Mr. Balfour's shoes.

Mr. Balfour was received in audience this afternoon by the king and informed his majesty of his decision.

BALFOUR'S REASON

During the course of his speech before his constituents he said:

"I desire to leave the position of responsibility which I hold before I can be suspected of suffering from that most insidious of all diseases—that disease which comes upon those who without losing their health or intellect nevertheless get petrified in the old course they have pursued, whose authority grows because they have been so long in public service or are great men of science or eminent men of business, but who cannot deal with its problems, which in this changing world are perpetually arising with all."

"Freshness and elasticity are desirable in those who have got to conduct great concerns. No man knows himself when that hour arrives I am vain enough to know that I have not reached that period, but I would be miserable if I ran the margin too fine."

Mr. Balfour deprecates the report of party dissension. There were all ways grumblers when the party was out of power. He believes it to be in normal condition and declared that the country was fast tiring of sweeping radical legislation. The party, he said would soon return to power.

Many Conservatives contend that the question of his health was the only reason for Mr. Balfour's retirement. Some members of the Halsbury Club which was reputed to be working for that object, point out that the club adopted a resolution of confidence in Mr. Balfour and Lord Lansdowne only last Monday. They say that leading members threatened to resign if Mr. Balfour's retirement was made a plank of the club's programme.

The Liberals and the adherents of the Irish party join the Unionists in regretting that the house of commons debates will lose a great share of interest when the figure to whom followers and opponents alike conceded intellectual pre-eminence is no longer in the forefront of battle.

RIVIERE DU LOUP TO GET I. C. R. SHOPS

Quebec, Nov. 8.—Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals and Hon. F. D. Monk Minister of Public Works were in Quebec on Saturday and paid a visit to the harbor. They were accompanied by Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, and included in the party were Messrs R. W. Leonard, chairman of the Transcontinental Commission; Chief Engineer Grant; St. George Boswell, harbor engineer; A. E. Doucet, district engineer and a number of prominent citizens. The harbor sites for terminals, the graving dock, the dock extensions and other points were visited and fully inspected.

Attention was drawn to the extra expenditure which had to be made to repair parts of the old wall, which had threatened to collapse.

It was announced by Hon. Mr. Pelletier on Saturday that he had been promised that a portion of the Intercolonial workshops at Moncton would be transferred to River du Loup.

A LITTLE DANDERINE WILL MAKE YOUR HAIR LUSTROUS, SOFT, FLUFFY, ABUNDANT

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

If you Wish to Double the Beauty of your Hair in Ten Minutes surely Try a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Try as you will, after one application of Danderine you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. Danderine makes the hair grow long, heavy and luxuriant and we can prove it. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorized druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to be exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff or if your hair is turning gray or coming out, don't delay, but get a bottle of this remedy to-day, and see what a few days' treatment will be done for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

FISH WARDEN HINCHEY DENIES A REPORT

To the Editor of The Mail:

I read a piece in Friday's Mail of Nov. 3rd, headed illegal killing of salmon on the Miramichi. It went on to say that this violation had gone unchecked and the wardens were not doing their duty on account of threats from the present Dominion government to replace them. Now, if the party who got this stuff off meant that part of the Miramichi which runs through York County, they stated an absolute falsehood. The wardens in York County have done their duty faithfully just the same since the government changed as they did before. I don't see why a change of government would be any excuse of a fish warden to break his oath. Furthermore, there never were any threats made of any change being made here in the wardens during this season. I have been one of the wardens here on the river during the last three summers and I think the gentlemen from Fredericton and other places who have been flying along the river will testify that I have not been neglectful of my duty. I think the party who was getting off this cheap talk was looking for a job either for themselves or some of their friends, if such a man as that would have any friends, which is doubtful. If those guides (who the paper states gave the information) have the interest of the country so much at heart they might spend some of their zeal in having a game warden appointed for this part of the country. If the big game was as well protected as the fish it would be a lot better for the country.

Hoping you will find space in your valuable paper for these few remarks, I remain,

Yours truly,

ROLAND HINCHEY,
Fish Warden.

NIGHT SCHOOL AT Y. M. C. A.

Are you of foreign birth and education and would like to be taught to speak and write the English language correctly? The Y. M. C. A. is willing to form a class in which you can receive such instruction and if you desire to enter it call at the office and talk with Mr. Estey, the secretary.

Were you forced to go to work at an early age and deprived of an ordinary elementary education and would you welcome an opportunity to attend a night school during the winter evenings where you would be taught practical and commercial arithmetic, writing and grammar? The members of the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. decided to insert this notice in the local papers and if there is sufficient response to show that such a night school is needed in the community they are prepared to organize it and are confident that efficient teachers can be secured. If you are interested in this proposition call at the Y. M. C. A. building and talk over the matter with the secretary.

THE RAYO LAMP The Lamp That Saves Your Eyes

Children naturally never think of possible strain on their eyesight when poring over a fascinating book. It is up to you to see they do not ruin their young eyes these long evenings by reading under a poor light. The Rayo Lamp is an insurance against eye troubles, alike for young and old.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp, but it is constructed on the soundest scientific principles, and there is not a better lamp made at any price.

It is easy on the eye because its light is so soft and white and widely diffused.

Easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and rewick. Solid brass throughout, with handsome nickel finish; also in many other styles and finishes.
