MARKET LETTER

The market this week has taken another spurt carrying Northern and Southern Pacific, Atchison and Copper to new high figures.

News is all of a more favorable character, the copper industry has apparently turned the corner and it is confidently believed that Steel and iron will shortly improve while Railroads are ordering new equipment and general business indications are better.

So far as the market is concerned there has undoubtedly been considerable covering of short interests but at the same time there has been very much more public interest taken than for some time past and it is quite evident that at present prices, the public account on the whole would show a considerable profit.

MONEY

The Bank of Montreal rate remains unchanged, money in the States is concentrated with very small demand. It is not likely the conditions will change materially before the first of the year.

MONTREAL

The principal event in Montreal this week was the sharp break in Dominion Steel Corporation stock, owing to the announcement of a new form of financing by the president. This is to be by issue of preferred stock rather than by treasury bonds as it is believed that such method will eventually place the company in a stronger position and make a broader market for its securities. The stock subsequently recovered.

CEREAL

A great deal of interest was taken in the announcement that the Cereal and International Milling Company Preferred dividends should be passed. The following is taken from the Montreal Star:

"It is generally understood that the next dividend on Canadian Cereal Pfd stock will be passed."

"The annual meeting will be held in Toronto next week when Mr. J. D. Flavelle, the president will fully explain the situation.

"All the milling companies have passed through a trying year and as the new Cereal Co., was not organized well enough to weather the storm a policy of retrenchment will now be adopted and Mr. Flavelle, who was in Montreal yesterday says that the Company will soon turn the corner.

"In April 1910, $1,250,000 preferred stock was offered to the public at par, with a bonus of 50 p.c. common and a prospectus issued at the time estimated that the earnings would amount to 13 p.c. on the preferred or after the dividend was paid equal to 6 p.c. on the $1,250,000 common."

"The directors of the Company are: J. D. Flavelle G. E. Goldie C. S. Wilcox J. P. Black E. V. Tillson A. J. Nesbitt J. W. McConnell

"The Company recently made a deal with the International Milling Co., and that concern, which has four mills in the States and one in Moose Jaw, is said to be holding its own."

SHAWINIGAN

A good part of the reason for the strength in Shawinigan stock which is closely held by investors and recently sold as high as 124 is to be found in the following paragraph also quoted from the Star:

"The new hydraulic development at Shawinigan Falls which provides for 75,000 H.P. for use in Montreal, had been completed for some weeks.

"This development involves an enlargement of the canal and bulkhead from which five penstocks of 15,000 H.P. each will be eventually carried to a separate power house now erected and in which are presently installed two complete units of 15,000 h.p. each, together with a new steel tower transmission line operating at 100,000 volts and an entirely independent terminal station at Maisonneuve. During the past two weeks this plant has been thoroughly tested by the Shawinigan Water & Power Co., and gives the utmost satisfaction."

"Without demonstration of any kind, the plant was put in operation. It is worthy of remark that this plant now makes the Shawinigan Co.'s development the largest single development in Canada, as no one company at Niagara has reached the total capacity of the Shawinigan plant."

TOOKE

Tooke Bros securities were listed on the market this week, both the preferred and common stocks have been selling freely and have been holding their price well.

THOUGHT COLD WOULD TURN INTO CONSUMPTION

HEART DID NOT FEEL ANY TOO GOOD.

Mr. Robert McLarnon, Shawville, Que., writes:—"I am writing to tell you an experience I had with a bad cold and a bottle of your valuable medicine. I was up in the lumber camps teaming horses, and I caught a very bad cold. I thought it was going to turn into consumption, for my left lung got very sore and my heart did not feel any too good. I came home and tried some different remedies but they did me no good. A friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I tried it, and when I had taken two bottles my cold was gone. I think it is a great remedy, and will advise any one with a cold to use it. I can't praise it enough."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, which combined with Wild Cherry bark and other pectoral remedies, makes it one of the greatest known preparations for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SIR WM. MAY BRITAIN'S NEW FIRST SEA LORD

London, Nov. 22—Coming so close upon Mr. Churchill's appointment as First Lord of the Admiralty the announcement that Admiral Sir William May is to succeed Admiral of the Fleet Sir Arthur Wilson as First Sea Lord in spring of next year is bound to excite more than usual attention. As a matter of fact however, the appointment has been expected for at least 2 years—ever since it was stated that Lord Fisher's successor as first sea Lord would be Sir Arthur Wilson.

The last named officer, who went to the admiralty on January 25 last (on which day Lord Fisher went into retirement under the age limit), will himself be overtaken by this regulation on March 4 next year, when he will complete his seventieth year. As is generally known, Sir Arthur Wilson was induced to go to Whitehall solely in order that the schisms opened in the fleet by the differences between Lord Fisher and Lord Charles Beresford might be healed under an officer in whom the whole navy reposed unbounded confidence. Had he not been able to bring about this very desirable result in the time normally at his disposal it is no secret that Admiral Wilson, in spite of precedent, would have retained his Admiralty appointment after his retirement from the active list of the Fleet; but the few months he has spent as First Sea Lord have been so fruitful of healing results that there is not now any reason why he should remain after the retiring age has been reached.

With regard to his successor, the appointment of Admiral May was certain, if only because there is no other officer who possesses the necessary requirements. Whether the policy is a wise one or not the fact remains that the higher posts at the disposal of the admiralty are now alternated amongst a few officers, who thus gain great experience in important administrative and command work to the practical exclusion of other men. This is well illustrated in the careers of Admirals Bridgeman during the last few years. Admiral May was appointed Second Sea Lord in March, 1907, and simultaneously Sir Francis Bridgeman was made commander-in-chief of the then newly created fleet.

In 1909, after holding this command for two years, Sir Francis Bridgeman went to the Admiralty as Second Sea Lord, while Admiral May hoisted his flag in command of the home fleet, with at the same time the channel fleet was amalgamated. On two years expiring—that is, last spring—Admiral May went as commander-in-chief to Plymouth, where he now is, while Sir Francis Bridgeman rehoisted his flag in command of the home fleet. When Sir William May goes to the Admiralty as First Sea Lord next March these two officers will have filled the highest offices the navy has to offer for a period of five years, namely First

Sea Lord, Second Sea Lord (twice) and commander-in-chief of the home fleet (twice.)

Admiral May who was born on July 31, 1849, and entered the navy in June, 1863, served twice at Whitehall before going as Second Sea Lord in 1907. From May 1893, to January 1895, he was assistant director of torpedoes, and from April, 1905, was third sea Lord and controller. He is very reserved, and little can be said as to the policy he is likely to pursue, but there is a general impression that he would not, or could not resist so strongly as the present first sea Lord any attempts that might be made to cut down the fleet.

KENNEDY AND PALZER MEET

New York, Nov. 28—Fight followers hereabouts are looking forward with much interest to the ten-round bout between Tom Kennedy and Al Palzer, which is to be pulled off in the Clermont Rink, in Brooklyn, tomorrow night. The fans remember the sensational contest these two fought last summer at the National Sporting Club, which Kennedy lost in nine rounds after holding the lead for several rounds. At that time "Big Tom" claimed he was not seasoned well enough to stand the terrific pace. Since the agreement for the coming bout was signed he has trained faithfully and will have no chance to excuse a defeat with the old cry of "not in condition."
