MR. BORDEN'S CABINET

A real and legitimate interest is taken by all people over Canada in anything in the way of pen portraits of men whom Premier Borden has assembled in his Cabinet. This is particularly true where the writer writes from a nonpartisan standpoint. A very interesting article giving a fleeting survey of some members of the new Cabinet appears in the Vancouver Sun, and we reproduce the leading parts of it:

"George E. Foster is the embodied eloquence of his party. He has been so long out of office that it will take him some time to get the docus of his old enemies in Opposition. When he does, he will blast with his satirical lightnings those who used to kiper his soul for sport in the days when he was down and out.

"Sam Hughes, as befits a Minister of War and an enemy of peace, will pour out freshets of bombast.

"If the Finance Minister talks at all, his speeches will be vocal arithmetic, impersonal to the fourth dimension of materialism, absolutely neuter. We may be sure he will not call anyone any names or tear up any clouds to throw at the Opposition, or be called many names himself. His mind is a page of algebra, his blood ink.

"The French-Canadian members of the Cabinet are rhetoricians, playing upon themselves as upon instruments.

"Frank Cochrane and Robert Rogers are plain, practical business men; their speeches are without ostentation, but not without cynicism. They are rich, but they are not charitable. They see things through the off-colours of a rich man. The Borden Cabinet is a rich man's Cabinet. Frank Cochrane is a strong nobby character. Rogers is sly, but not strong. Both represent the spirit of the community, which is a business spirit.

"Premier Borden has faced the batteries of criticism long enough to have a sharp tongue, but his heart is warm and kindly. He has a harmonious mind, and his sentences are like straight lines, the shortest distances between points. He is entirely sincere and honest he does not color the facts. He used to look worried and nervous, but power may have given him tranquility. He is not what is commonly known as a strong man. He is just persistent and insistent. When he talks, his talk is fluid. He is a true Conservative, whose religion is conservatism carried to the nth power. He has not an overpowering personality. The dominance of his personality over his followers is very limited. He has no ego, and no one travels in the orbit. He is not like other leaders of men."

MR. EMMERSON'S SPEECH

The Journal a Conservative news paper at Ottawa, speaking of Hon. H. R. Emmerson's recent address in the House of Commons says:

"After the opening speech of the day by Mr. Frapp, as reported in another column, Mr. Emmerson spoke for a couple of hours. Mr. Emmerson gave an able and statesmanlike review of the current problems of the day, with an especial reference to the late reciprocity issue. His speech, while general in tone, applied more particularly to his native province of New Brunswick. Mr. Emmerson is one of that small group in the house that digs up new and fresh information in those debates in which they take part. In consequence their speeches when printed form an admirable browsing ground for other less gifted or at any rate less energetic orators.

"For there was a wealth of material and keenness of criticism in Mr. Emmerson's speech that makes it perhaps, the best one yet delivered on his side of the house, with the exception of the ex-Premier's speech. The speeches were of an entirely different character, as Laurier dealt entirely with politics and generalities, while Mr. Emmerson handled quantities and figures as basis for his telling points later on.

THOUGHT COLD WOULD TURN INTO CONSUMPTION

LEFT LUNG GOT VERY SORE, HEART DID NOT FEEL ANY TOO GOOD.

Mr. Robert McLarnon, Shawville, Que., writes: "I am writing to tell you an experience I had with a bad cold and a bottle of your valuable medicine. I was up in the lumber camps teaming horses, and I caught a very bad cold. I thought it was going to turn into consumption, for my left lung got very sore and my heart did not feel any too good. I came home and tried some different remedies but they did me no good. A friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I tried it, and when I had taken two bottles my cold was gone. I think it is a great remedy, and will advise any one with a cold to use it. I can't praise it enough."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, which combined with Wild Cherry bark and other pectoral remedies, makes it one of the greatest known preparations for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Indeed, Mr. Emmerson possessed to a high degree Mr. Foster's ability to present figures and quantities to his hearer in such a manner that their relevancy and proportion to one another. This quality, which Gladstone was perhaps of all British statesmen most noted for, is not possessed by many in the Canadian Commons. It is of itself an especial gift, and one of some rarity."

The result of the Ontario elections yesterday shows that the Whitney machine has not lost its grip on that province. The Liberals, discouraged by their overwhelming defeat in the Dominion election a few months ago, entered the provincial fight under a serious handicap. They had to select a new leader, but were most fortunate in securing for the position Mr. N. W. Rowell, a prominent Toronto lawyer, who made perhaps as good a fight against the strongly entrenched Whitney forces as was possible under the circumstances. The Liberals held sixteen seats in the last House out of a total of 105, and as a result of yesterday's election the number has been increased to 23, a gain of five.

Mr. Rowell was elected in North Oxford by a good majority and will be able to continue his fight against the government in the legislature.

Halifax Chronicle:—But how do they enjoy having it flung thus publicly and repeatedly in their faces by their Nationalist boss, who has no use either for them or the empire, except in so far as they can be made to serve his purposes and grace his triumph? No matter whether they enjoy it or not, it is Britannia cum Bourassa for them henceforth, or "skiddoo." So Britannia cum Bourassa it will be, however much it may add to their discomfort and the amazement of onlookers.

Lethbridge Herald:—Premier Borden, by an answer in the Commons yesterday, indicated that he would steer clear of political complications as a consequence of the agitation over the Ne Temere decree by shouldering the responsibility on the provinces. Just watch the Hughes' and Sproules' swallow the pill without a grimace. Power puts the sugar coating on the pill.

New Westminster British Columbian:—After all, the basis for good civic administration rests upon the intelligence, the civic pride and public spirit of the average elector, and good government for any municipality under any form is found to be largely the measure of the people to whom the civic politicians appeal for votes.

Halifax Chronicle: Premier Borden tells the Canadian Society of New York that Canada's mission is to be a bond of friendship and goodwill between the people of Great Britain and the United States. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the same thing long ago and the Flag-Flappers called it "disloyal." Now we quite expect that they will applaud it as a noble sentiment.

Toronto, Dec. 12.—The government thus has a net majority of sixty a reduction of four as compared with the last house.

The outstanding feature of the election in Toronto was the phenomenally small vote polled, about 41,900. In June 1908, there were 59,094 votes polled.
The only minister who had a close call was Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works who had a majority of only 20 in North Essex. Two clerical candidates Rev. J. H. McInnes, Liberal, Frontenac, and Rev. Joseph Elliott, Conservative, Centre Huron, were among the defeated.

MURDER TRIAL AT WACO

Waco, Tex., Dec. 11.—The case of Jim Fox charged with the murder of Policeman Frank Glasgow, at Hillsboro last June came up for trial today. The case was brought here on charge of venue from Hill county.

Elijah Sanford of Shiloh, Me., religious fanatic who poses as the head of a sect known as the Holy Ghost and Us has been convicted on the charge of causing the death of six of his followers. The indications are that he will get a term in the penitentiary.

Ottawa Free Press:—Premier Borden says he has received deputations on the way to lunch, while eating his lunch, and on his way from lunch. When deputations interfere with lunch, cut out the lunch.

Tories are complaining that Mr. Pinder, M.P.P., is not doing his duty these days—that he is allowing Hon. Mr. McLeod to capture all the roff jobs for his friends. Never mind, Mr. Pinder is building a railroad.

In spite of the influence of the Federal and Provincial governments the Liberals (of Ontario yesterday were able to elect five more members than they did in the contest in 1908

EMPEROR OF INDIA PROCLAIMED TODAY

Joseph Scott, one of their attorneys, toward whom they always seemed friendly because all were reared as Roman Catholics, was with them until a short time before they left.

"We appreciate all you have done for us, Joe," said J. J. McNamara, as Scott was saying farewell, "and we're sorry you had to sacrifice so much in coming to our defence," referring to the fact that a considerable part of the community resented the fact that Scott, who is president of the board of education, had taken up their defence.

Scott was re-elected last Tuesday, and J. J. said:

"I'm glad they didn't beat you in the election after all. Don't worry about us. We'll be all right as we get away from here."

J. E. Timmons, business agent of the Structural Iron Workers' Union in this city, was closeted for more than three-quarters of an hour today with Oscar Lawler, assistant United States attorney in charge of the investigation of the dynamite conspiracy which is now before the federal grand jury. Timmons said he would be a witness before the federal grand jury on Tuesday. Mrs. Lena Ingersoll, at whose boarding house James B. McNamara and Ortie McManigal lived while in San Francisco, also talked with Mr. Lawler. What the told the assistant United States attorney is probably in connection with the two men's relations with San Francisco labor leaders. She, too, will be a witness before the federal grand jury on Tuesday.

J. W. Kizer, of Muncie, Ind., is the "mysterious witness" who appeared before the federal grand jury yesterday afternoon to tell all that he knows relative to the manufacture and supply of nitro-glycerine which was obtained by the McNamara brothers and possibly others. He has been in this city for several weeks and some time ago identified the two McNamara brothers and Ortie McManigal as the men who had purchased nitro-glycerine at various times in the past seven years. Kizer had an explosive factory in Muncie.

It is believed that arrangements are being made in San Francisco to bring E. A. Clancy, first vice-president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers to Los Angeles to testify on Tuesday. Clancy was served with a subpoena in San Francisco yesterday, and at that time it was reported that his physical condition would not allow his removal at this time. It is said that Clancy will be brought here on a stretcher if necessary.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WOODSTOCK GIRL

Woodstock, N. B., Dec. 11.—A very sudden death took place today when Carrie, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Herbert Holmes passed away from spinal meningitis. She attended school on Friday, and Saturday was stricken with the dread disease. She is survived by her father and Mrs. Smith Grant and Edith Holmes, sisters.

David McFadden, who was burned to death in East Newbridge on Saturday, was buried in the Methodist cemetery in Woodstock.

George Porter, aged seventy years, formerly of York County, father of Mrs. E. S. Kirkpatrick, who died yesterday at the residence of A. W. Brown, will be buried in the Methodist cemetery tomorrow afternoon. Rev. R. W. Weddall conducting the services.

John McIntosh, locomotive foreman at Aroostook Junction, who has been in poor health, is on a three-months vacation, visiting Woodstock and neighboring districts.

ROBBERY AT MCADAM

It is reported from McAdam that last night the post office at that place was broken into and money, stamps and a registered parcel were stolen. The value of money and stamps was not large. There is no clue to the identity of the thief.

ARIZONA'S FIRST ELECTION

Phoenix, Dec. 12.—Arizona held her first State election today voting for governor and other State officials, judges of the supreme and district courts and members of the legislature. In addition the voters also expressed their preference for two United States senators and also voted on the proposal to eliminate the judicial recall from the State constitution. Complete tickets were put in the field by the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties. Owing to the multiplicity of candidates the complete results of the election probably will not be known before Thursday.
