THE BORDEN CABINET

Mr. E. W. Thomson, the Ottawa correspondent of the Boston Transcript in a recent letter to his paper thus discusses the Borden cabinet:

"True, it is impossible to look at the composite of rampart Orange centralizationist jingoes, and Monk 'Nationalists' without some twinkling of the eye. Politics ever did make strange bedfellows. In this aspect the Borden cabinet reminds one of the wondrous creature that Walter Savage Lander, Jr., heard of in his travels in Asia Minor. A nomad sheik told him the tradition. 'Of old,' said the patriarch, 'when Alexander the Great traversed these regions, he lost eighty thousand soldiers in a singular way. They went to gaze on a Marvel that used to inhabit about here. It was a creature so wondrously made that nobody could look at it without dying of laughter. Alexander feared the Attraction would destroy his entire army. So he placed guard to prevent his soldiers going to see the Thing. Then he sent for Aristotle, and asked his advice. Aristotle invented a remedy. He caused a great mirror to be constructed. This was pushed forward toward the Wondrous Animal until it saw itself. Straightaway it expired of laughing at its own image.' Fortunately for our new ministry there is no Aristotelin mirror here. Also they probably are gifted to see themselves as quite different from the spectacle they present to opponents, who suffer the disadvantage of laughing on the wrong side of their mouths.

"Mr. Borden has succeeded in his first hard task that of getting the Hughes and Monk factions to lie down together under his hand. He must have pledged them to stay down long enough to avoid disruption of the Cabinet by a want of confidence motion. This betokens no small skill in the new Premier. He may carry on till the next general elections, say two years hence. The more the Orangemen and the Nationalists leer the more savory and digestible they will find it. It is a good Canadian vegetable. The Ministry, like all others, is not likely to be killed by its enemies, but by its propensities. It is a joy to Tariff-grafters, and this at a time when Canadian, like American and British opinion, is seemingly set for death to tariff-graft. Mr. Borden comes in as an enemy of reciprocity. His friends say it is dead. But reciprocity can't be dead unless Washington kill it by taking the good, generous, magnanimous friendly, Christian-like reciprocity act off the United States statute-book. Every week it stays there will be a liberal education to the Canadian people. They are already daily reading market reports proving what has been foregone by the Canadian farmer, who is the foundation of all the wealth and prosperity of the Tariff-grafters and money-mongers of Ontario, who gammoned the farmer into rejection of the boon, mainly by raving of Laurier as Catholic, French, papal, Eucharistic, and the instigator of the abominable 'Ne temere' decree.

"These clouds will pass. Laurier is confident. He is no more extinguished than Gladstone frequently was. One election can't snuff out a great and beneficent statesman. He has been friendly to Americans in fair weather and foul. Now is the time for them to emulate his patience, disregard the shin-kicking Tory children of Canada, and keep the noble pact on the statute book. That is the way to still forever the anger and horror that would be roused in the States and England if the people there were shown the diabolical cartoons and editorials by which the tariff-grafters here incited electors to give Toryism a temporary and but apparent triumph."

There is a strong feeling among the people of Sunbury regardless of politics that the vacant seat in the Legislature should be filled by a local man.

ALL teas may look alike to you—but the difference in Red Rose Tea is in the taste and the smell. Another marked difference is the agreeable strength that puts real quality in the cup with less tea in the pot. Will you try it.

The Ottawa Journal protests against keeping the representation of the maritime provinces in parliament as at present, and gives these reasons: "So long as the maritime provinces have the same proportionate representation as the rest of the country they ought to be satisfied. It is rather absurd that Prince Edward Island, which, with a population of 93,000, has four members, should consider itself harshly treated by a reduction to 3, when the city of Ottawa with 91,000 people, has only 2—or that New Brunswick, which has 13 members to 315,000 people, should kick at a loss of two members when the City of Toronto, with 376,000 inhabitants has but five. Montreal with a larger population than Nova Scotia has eighteen and after redistribution will have 10."

Referring to the new chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Commission the Toronto Star says: "Like Hon. W. T. White, Major Leonard seems to have been a Liberal until the day before yesterday. Both are able men, yet last year they were comparatively inconspicuous among Liberals, but once they had crossed over, they towered head and shoulders above Conservatives and, rightly enough, were given two of the richest gifts in the hands of the Prime Minister. The Liberals have lost office, but it is some comfort to see some of the Liberal Old Boys have been striking it rich among strangers."

Winnipeg Tribune—The men who till the prairies in the three great western Provinces are even now the backbone of this Dominion. Very soon we shall hear from their leaders how they regard the verdict. The cities and towns may outvote them, but it is unreasonable to suppose that great consideration is not to be shown to the basic producers of the wealth of our country. The farmers demand wider markets; they ask for entrance to the nearest and what promises to be our greatest market. Mr. Borden cannot afford to overlook, even in the face of Ontario's vote, the demands of the men who are the very life of our Dominion.

"When the voters awaken to the blind pace at which they were led by the corporations who have tied the hands of Mr. Borden and to whom the Tory party in Canada is helplessly bound, they will understand what they have done by electing them to power. And it will not be long until they find this out. That is what is already giving an ominous sound to the mutterings of the Tory press. All the people can be fooled some of the time and some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time.

Victoria Colonist.—Whatever your political associations may be, and whether you approve of or dissent from the verdict of the constituencies which permit of prompt effect being given to public opinion approach very closely to perfection in popular Government.

It is a question whether the dead can make known their wishes about hidden treasure and missing wills through spiritualists, but they seem to have no difficulty whatever in making their wishes about candidates known through the ballot box.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MAY CARVE MELON

Montreal, Nov. 2.—It was reported on the "Street" this morning in usually well-informed quarters that the strength in Canadian Pacific stock is due to an anticipated stock issue in the early future.

It was freely rumored that on the turn of the year the $20,000,000 unsold common stock will be offered to the shareholders at a price which will give a very handsome bonus on the present market price of the stock.

The amount of common stock now outstanding is $180,000,000, while the amount authorized is $200,000,000. It is now only a question of the price of issue.

We commend the following translation from a Quebec French newspaper to the Tory campaigners who worked the ne temere decree canvas so industriously in York during the late election:

STOCK MARKET STILL HAS BUOYANT TONE

(By direct private wire to J. C. Mackintosh & Co 604 Queen St.)

New York, Nov. 2.—The generally favorable tone of recent news bearing upon particular stocks and the market as a whole was susceptible to some explanation on yesterday's broad advance of prices. It had been clear for some days that the market had been liquidated and that only some specific impulse of news was needed to cause a heavy covering of short interest interest. This was forthcoming in abundance and a good part of the rise was due to the demand from the bears. There were, however, indubitable evidences of concentrated buying by large interests and while it is most likely that the advance will proceed upon the same scale as yesterday without reaction, the prospects nevertheless is that the rise will extend further.

The favorable tenor of current railway reports and the beginning of purchases of railway equipment upon a liberal scale have contributed an unusual amount of firmness to the strength.

MRS. E. A. SMITH'S LECTURE ATTRACTS LARGE NUMBER

The illustrated lecture on "Rambles in Historic London" given by Mrs. E.A. Smith of St. John in the Auld Kirk last night attracted a large and appreciative audience. Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith presided at the lecture which was given under the auspices of the ladies of the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Upwards of one hundred lantern slides were used to illustrate the lecture which was very entertaining. It is doubtful if a finer series of views was ever shown in Fredericton. Mrs. Smith, who is well known here and elsewhere as a lecturer told of her own visit to the places shown in the views and included in her remarks historical facts connected with them. She will return to St. John this evening. At the close of the lecture which was over two hours in length a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered the lecturer on the motion of Judge Wilson seconded by Mr. W. M. Burns.

It is estimated that, the slope over about 163,000,000 acres of land are under wheat.
