DUG UP HOLE FOR EVIDENCE

Unique Exhibit Will Figure in Trial of the Alleged Dynamiters

Lawyers Engaged to Defend McNamara Brothers Will Put up Stiff Legal Battle

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—A hole in the ground caused by the explosion of a bomb will figure in the trial of the McNamara brothers, for the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times. The hole was dug up and boxed for preservation Sunday night.

On the morning of the destruction of the Times building last October, two unexploded bombs were found at the residences of General H. G. Otis, owner of the Times and F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association. A detective was carrying off the bombs enclosed in a suit case when he heard a clock ticking and dropped the grip and ran. The bomb went off tearing a large hole in the ground between the sidewalk and the curbing. The hole remained undisturbed and a few days ago when the attorneys for defence decided they needed the hole for evidence. Accordingly four detectives set to work Sunday night and by daybreak had tunneled under the hole, boxed it and prepared to carry to Attorney Harriman's office. While they awaited a truck passers, by noticed their operations and telephoned district attorney Fredericks. Gathering an automobile full of detectives Fredericks rushed to the scene into the box, "what have we here?" "Holt on," cried Fredericks, urging "Nothing but a hole" replied Harriman's detectives.

"Oh, very well," said the district attorney, "you're welcome to it."

F. B. CARVELL, M. P. THE MAN FOR CARLETON COUNTY

Was Unanimously Renominated at a Great Convention Held at Woodstock Last Night—Made Strong Speech of Acceptance in Which he Discussed Reciprocity and the Valley Railway Question—It is up to the Hazen Government to Make the Next Move

Woodstock, N. B., Aug. 7.—At a magnificent convention here this evening F. B. Carvell was nominated as the Liberal candidate in the coming contest and the first gun in the Carleton County campaign or larger market was fired.

The convention was the largest that has ever been held here. Every polling district in the county was represented. From Hartland, the home of Hon. J. K. Flemming, came a delegation of more than 100 a striking testimony to the strength of the reciprocity cause there. It was noteworthy also that in the audience and among the most enthusiastic persons present were a number of supporters of reciprocity, who have been opponents of the government in other years.

The chair was taken by Councillor John Perry, of Simonds, and with him on the platform were a number of citizens, among them being J. L. Merithew, Thomas Bohan, W. L. McCain, George McLeod, John Bloodsworth, E. D. R. Phillips, E. R. Squires, Delancy Foster, Max Donnelly, William Carle, Arthur Ruff and Pennington McDougall.

After the chairman had spoken briefly, nominations were asked for. F. B. Carvell was nominated by C. E. Gallagher, seconded by Councillor John Kinney. The nomination was made unanimously by a standing vote amidst much enthusiasm.

When Mr. Carvell took the platform he was greeted by a storm of applause which continued for several minutes. In his speech he first thanked the convention for the nomination and for the confidence hitherto reposed in him. As in the past he said he had done what he could to advance the interest of the people, whether his course met with the approval of partizan opponents or not.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY

After touching on the work of organization, Mr. Carvell spoke briefly of the valley railway question. He told the audience several weeks ago an agreement had been drawn up between the Dominion government the provincial ministry and the Quebec & New Brunswick Railway Company—the Gould Company—under which, if the Hazen cabinet goes ahead and signs the contract made possible under it, the valley will have a high grade steam railway from Grand Falls to St. John, operated as part of the Intercolonial, the scheme which he himself has always supported.

Hon. Mr. Flemming, he said, had agreed that the provincial government would go ahead under the agreement, but had declared it necessary for them to take time to investigate the financial standing of Mr. Gould, though formerly they asserted vigorously that his standing was of the very best.

Mr. Carvell pointed out that under this agreement the Dominion government will pay one-third of the cost of a bridge at Andover, one near Fredericton and one across the Kennebecasis, as well as giving the full subsidy.

Mr. Carvell drew attention to the fact that many months ago he declared again and again on the platform and in the press that the road could not be built and operated as a part of the I. C. R. under the existing Hazen legislation, and for doing so he had been attacked bitterly. Now in the very agreement to which the local government is a party that government admits the truth of his claim and promises to introduce new legislation at the next session of the legislature to remedy the conditions of which he had complained.

If the government carries out its part of the agreement, preliminary work on the road can be started shortly and the real work of construction go on next spring.

STRONG FOR RECIPROCITY

Mr. Carvell then took up the reciprocity agreement, and the applause which greeted his remarks showed how fully the audience was in sympathy with the plan to enlarge Canada's markets. He showed that the agreement is in no sense a treaty, but a agreement which may be terminated at the pleasure of either party to it.

He took up also the absurd annexation cry raised by the Tories, now that they have deserted the policy which they supported for many years and he showed not only how utterly foolish that cry is but also that it is insulting to Canadian citizenship.

Passing on he pointed out that the agreement is practically confined to natural products, and that when it comes into force the farmers and lumbermen and fishermen of Canada will have profitable markets thrown open to them. Under this agreement the farmers, for instance, will find their markets for hay, sheep, etc., much more profitable than at present. There will be no more money available for the payment of labor and property values will increase.

In closing Mr. Carvell expressed his confidence that reciprocity will be endorsed throughout the Dominion.

At the close of Mr. Carvell's address, Coun. Kinney spoke briefly. He spoke most enthusiastically regarding reciprocity and declared that the parish of Kent will give a splendid vote for it. The convention then broke up with cheers for the king and for Mr. Carvell.

The reciprocity forces here are in splendid trim for a big campaign and the Conservatives are correspondingly depressed.

CONDITION

OF THE POPE SATISFACTORY

(Canadian Press.)

Rome, Aug. 8.—The pontiff was somewhat better this evening and the gouty pains were less severe. At noon he took some nourishment, though he remained in bed and, upon the advice of his doctors, saw no one except his secretary and his sisters. The latter have not left the bedside since the illness became more marked and insist upon preparing with their own hands whatever food is ordered for the patient. The pope's valet, Alberto Silli, was permitted to go out for the afternoon, and this was taken as an indication of a general feeling of relief at the Vatican.

CARMEN JOIN STRIKERS

Many Vessels at London Docks Cannot Discharge Cargoes

Seventy Thousand Men Said to be Involved in the Strike—Situation Becoming Very Serious

London, Aug. 8.—The carmen joined the other strikers on the London docks today, and union officials claim that 70,000 men are now affected. Work on the south side of the Thames River is at a standstill. Ships have arrived in large numbers during the last few days with full cargoes largely of consignments of goods for London houses, but there is no one to unload the vessels. Cargoes of meat in refrigerating chambers are still unspoiled, but the supplies of coal to operate the freezing plants are rapidly disappearing and the strikers will not permit the replenishment of the fuel supply. The strikers are peaceful, but ugly threats regarding the fate of non-unionists who attempt to work, are made.

Both sides are hopeful that the Board of Trade will compose the differences between the employees and the employers.

ICE SUPPLY THREATENING TO RUN SHORT

Consumption of Ice Greater than ever Before—Supply not Large Enough to Meet the Demand

The present summer has caught the ice man napping. In fact it has caught every one who stores ice napping for the usual ice-harvest gathered every winter from the river has been found insufficient to meet the demands for ice during the whole of the summer and early fall. Already dealers have notified some of their largest customers such as the hotels, that their daily supplies of ice must be curtailed. Other dealers claim that their supplies of ice will enable them to get through the season, but that they will not be able to take additional customers.

HOTELS RUNNING SHORT

The hotels which run and store their own ice have found themselves in a similar position, the small quantity of ice that would suffice for a season in some cases already being exhausted. By some arrangements are being made to bring ice from Marysville and other neighboring places where more than enough is on hand.

UNPRECEDENTED DEMAND

The demand for ice which has existed this summer is unprecedented and the result will be that next winter the quantity of ice cut will be larger than ever, and large consumers will arrange to cut and store their own ice instead of depending on the dealers.

ASQUITH THANKS BALFOUR FOR MOTION OF CENSURE

It Gave the Government the Opportunity they Needed to Explain the Grounds for Advising the King to Create New Peers—Points out that the Veto Bill has been Twice Approved by the Electors—Duty of the Crown to Carry out the Will of the People

(Canadian Press.)

London, Aug. 8.—The following is the complete text of the reply of Premier Asquith to Mr. Balfour's speech in moving a vote of censure in the House of Commons yesterday upon the government's course on the Veto Bill. He said:

"Although there was no excessive kindness in the tone of Mr. Balfour's speech, my first duty is to render him, on behalf of the government and its supporters, our most grateful acknowledgement of this opportune motion. It is the very thing we wanted, for on the one hand it gives representatives of the government an opportunity such as no discussion upon the Lord's amendments could afford to state to the country with clearness and precision the grounds for the advice tendered to the crown. On the other hand, it gives to us, the opportunity for stating with equal clearness and to emphasize whether that advice truly reflects the opinion and judgment of the chosen representatives of the people.

"Mr. Balfour has complained that I did not give him in support of what was apparently a hypothetical vote of censure, the materials in advance from which he could ascertain whether his hypothesis was well founded or not. But the only point he raised in his motion is this, whether under the circumstances in which we stand, with the Veto Bill twice approved in all its details by our chosen representatives, House of Commons by continuous and overwhelming majorities and now met in the House of Lords by so-called amendments which are really changes, fundamental in character and fatal to its purpose, whether it is not the constitutional duty of ministers of the crown to advise the crown, if the Lords refuse to give way to use its prerogative of creation in order to carry out the will of the people."

Mr. Balfour asked me when the advice to His Majesty was given. It was given in regard to the existing situation when that situation had arisen from which no other constitutional outlet was possible, was given and accepted in reference to that situation, how it arose, and what it involved, that the question must be answered whether or not the advice was warranted and justified. But when I say that the advice was tendered in view of existing circumstances it must clearly be understood that I do not mean to the least to convey that there had not been previous communications as events developed between the sovereign and his ministers on the subject. As it is

Ice is more generally used now than ever before, being more used for domestic purposes as well as by the manufacturers and dealers in ice-cream and iced drinks. The prolonged period of heat this summer, however, is the principal cause of the increased consumption of ice.

S. S. DeFOREST NEW SHERIFF

Hazen Government Names Successor to Late Sheriff Ritchie

Appointment Came as a Surprise—Were Many Applicants and Some of Them are Sore

(Special to The Mail.)

St. John, Aug. 8.—The office of High Sheriff of the city and county of St. John, vacated by the death of R. R. Ritchie, has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Stephen DeForest, agent for the London and Lancashire Fire Assurance Company. He is a son of the late Mr. George S. DeForest and was for many years in the wholesale grocery business in this city. His appointment came as a great surprise and there is much disappointment among the numerous applicants. It was generally believed that Col. George W. Jones was to get the position.

Mr. Amon A. Wilson, the well-known barrister, claims that he was promised the job. He claims to have been badly treated and will have something to say about it when the time arrives.

The Board of Trade will tender a banquet to the British journalists, who are to visit here on August 16.

AUDIENCE CHARMED BY MADAME LABADIE'S INTERPRETATION

Mme. Harriet Labadie gave a dramatic interpretation of "Gossip" an adaptation from "Il Genn Galtoto" by the famous Spanish writer Jose Echegaray. The audience which heard Mme. Labadie was smaller than it should have been for the excellence of the recital was beyond question. It is unfortunate that the fact of the city Opera House being repaired prevented that the auditorium being used as in that case the attendance undoubtedly would have been larger. The recital was under the auspices of the ministering Circle of King's Daughters.

Mme. Labadie in her interpretation of "Gossip" fulfilled every prediction that had been made for her and kept her audience in a condition of delight through the time of her recital. One critic has very properly summed up Mme. Labadie's ability as follows:

"It is probable that no one has ever before attempted just the same sort of dramatic portrayal as is so successfully done by Madame Labadie. It is the presentation or unfolding of a drama in the highest form. To describe Madame Labadie as a dramatic reader, a reader of dramas, fails hopelessly to convey in even a mild form just the character of her work. She creates for the mental eye, as vivid, as real, as consistent and as natural as though they were represented in the flesh, for the physical eye, every character in the drama. She projects the characters mentally. She is a producer of plays but instead of employing what we call actors to represent the various characters, she creates them in her mind so that they can be clearly and distinctly seen by the mind's eye of the audience."
