

ANTI-RECIPROCITY MEETING AT CROSS CREEK DESCRIBED

Big Gathering of the Faithful Assembled to Hear McLeod and Crockett Talk on Reciprocity -- Refreshments for the Hungry and Thirsty--Office Seekers Held Heart to Heart Talk with the Solicitor General.

Cross Creek, July 14.—The largely advertised meeting held here last Friday evening was a howling success. Flaming posters were stuck on every farm gate for miles around and the fine tuck-out of oysters and the dance was enough in itself to draw a crowd here. The meeting itself was no attraction. As one young lady put it: "This would be a dry affair if it were not for the dance as Crockett's speech was full of dry figures." She evidently did not share in the stimulants brought up for the occasion. Mr. O. S. Crockett and Hon. H. F. McLeod were there, as the star attractions, and both gentlemen fully sustained their reputations—one as a hot-air artist and the other as a large dispenser of wind—and that both dealt out their stock in trade in large chunks can be seen by reference to that organ of truth, The Gleaner, of Saturday last.

Mr. O. S. Crockett, who misrepresents York at Ottawa, was the first speaker and his buncombe against reciprocity was the same as he has been handing out in other places, as it is the speech sent him from anti-reciprocity headquarters and for delivering which he is well paid.

He started out and told us what fine people we were and how smart we were and everything, then with the next breath he told us that reciprocity would be no benefit to us and we could not grow hay fit for the American market or, in fact, grow anything suitable to ship across the line. Any sane man knows we grow here hay of the finest quality and in fact we can compete with any country in New Brunswick in everything suitable off the farm. Nevertheless, the statement was received by Ossie's supporters with great applause, which shows how intelligently reciprocity is regarded here by the Conservatives.

Hon. Mr. McLeod was the next speaker and his harangue on loyalty was the greatest piece of rot heard here for some time and was greatly enjoyed by the little boys who expect to join the gallant Colonel's regiment in case of trouble. He started out by apologizing for not coming to see them during the last bye-election but stated that he had been sent up river to keep Maxwell from making any rash statements. Here some one in the audience remarked that perhaps the babies were easier to kiss up river and the gallant colonel was put off his equilibrium for a moment. He then went on to show how the English and Scotch had done so much to plant the seed of loyalty here in Cross Creek and vicinity, never mentioning the Irish of course which omission was resented after the meeting by his Irish supporters, prominent among them P.M. Sullivan and Edward Fox, and Harry promised to make amends to them through his Lieutenant the Regent street landlord.

The specialties between the acts were of the highest order and Ed. Fox's Solo the "Boyne Waters" brought down the house. Mr. Hubbard the secretary of agriculture who was to have given a lecture on the weeding of obnoxious weeds, was not present and his place was taken by Game Warden John Hurley who used his whiskers as illustrations.

A fellow named Spencer from Bloomfield gave a recitation on "Borden and the West".

Dr. Mullin read a paper on "How I am to get John Young's seat in the legislature" which was pronounced the gem of the evening.

The office seekers were present and held a consultation with Crockett and McLeod after the meeting. Andy Humble urged for the superannuation of Sheriff Howe as he was getting quite feeble and there was no picking in his present job. Joseph Thorburn chairman and president of the club claimed that he was the means of bringing together the large crowd and that he had lost as much as three weeks looking up the faithful to attend. The only recompense he wanted was for the government to enact some law to put the government out of office and he would, if appointed be quite willing to sign the Valley Road bonds in return for same. Biggs wanted them to hunt up a better market for axes. Howard Douglas wanted a better market for potatoes as he has two hundred barrels planted he would not care to sell them to the Yankees and be disloyal. The pow wow over, the Colonel strolled away the crowd making inquiries as to who had the audacity to accuse him of kissing the babies.

Taking everything into consideration it was a great time, the oysters were first class considering they were free, the stimulants of the choicest brand judging from the noise far into the morning. The cigars were scarce and only reached the favored few on the platform.

WOULD VERY OFTEN FAINT AWAY

Doctor Said That Sometime He Would Never Come Out of One.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, overwork, or confinement in an overheated or overcrowded room or public building makes them feel faint or dizzy.

If you neglect the warning the slight feeling of dizziness gives you, and fail to take treatment, there will be a gradual progression to something more serious.

There is no reason you should wait till your case becomes desperate before you avail yourself of a perfect cure by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mr. F. S. Chute, Wheatley, Ont., writes: "It is with gratitude I tell how your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills benefited me. I was very weak and run down, and had headaches nearly every day and would very often faint away."

"In fact, my doctor said that sometime I would never come out of one of them. After taking three boxes of your pills I am glad to relate that it has been a number of years since I have had a fainting spell and scarcely have had a headache. Too much cannot be said in praise of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for in me they have effected a perfect cure."

MR. ROBT MEIGHAN A LOSS TO CANADA

(Montreal Witness)

The sudden death of Mr. Robert Meighan will shock the whole business community, in which he was a unique figure. Full of fervor for his years, filled with fine enthusiasms, thinking nothing base, loving his fellowmen and fearing God, he was truly one of nature's noblemen, and those who knew him best admired and loved him most. He was a true patriotic imperialist, a lover of his country and the empire to which he belonged, in the best and truest sense without a thought of selfishness or any but the noblest intentions, and he will be missed in this community as few men will be missed. Many will feel a pang at the heart when they hear of Mr. Meighan's sudden passing, for his friendships were many, and they were sweet and whole some and friendships to prize and cherish. The pang of pain will be the greater because there are so many things that Mr. Meighan was able to do and willing to do, yes, eager to do. He himself always looked forward to more and more mental and spiritual enlargement, more and more human usefulness. He occupied indeed, a space among his friends and acquaintances, and in this country, and in the United Kingdom, of so diverse and beneficent a character that the blank of his going is vast, and there is no one that could fill his place. One thing that Mr. Meighan looked forward to with peculiarly happy anticipations was the King Edward Memorial. When the Witness first suggested this, some were inclined to regard it coolly, but Mr. Meighan took it up with the inspiring spirit which characterized him when any good and great thing was to be done, and when the King Edward statue is built some recognition must be given to the part Robert Meighan played in its initiation and its progress towards fulfillment. Under the stress of this sorrow, of this irreparable loss, words are difficult to choose, but those who are nearest and dearest to him who has left us, have the consolation of his honorable name and the love that many bore him. And at the close of such a life, if it be bravely regarded, and after the first shock of natural grief, may those who knew his inmost heart not rightly say with Milton:

Or knock the breast, no weakness, no wail,
Or knock the breast no weakness, no contempt,
Dispraise or blame, nothing but well and fair
And what may quiet us in a death so noble.

This will bring to an end a contest which has lasted two months and which has attracted wide attention. Mrs. Bull's legal residence was in this county, although she lived for a great part of her life in Cambridge, Mass. The will hearing brought out tales of the strange practices of Raja Yoga, a Hindu philosophy, whose devotees believed themselves to be elevated to the plane of the gods. The exact terms of the agreement have not been made public, but it is known that Mrs. Ole Bull Vaughan, Mrs. Bull's daughter and the contestant of the will, is left as the sole legatee and as administrator and trustee of her mother's estate.

MR. DAVID R. FORGAN ON SCOTTISH HUMOR

David R. Forgan, the Chicago banker, has a dry Scotch humor. Speaking of the dangers of being buffed up by sudden honors, Mr. Forgan told this story of Simpson, the great Scotch physician: "Dr. Simpson had been absent from his class for some time, and on his return he announced that a great professional honor had been conferred upon him," said Mr. Forgan. "I am very happy to inform you, young gentlemen, that a very great honor has come to me since last we met here," said Professor Simpson, his face beaming with honest pride. "I have just received notification that I have been appointed physician-in-ordinary to her Majesty, Queen Victoria."

"The great discoverer of chloroform looked over his glasses as if he expected his class to be quite taken away by the great news. Instead, he was shocked to hear those Scotch boys burst into the National Anthem, 'God Save the Queen.'"

"And still they say the Scotch have no sense of humor," added Mr. Forgan.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you one of the thousands of Canadian farmers who have used or intend using Canada Cement for the construction of some farm utility? If you contemplate building anything whatsoever of concrete, make up your mind right now to build it with a view to winning one of the prizes we are offering. Read the rest of this announcement and you will learn how you may try for a share in the $3,600 we are giving away, to encourage the use of cement upon the farm. Throughout Canada the farmers have taken such a keen interest in our campaign that it has inspired us to go further along these educational lines. We have decided, therefore, to offer a series of four $100.00 prizes to each of the nine Provinces, to be awarded as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of bags of "CANADA" Cement for actual work done on his farm.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with a photograph showing best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

In this contest no farmer should refrain from competing, because of any feeling that he may have little chance against his neighbor who he thinks might use more cement than he does.

For it will be noted that Prizes "C" and "D" have no bearing whatever on quantity of cement used. The man who sends us the best photograph of so small a thing as a watering trough or a hitching post, has as much chance for Prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house built of cement—and the same with Prize "D" as to best description.

Canada Cement is handled by dealers in almost every town in Canada. Should there not happen to be a dealer in your locality, let us know and we will try to appoint one.

Contest will close on November 15th, 1911, and all photos and descriptions must be in our office by that date. Awards will be made as soon as possible thereafter. The jury of award will consist of: Prof. Peter Gillespie, Lecturer in Theory of Construction, University of Toronto; W. H. Day, Professor of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and Ivan S. Macdonald, Editor of "Construction."

Now, you cannot hope to do concrete work to the best advantage unless you have a copy of our free book, entitled, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." This book tells how to construct well-nigh anything on the farm, from hitching post to silo. Whether you enter the contest or not, you'll find this book most helpful. A post-card asking for the book will bring it to you promptly. Send for your copy tonight. From your cement dealer or from us, you can obtain a folder containing full particulars of contest. If you send to us for it, use the coupon provided in this announcement.

Please send me full particulars of Prize Contest. Also a copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete."
