BOSTON NATIONALS TRADE "DOC" MILLER FOR JOHN TITUS

Latter has Reputation as Batter and Fielder--Miller Slumped Badly in Batting Lately

(Boston Globe.)

The Boston National League Club has traded Roy ("Doc") Miller, the hard-hitting out-fielder, to the Philadelphia National League club for John Titus, the Quaker out-fielder. According to the information given out in regard to the trade, it was made for man, and no money consideration or other players entered into the transaction.

Miller said last night that while he had been officially informed as to the exchange, he did not care to say anything in regard to it until he had talked with Pres. Ward, which he is doing this morning.

Miller said that he had not been feeling well this season and that both his batting and fielding had fallen off in consequence. He has recently been given a chance to lay off for a few days, and on Thursday, when he re-entered the game, in five times at bat he made four hits, including a double and a home run. Yesterday he negotiated two fine singles off Marquard in four times up.

The doctor said that he liked playing in Boston as well as he could possibly like playing in any other city. It was apparent that he had no objection to going to Philadelphia. It was apparent, also, that he was not particular whether he played baseball any longer or not.

John Ward said, when announcing the consummation of the deal, that personally he was sorry to see Miller leave Boston, but that he had deferred to the judgment of Johnny Kling who seemed to think the exchange would be a good one.

There are fans who have followed baseball closely for years in Boston who do not agree that the Boston club has gotten in exchange so good a player as it is letting go.

Owing to his not feeling in first-class shape, Miller certainly has not done himself justice, either in hitting or in fielding, this season so far. All last season he was one of the leading batsmen of the National League, but his average so far this season is somewhere around .240. He is sure to improve this figure, however, when he is going right.

Titus, who comes to Boston in his place, last week was batting at an average of .278. He is a veteran, and an excellent fielder as well as a fine batsman.

CAME TO PHILLIES IN 1904.

Philadelphia, June 21--John "Silent" Titus has been traded to Boston for "Doc" Miller. Titus first came to the Phillies in 1904 from Pottsville, Penn. It took him three years before he could club his way to a permanent position on the club. He first gained fan recognition under Billy Murray, who did more to develop his abilities than any other manager.

Always a hard hitter, he has won many a game for the Phillies by timely drives, and when taught how to play the sun field of the Quakers he developed into such a superb fielder that few out-fielders have shown a better advantage in the games here.

As a hitter and fielder Titus ranks with the best in the National League but he is slow on the bases.

Titus is a St. Clair, Penn., boy and at one time was one of the best basketball players of the local regions.

STOBIE SIGNS WITH ATHLETICS

Boston, June 22--George Stobie, the University of Maine pitcher, who has been sought by several major league clubs, including the Athletics, signed a contract yesterday with the Boston Americans and will report to the Red Sox June 28, when the team returns to this city.

Stobie hails from Waterville and is a right-hand twirler. He is six feet 3 inches in height. He is said to have wonderful curves and speed and should round into a valuable mound artist for the Red Sox.

WOODSTOCK TRIMMED DECISIVELY BY MARATHONS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Errors by Woodstock Lost them the Game--Sweet Pitched Great Ball for Greeks--Marathons here today for Game--Dinsmore to Pitch for Locals

N. B. & MAINE LEAGUE
	Won	Lost	P.C.
Fredrickton	7	3	.700
Houlton	7	3	.700
Woodstock	6	6	.500
St. John	4	12	.250

(St. John Telegraph)

The Marathons turned the tables on the Woodstock men Saturday afternoon and defeated them by a score of 8 to 3. The visitors were away off in their play, and Wade and Whitmarsh, who attempted to pitch were given very poor support. Wade pitched four innings and then took Whitmarsh's place at short and Whitmarsh went on the mound. Wade was clearly out of position in the short field and had four errors, while the local team had three.

Although Woodstock had batted two of the local pitchers out of the box on Friday, they could do nothing with Sweet on Saturday, excepting when he eased down. Dutton, the new man from Saranac, covered first for the Greeks, and accepted all chances but one.

There was little interest in the game, although the home team played good ball and had the game on ice from the first inning.

Five Woodstock men faced Sweet in the first session, but they could not get a man across. Far the Marathons, Williams was out on a fly. Winter walked and got safely to third. Dutton fled out and Fryer was hit by pitcher. Pinkerton came up with a single and Winter scored.

Connolly stopped proceedings with a grounder to Corcoran.

Both teams went along safely to the fourth when the Greeks captured two more runs. Connolly was walked and Riley's sacrifice sent him to second. McGovern hit and Connolly crossed the pan. Sweet hit and McGovern went to third, while Dweet was safe at second. Perley failed to handle Williams' bingle and Sweet scored. Williams stole second and went to third on Winter's out, and scored when Wade tossed one over Tyler's head. Dutton fled out to Black.

In the fifth Sweet eased up and the visitors made two runs after Whitmarsh and Wade has struck out. The Marathons added another in the fifth and were satisfied when two more came over in the seventh. Woodstock added one in the eighth, but Sweet held them safe in the last session.

The Woodstock players evidently had an off day, and the pitchers were not wholly to blame.

SHAKEUP MADE IN MONTREAL TEAM BY LICHTENHEIN

Bransfield of Chicago Cubs to be Tried at First Base--Averette and Becker let go

Montreal, June 21--That he had secured a new first baseman and was letting Averette and Becker go, was the sum and substance of the news President S. E. Lichtenhein, of the Montreal Ball Club, gave out this morning when he returned from a little jaunt on baseball business that has kept him away from Montreal the greater part of the week.

"Kitty" Bransfield, of the Chicago Cubs, is the latest man with whom the Royals will try to fill the vacancy at first base "caused by Gandil's departure. He will probably report to the team at Baltimore tomorrow. What will become of Keliher if the new man makes good is not known as yet.

Averette has been let go to Hartford, and Beck goes back to Washington. While Mr. Lichtenhein would not state what he gets in return for Becker, the agreement made at the time of the exchange of the four players for Gandil provided for this. If at any time the Montreal Club wanted to return any of the men they were to get $2,000 for him. Apparently the M. B. C. treasury is, therefore, richer by $2,000.

HOULTON PAPER EXPLAINS TROUBLE

(Houlton Pioneer)

The St. John Standard in their game at Woodstock, Tuesday, misreported of the Houlton-Woodstock presented the truth of the affair.

The trouble was caused wholly by Duffy who repeatedly rendered the most unfair decisions imaginable against Houlton. This point is substantiated by Woodstock players and a majority of the spectators.

Neptune, who was making the plays calling for the decision as the last resort "lost his head" and shook the "ump". He did not "grab him by the throat" as the Standard says or did he "inflict any bodily harm." This was all. Woodstock and Houlton players did not participate. A small percentage of the Woodstock fans did join in, contrary to the spirit of good and clean sport. The trouble was with this class for if ever rowdism was shown, it was demonstrated by those spectators who rushed to the field.

Both Houlton and Woodstock players are a gentlemanly lot of ball tossers, ever mindful of the motto "Fair play and may the best team win."
