Woodstock Was Shut Out By Locals in Great Game

TODAY'S GAMES.
At St. John—Fredricton vs. St. John's.
At Woodstock—Calais vs. Woodstock.

The locals came back yesterday and they came back hard. Woodstock was the party that suffered for that able aggregation of ball-tossers was at the short end of a 4 to 0 score when the agony was ended. In fact not to conceal our meaning from any one it can be stated right here and now that Woodstock with Messrs. Allen, Keane, and other brilliant luminaries in the firmament of baseball were shut out, had the whitewash smeared on them, had conferred on them the order of the horseshoe. Big Bill Duval was the box performer for the locals during the time the said pleasing process was being performed. Big Bill twirled to such a degree of accuracy that only three Woodstock men reached first by the hit route. It was extremely classy heaving and those who saw it at once proceeded to forget that Will at a date not so very far in the past left the field when things were not going to his liking. That is now all past and gone. The team won a corking game and took a good firm grip on second position in the N. B. & Maine League. With the locals playing in that style there is no team on the circuit that has anything on it.

CLASSY FIELDING
Fredricton only had two errors. Perfection can hardly be expected and they were excusable. Tom Howe who never played a better game in his career made one of them when he stopped a hard drive from Talbot's bat and made a mess of the throw to first. Sullivan was guilty of the other. In the first inning Keane put an easy fly out to centre-field and Sullivan through overconfidence or for some similar cause dropped the ball. His error as a matter of fact let Woodstock get as near scoring as as they ever were during the game as Welder went from first to third on it and Keane reached second. After that only two Woodstock men got as far as second. Sullivan's error put Big Bill in a hole but he pulled out in great style the next two batters putting up flies that were easily attended to.

CONSTANT KICKING
Constant kicking was the prominent feature and as Woodstock was the losing team the howl came from that quarter. The visitors kicked at about everything in the way of a close decision that was handed out. Keane was the big noise in the kicking line. In the sixth stanza Umpire Staples called him out on strikes and the Woodstock shortstop threw his bat down real hard, placed his hand on the umpire's manly bosom, which fortunately happened to be shielded from harm by a protector and pushed him away from plate. He then delivered a short lecture on the subject, "When is a Strike not a Strike and Why?" Appropriate gestures were used during the performance. The grandstand yelled for Keane to be taken out of the game but the offending Woodstock man was allowed to get away with it.

ERRORS WERE NOT COSTLY

Woodstock had errors to supply a couple of games but they figured directly in only one run. The three made by the locals in the first inning were all batted in. In the seventh—good old lucky seventh—Larry Conley drove a sizzler at Wessinger who let it get away from him, and Bill Siney trotted over the pan. In the eighth it looked almost as if the whole of the visiting team was going on a short excursion by the airship route. Keane who had been putting up a star game at shortstop dropped Bob Conley's easy fly. Howe sacrificed him to second. Charlie Allen not to be outdone by Keane made a mess of Sullivan's little pop foul. Sullivan then hit to Wessinger who pulled off a stunt that made him eligible for the solid-ivory headpiece class making a throw to second to catch Bob Conley which did not go near the man for whom he was intended. Conley reached third on the play. It looked like more runs for Fredricton but Urquhart who pitched a game that marked him as a twirler of class struck Murray out and made Duval hit to the outfield retiring the side. In the ninth Mayo hit safely to left field and reached second on the throw. He died there. P. J. Duggan gathering in Mr. Paquette's little fly and Mr. Wessinger's usually petite grounder and leaving Woodstock nothing but a row of ciphers.

The box-score follows:—

HEARD IN THE STAND

Woodstock has a nice looking uniform. Steps should be taken to put the Fredricton team in suits that bear some similarity to one another. Some play that, when Big Bill hustled over to first and put Wessinger out on Pat Duggan's assist. The crowd didn't think it of Bill and could hardly realize it for a while.

Tom Howe came back hard, two hits in three times at bat, one put out, two assists and a sacrifice hit. George Finnemore has been traded to St. Stephen for Bob Fredette. Many local fans will regret to see George one of the few local men left in the squad leave home. The Players' Committee thinks the trade is for the best however and the club is getting a good player in exchange.

The anvil chorus was not very audible yesterday the team playing so that the hammer-wielders did not get a chance.

There was some talk of Woodstock protesting the game on the ground that an improper decision was given on the bases by Umpire Roberts. The fans could not see what chance Woodstock would have of getting such a protest through.

That Woodstock battery looked good. In the sixth Mayo made a great catch of Howe's foul falling almost into the Woodstock bench as he caught the ball.

Woodstock should stop that kicking. It gets tiresome.

It was a good move to keep players and everyone else off the field. It would have been better if when the trouble occurred between Keane and Umpire Staples those in the grandstand had stayed there and not gone on the field.

Talbot brought the crowd to its feet in the seventh with a great one handed catch. Sullivan Fredricton's centre-fielder had three put-outs that made up for his error in the first inning.

The local team went to St. John today. Tiff is expected to pitch against the St. John's this afternoon.

Some game Thursday when Calais and Fredricton play here.

Keane certainly got his from the fans when he dropped an easy fly in the eighth.

Joe Farrell wants to play with St. Stephen. Fredricton will give him an unconditional release only on a cash basis.

MARATHONS GET ANOTHER PITCHER

St. John, July 11.—An important deal has just been pulled off by the management of the Marathons, by which they secure Pitcher Al Sweet of the Chicago White Sox, who will be here today and will be seen in a Marathon uniform for the remainder of the season. Sweet was originally secured by Joe Page from Owner Cumiskey, of the Chicago team, but the pitchers already on the staff of the St. John's have shown such improvement that Page decided he could set along without Sweet. Manager Donald of the Marathons, was quick to seize the opportunity and at once purchased Sweet's contract from the St. John's. With the arrival of Sweet the Marathons will have by all odds the classiest pitching staff in the league. Winter, Sweet, Tarbell, Upham and Nesbitt make a pretty formidable aggregation for opposing batsmen to face. The Greeks are determined to land at the top of the league, and their defeat by the St. John's on Saturday showed them that there is still room for improvement. Upham worked out in practice yesterday morning and made a favorable impression on those who saw him at it.
