POLICEMAN HARTT KNOWS NOTHING OF GUNTER'S PRESENT

Ald. Hooper Says He Can Prove by Witnesses That Hartt Stated That Gunter Said He was Given a Silver-Service--R. B. Hanson Appears as Counsel for Ald. Hooper.

The City Council Chamber was crowded with spectators Saturday night when the investigation of the charges against Special Policeman A. D. Gunter was continued. The spectators showed a keen interest in what transpired, one even going so far as to tell Mr. J. D. Phinney, K. C. Gunter's counsel, to sit down when he arose to make an objection.

The remark caused the counsel to make a few pointed remarks and Ald. Clark to warn the spectators that there were police present, and that further interruptions would mean action on their part.

A feature of the session was the appearance of Mr. R. B. Hanson as counsel for Ald. Hooper, who made the charges. Mr. Hanson had a few brushes with Mr. Phinney, but acted as an advisor to Ald. Hooper, the alderman continuing to conduct the examination of witnesses.

The witnesses examined were Policeman Dell Hartt and Mr. M. Tennant. No very startling evidence was brought out. Ald. Hooper stated that he could bring reputable witnesses to prove that on the night of December 27th Policeman Hartt stated in R. T. Mack's drug-store that Gunter had said he had received a silver-service as a present from a certain mail-order house. His case, he said, was based on that. The evidence of Policeman Hartt, however, was to the effect that he had never heard Gunter make such a remark, but that he had heard other policemen talking the matter over.

WITNESSES TO BE CALLED.

Ald. Hooper announced that he wanted the following witnesses called, Policeman William Sturgeon, Policeman Hedley Boulter, Mr. George W. Hoyle, Mayor Thomas, Mr. Samuel Owen, Ex-Ald. D. E. Crowe, Ex-Ald. C. Kelly and Mr. H. S. Campbell. The commission adjourned at 10.15 to resume the investigation at eight o'clock Tuesday night.

Ald. Hooper made objection to the comments of the commissioners as a hearing in the stenographer's report but had heard the matter talked over.

The request was refused.

POLICEMAN HARTT

Policeman Dell Hartt was the first witness. He said he had joined the police force on October 1st, 1910. He knew Policeman Gunter. He had never discussed mail-order business with Gunter but had heard him speak of a certain Ontario mail-order house and discuss its catalogue. Policemen Boulter and Sturgeon were present at the time. Gunter was talking about the catalogue and said that he had heard the policemen discuss the matter of such a present to Gunter several times. He had never heard Gunter say he had received such a present.

Mr. Phinney objected to the form of one of Ald. Hooper's questions. Mr. Hanson in reply said that hearsay evidence and leading questions had been allowed at previous sessions.

Ald. Clark said that it was the intention of the commissioners to admit any evidence on the subject of investigation, however, there was no desire on the part of the commission to waste time.

"PIMPLES"

Broke Out All Over Her Face

Pimples are caused, almost entirely by bad blood and there is only one way to get rid of them and that is to get at the seat of the trouble by using a good reliable blood purifying medicine.

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for 35 years, and is one of the very best blood medicines procurable. After using it you will find that the pimples have disappeared, and you will have a beautiful clear complexion.

Mrs. Robert McNab, Badjeros, Ont. writes:—"I am greatly pleased to report the benefit I have received from the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. About a year ago I became so weak and run down I could scarcely walk, and pimples broke out all over my face. I tried one thing after another but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was advised by a friend to try B. B. B., and before I had used one bottle I felt it was doing me good so I used three bottles and I am now well and strong, and the pimples have all disappeared."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. Phinney said that he would prefer that Ald. Hooper's counsel to conduct the examination. He knew how to conduct it.

Mr. Phinney rose to continue his objection. Someone among the spectators said, "Sit Down."

Mr. Phinney asked that order be preserved. Mr. Hanson remarked that Mr. Phinney had no right to take charge of the court.

Ald. Clark warned the spectators to refrain from remarks stating that policemen were present to preserve order.

Continuing witness said he could not say that Gunter was talking to Sturgeon about bargains to be obtained from the mail-order house. He never tried to persuade witness or members of his family to buy goods from this house. Witness had heard discussion in the police-station concerning the price of articles. Gunter had told of buying gloves and rubbers from a mail-order house and comparing the price with those that prevailed in Fredericton. Witness examined gloves which had cost one dollar and had said he could buy gloves as cheaply in Fredericton. Witness also discussed price of rubbers with Gunter and had offered to make a little wager with him that he could buy gloves as cheaply in the city. Gunter had once before said something to witness about cheapness of mail-order goods. Witness had replied that he did not believe in patronizing those houses.

Witness had never heard Gunter say that he had received any present from a mail-order house nor had he ever said that Gunter had said so.

CROSS EXAMINATION

To Mr. Phinney—Witness had seen a mail-order catalogue in the police station on only one occasion. He had found he could buy gloves in Fredericton as cheaply as could Gunter from the mail-order house. Witness had never heard Gunter say that he had received a silver service as a present from the mail-order house but had heard the matter talked over.

To Ald. Clark—Witness in R. T. Mack's drug store on December 26th did not say that Gunter had said he had received such a present. He had said that he had heard the policemen discuss the matter of such a present to Gunter several times. He had never heard Gunter say he had received such a present.

M. TENNANT

Mr. M. Tennant, dry-goods merchant, was sworn and said that merchants of the city had discussed the importations of goods from mail-order houses. He had heard that Gunter had bought goods from a mail-order house. He did not think that a city official should send money out of the city.

He did not know of any class of men being behind the investigation.

To Mr. Phinney—Witness was not concerned in the investigation.

Ald. Hooper called Policeman Sturgeon but that witness was on duty and adjournment was then made.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 6.—By good behaviour in the federal prison here, Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor, convicted in the noted Savannah Harbor Contract fraud, have cut their four years' sentence down to three years and one month. They have only one more month to serve.

Minneapolis, Jan. 6.—An explosion today wrecked the east side power plant of the Minneapolis General Electric Company. Two men were seriously injured. The city is left temporarily without electric current.

Lyons, France, Jan. 6.—The Archbishop of Lyons today issued a diocesan decree, forbidding Catholics reading four Republican newspapers published in the diocese, and declaring the reading of the papers a sin.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 6.—Two armed bandits entered a Superior-Duluth car near the interstate bridge, Duluth, at an early hour this morning, and held up the passengers and crew. Policeman Chessmore, on his way to work, boarded the car, not knowing the bandits were at work, and he was shot and instantly killed. The robbers escaped, but are being pursued by men in automobiles.

Mr. Orland Kitchen will leave for Acadia this evening after spending the holidays at his home here.

Mr. J. Bacon Dixon returned to Halifax today to resume his studies at the Dalhousie Law School.

Mr. Hubert Osborne left this morning to resume his studies at Sackville Academy.

AUTHORITIES STILL AFTER GLOVER'S MURDERER

Boston, Jan. 7.—While Hattie LeBlanc, acquitted of the murder of Clarence F. Glover, of Waltham, is happily recuperating at her girlhood home in West Arichat, Cape Breton, the four brothers of the slain man are on the trail here of new evidence which, they say, will lead to the conviction of the real murderer.

This week they may round up this new evidence. But they will not make a move until they are sure of their ground.

Attorney-General Malone is actively interested in the new efforts to clear up the Glover mystery. He has shown that he is prepared to act upon any suggestions which will help to unravel the case.

Meanwhile Waltham citizens are signing petitions for a further investigation into the death of Glover. There are at least six petitions to that effect in circulation, and the signatures are limited to real estate holders. The fear has been expressed in Waltham that the authorities may not make a further investigation into the case now that Hattie LeBlanc has been acquitted.

So far as known, District Attorney Higgins, who conducted the prosecution of Hattie LeBlanc, has done nothing in the way of investigating the murder since the trial of the LeBlanc girl ended. He refuses absolutely to discuss the matter and contents himself with saying:

"I have done my duty to the best of my ability. I will accept the full responsibility."

The State police are waiting word from the District Attorney to go ahead with an investigation, but he has not yet issued the order. The Waltham police have apparently lost all interest in the case and Chief McKenna has stated that he fails to see what could be gained by further investigation. Waltham citizens are sharply criticizing the police officials for their apparently "don't care" attitude in the case.

Arthur Glover, in speaking of the case, said:

"I and my brothers, Albert and Norman, have by no means given up hope of bringing the murderer of Clarence to justice. We have new evidence and are working on new clues. Just how material some of the evidence may be I do not wish to discuss at this time; it might injure the chances for future developments."

"But within a week we may receive very valuable evidence. Again, it may not be possible for us to arrange and get together all the new evidence upon which we plan, for some time to come."

"Judge Boni's lucid suggestions in this case have aided us. We feel that we do not wish to make any mistake in opening up a new charge in this case. We want to be sure before we make any move toward obtaining any new indictments. We may have enough evidence now to make us feel sure that we have reasonable cause to expect the conviction of the person we believe committed the crime. But we will not make a decided move until we have a sure case—until we have evidence which several lawyers tell us is sure to convict. Once a person is acquitted for a crime he can never be again tried."

"I can assure you that efforts are being made for us along the line of obtaining new evidence. Just how soon the needed evidence will come into our possession is by no means certain. We feel that sooner or later justice is bound to prevail and that the person whom we feel in our hearts caused the death of our brother, will be punished by a court of the Commonwealth."
