Monument to Laura Secord Unveiled Yesterday at Niagara Falls

Over Four Thousand People Attended Ceremony in Honor of Heroine of War of 1812.

(Canadian Press.)
Niagara Falls, Ont., July 6.—With the rays of a torrid sun pouring down 4,000 people yesterday again gathered around the monument erected by the Dominion government to Laura Ingersoll Secord, heroine of the war of 1812.
Of this number 2,000 were from Toronto. The girl guides of St. Catharines, 100 in number, attended in a body. Chief Justice Moss, in presenting the monument to the Park commission, related the story of Laura Secord's trip from Queens-town through the woods to Beaver Dams, where she told Colonel FitzGibbons that the Americans had crossed the river in great numbers and were marching towards him. By her act Colonel FitzGibbons was able to capture the whole American force. He also told how she had saved her husband's life.
The inscription on the monument reads:
"This monument has been erected by the government of Canada to Laura Ingersoll Secord, who saved her husband's life in the battle on these heights October 13th, 1812, and who risked her own in conveying to Colonel FitzGibbons information by which he won the victory of Beaver Dams, July 24th, 1814."

DUBLIN ON THE QUI VIVE FOR THE ROYAL VISIT

King and Queen Will Arrive in Ireland on Saturday Morning on a Five Days Visit—Official Arrangements Will Keep Them Busy Until Their Departure—Will be Quartered at Dublin Castle—Queen to Receive an Address From the Women of Ireland.

Dublin, July 6.—All Dublin, and in truth, all Ireland, is on the qui vive in anticipation of the coming of the King and Queen. Crowds are pouring in from all points and it is estimated that the normal population of Dublin, about 350,000, will have swollen to 1,000,000 by Saturday, the day on which Their Majesties will make their entry into the city.
The royal visit to Dublin will extend over four days. The official arrangements are calculated to keep Their Majesties busy almost from the hour of their arrival until their departure. The date of departure, by the way, falls on July 12, the day the Ulster Orangemen hold their great annual celebration. Some of the leaders among the Orangemen have not been slow to take offense at the King departing from the country on that anniversary, and have petitioned him, instead, to visit Ulster's capital, Belfast. As all the arrangements for the royal visit were concluded months ago, however, it was impossible to make any change in the itinerary. Furthermore, it would not be at all expedient for the King to visit Belfast on Orangemen's day as it would almost surely provoke rioting between the Orangemen and the Nationalists.
Their Majesties are expected to arrive at Kingstown on the royal yacht Viceroy's residential apartments. During the morning. They will land at the Victoria wharf at about 10.30, and will be received by the Lord Lieutenant and Countess of Aberdeen. At the Dublin city limits they will be met by the Lord Mayor and council in their scarlet robes, and mace bearers in uniforms of blue and silver. Soldiers will line the road as a guard of honor, while behind them will be cordons of police, lancers and militia.
On their arrival at Dublin Castle, the King and Queen will be received by the Lord Lieutenant bearing the sword of state. The apartments which Their Majesties will occupy at the castle have been completely refurnished and redecorated for the royal visit. A new and much-needed supper room has been built at the back of the state apartments. The additions and alterations have allowed a room with a beautifully decorated ceiling, which hitherto was not available, to be added to the Viceroy's residential apartments. During the royal visit it will be utilized as a small dining room.
On the afternoon of their arrival Their Majesties will leave the castle and proceed to the Royal College of Science for the opening ceremony. Afterward they will be escorted to Trinity College, where an address will be read, to which His Majesty will make a reply.
Leaving Trinity College, the King and Queen will go to the Phoenix Park race-course, and will drive thence to the Viceroy's Lodge. The first day of their visit in Dublin will conclude with a state banquet at the castle, for which invitations have been issued to several hundreds of the officials and best-known residents of the Irish capital.
A full program has been prepared for Sunday, beginning with the attendance of the King and Queen and their suite at the service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, followed by a visit to the Artane Industrial School. Later in the day Their Majesties will inspect the pensioners and girls of the Drummond Institute at the Royal Hospital.
A visit to the famous Leopardstown race-course and a state banquet at the castle will be the chief events of Monday. During the day His Majesty will hold a levee as the castle. The Queen is expected to find time to receive an address from the women of Ireland and also to pay a brief visit to Coombe Hospital.
Tuesday the King will inspect the Royal Irish Constabulary at the Viceroy's Lodge, and will also attend a review of the troops and the presentation of colors in Phoenix Park. In the afternoon there will be a garden party at the Viceroy's Lodge, and in the evening a court will be held at Dublin Castle.
Wednesday afternoon Their Majesties will leave Dublin from Westland Row station. On arriving at Kingstown they will depart for home on the Victoria and Albert. On their way, to England Their Majesties will make a three days' stop in Wales for the investiture of the Prince of Wales at Carnarvon Castle, which event will take place on the day following the departure from Dublin.

PEERS WILL BACK DOWN

London Correspondent Thinks Asquith Will Bring Them to Time

Lansdowne's Amendment to the Veto Bill Was Carried by a Large Majority.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, July 6.—Anent the vote in the House of Lords last night on Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the veto bill, which was cleverly framed with the object of compelling the government to submit its home rule scheme when elaborated to the judgment of the electorate and which was carried by 153 votes against 46, the London correspondent says the peers who voted in the government lobby were mainly Lords created in the last eighteen months, namely since the Asquith regime began. Sturdy old-fashioned radicals like Lord Wearsall a scion of the house of Stanhope, and Lord Courtney, the one time chairman of the committee of the House of Lords, sat on the steps of the throne and abstained from taking part in the division. The only crumb of comfort which the government had was the support of the Tory Bishop of Birmingham, the Bishop of Ripon, in the closing hours of the debate saying he disliked the referendum which was advocated by Lord Lansdowne, but preferred it to the veto bill. The adroitly moved amendment provided that no bill affecting the existence of the crown or protestant succession or the establishment of a national parliament or body with legislative power in any portion of the kingdom, or which in the judgment of a joint committee of the two houses, raises an issue of great gravity, shall receive the royal consent until it has been submitted to the referendum. When the Commons are called upon to consider the Lords' amendment measure, Asquith will move that they be rejected en bloc and it is understood he will at the same time state the advice he is prepared to give the King in the event of the Lords continuing to press the issue.
The Lords want to force Mr. Asquith to say he has received guarantees. Then rather than see the peerage "watered," it is believed they will surrender under a plea of loyalty. Neither party is prepared for another general election.

P. J. O'ROURKE AND MISS SARA H. LINDSAY QUIETLY MARRIED

Mr. Patrick J. O'Rourke, local manager for the Western Union Telegraph Company, sprang a surprise on his many friends in the city and province last evening when he was quietly married to Miss Sara H. Lindsay, of St. John. The wedding took place at Christchurch Parish Church, where the ceremony was performed at nine o'clock by Rev. Canon J. R. deWolf Cowie. Mrs. Harry M. Blair was matron of honor and the bride was given in marriage by Mr. Harry M. Blair. The bride's wedding gown was of cream satin with gold lace. She wore a black picture hat. Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke will leave on a wedding tour, which will include Montreal, Toronto and Niagara Falls, as soon as the relieving manager arrives to take charge of the local Western Union Office. Mr. J. R. Burns of Montreal, will be the relieving manager and will probably arrive next week.
The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsay, of North End, St. John, and has been employed for some years past as stenographer in the head office of the Bank of New Brunswick. The happy couple will make their home on Charlotte street, west. At present they are at the Barker House.
After the ceremony last night the bride and groom repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Blair, St. Mary's, where a delightful wedding supper was served.
Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Whitehead returned last evening from a pleasant trip to Prince Edward Island.
Mr. J. S. Eagles and wife of St. John are at the Barker House.

FIVE HUNDRED DEATHS CAUSED BY HEAT WAVE

Torrid Wave Has Claimed Victims all Over the Country and Established a Record for the Week in July—Besides the Loss of Life There were Thousands Prostrated by the Sizzling Heat—Toronto's Death List Totals Thirty-Two—New Englanders Fleeing to Canada.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, July 6.—The loss of more than 500 lives is to be credited to the great heat wave of July 1st to 5th, 1911.
The torrid tide will be memorable in weather annals for its wide extent, its long duration, its record breaking temperature in certain places and the long list of fatalities which it has caused to be written. The hundreds of news despatches which attests from the North Atlantic seaboard west to the plains states have exchanged during the past four days, account, according to a careful review this morning for the deaths of 431 persons from the heat and 80 from drowning a total of 511. Incomplete as the record from the failure of many points to report specifically the number of such deaths, it is a serious showing as is remembered for many years, if not a record.
The number of prostrations is still more difficult to compute, but from the review of the despatches it easily appears that thousands have been seriously overcome by the heat in the various big cities.
Toronto, July 6.—Fourteen deaths from the heat were recorded at the city clerk's yesterday. Since Monday morning the heat victims so far known have reached 32.
Hollidaysburg, July 6.—Intense heat it is believed, produced an explosion at the Standard Powder Works at Horrell Station on the Pottersburg branch of the Pennsylvania Railway yesterday resulting in the death of four employees and the complete destruction of the works. The storage house containing tons of dynamite, nitro-glycerine and powder was the only building saved.
New York, July 6.—A blockade in the subway today capped the misery of the heat wave. When the stalled trains finally crept into the underground stations fainting passengers were helped out by the police. Many had to be carried to nearby drug-stores and some taken to hospitals. While the blockade lasted the list of heat prostrations grew faster than at any previous time since the extreme hot weather began.
Toronto, Ont., July 6.—A moderate cool wave now covers the Northwest states and the upper Lakes promising lower temperature in Ontario and Quebec. Scattered thunderstorms are reported from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.
Boston, Mass., July 6.—As a result of the record-breaking heat wave which hangs over the country thousands of people are leaving for Canada and Maine. Up to tonight about fifty persons in Boston and vicinity have died in consequence of the hot blast which appeared Saturday. Hundreds of people in this state have been prostrated but the list is much smaller than it would be if many manufacturing establishments had not been shut down to curtail production.
Toronto, July 5.—Up to 3 o'clock today thirty-one deaths were reported at the city hall, of which sixteen were from heat. This is worse than for the first four days of the month, and breaks all records. On the corresponding day last year only eleven deaths was the total.
The number for the first five days of July is now 120. The greatest mortality was among women. Nine are included in the list, mostly old women, one was 103, another 92, another 87. Five infants are among the dead with only two men.
Chicago, July 5.—Deaths during the present heat wave have swamped the coroner's office which must hold inquests in all cases of sudden or unexplained deaths.
"We held forty-eight inquests Monday and twenty-one yesterday, mostly due directly or indirectly to the heat," said Coroner Hoffman today.
"The mortality continues today. My force is overworked and I have been compelled to desert all other duties and assist in the investigations."
There are not a sufficient number of police ambulances in the city to care for the prostration cases. Private ambulances are being hired and frequently wagons are called into requisition.

SAFE AND SANE DEATH LIST TOTALLED 48

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—Latest newspaper reports on the number of casualties in the United States during the celebration of the fourth of July show that 48 lives were sacrificed and 1217 were injured as compared with 44 killed and 248 injured last year and 62 killed and 3,346 injured in 1909. Fireworks claimed eighteen victims, firearms twelve, gunpowder five and toy pistols 3, according to the reports received by Chicago newspapers.

ONTARIO TOWN HAD BIG FIRE

Maxville on Line of Grand Trunk Railway Almost Wiped Out

Primitive Means Were Employed to Fight Big Conflagration—Women Did Good Work.

(Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, Ont., July 6.—The little town of Maxville on the Grand Trunk Railway in Glengarry County, was almost destroyed by fire last night, the loss being in the neighborhood of $100,000. With less than half that amount of insurance the village was next to absolutely barren of means of fighting the fire only a small hand force pump being available. This supplemented by a bucket brigade of about seventy men, fought the fire for five long hours and by splendid work kept the flames from spreading to greater proportions. The only water available was at the wells in the village and over each well a woman stood guard pumping out the water and filling and refilling the buckets as they were passed and repassed backwards and forwards. It was thought that the whole town was doomed. The G. T. R. operator wired Ottawa that the station was burning under his feet and that he had to cut off communication. All night long and far into the morning the people of the village worked their hardest to keep the fire within bounds. Huge lumber piles and carloads of lumber were burned that were blocking the tracks.
