HON. DR. PUGSLEY DEALS WITH TORY SLANDERS

Ottawa, July 26.—The opposition was in bad temper this morning and did not lose much time in showing it. The Conservative leader and the opposition chief whip were the trouble makers, both attacking the Hon. Mr. Pugsley.

When the speaker had declared their performance out of order, Mr. Crockett launched another attack against Mr. Pugsley.

Whip Perley started the first difference by rising to a question of privilege with a complaint that Mr. Pugsley on Monday night had quoted from a letter from the Riordan Paper Company, of which Mr. Perley is vice-president, strongly supporting the reciprocity agreement, so far as pulp and paper are concerned. Mr. Perley said he was surprised that Mr. Pugsley had quoted this letter, which was a communication to the minister of finance, who has stated to the House that communications on reciprocity were confidential.

HON. DR. PUGSLEY

Dr. Pugsley.—The letter is in a return made to the House of all correspondence on reciprocity.

Mr. Perley.—Who moved for that return?

Mr. Fielding.—Hon. Mr. Foster demanded that the correspondence should be given to the House, and all communications except those marked private or by their nature private, were brought down.

Mr. Perley protested that he had nothing to do with the actual management of the company.

"I have so much work to do here" he began.

Sir Wilfrid.—Hear, hear. (Liberal laughter.)

Mr. Perley.—This company is not a political company, or a Tory concern. It is a Canadian company.

Hon. Mr. Emerson.—Quite so, and, accordingly, not afraid to spatter the constitution.

Hon. Mr. Graham.—And out for Canadian prosperity and business.

Mr. Perley said that he was opposed to reciprocity on principle, and it seemed to be beyond the ken of the minister of public works that his position could be dictated from any other point of view than that point.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley replied that under the circumstances Mr. Perley was to be congratulated upon being a stockholder in a Canadian company directed by such excellent judgment as the general manager had shown in his letter to the minister of finance.

The Liberal laughter which followed this remark brought Mr. Borden to his feet with an ugly look on his face.

"It ill becomes a man," said Mr. Borden, "having the record of the minister of public works respecting dealings with the treasury of New Brunswick."

A roar of Liberal protest drowned the further words of Mr. Borden.

There were cries of "shame" and "apologize."

Dr. Pugsley rose indignantly.

"I ask my honorable friend not to make insinuations," he said. "Very many insinuations have been made in the past, but it is surely due to the position he occupies that the leader of the opposition should not indulge in such. If he has anything to say, let him not say it behind insinuations, but make his statement in a straightforward manner. If he has a charge to make, let him make it openly and publicly. If the leader of the opposition and his associates in parliament produce the correspondence and records in their possession there will be disclosed a great conspiracy against myself. I have publicly characterized it as a conspiracy. I have dared them to meet my statements with libel charges. If they are manly enough to do this and publicly make their charges, should I fail to show beyond peradventure that they are false in every particular, I will forfeit my seat as a member of this House."

Mr. Borden said:

"It was the records of the legislature of New Brunswick to which I referred. If the honorable gentleman wants them produced, I think that they can be produced."

Mr. Pugsley.—If there is anything the honorable gentleman can find out he is welcome to it.

Mr. Borden said he arose because Dr. Pugsley had made a most uncalled-for insinuation against the member for Argenteuil.

"And I say that the insinuation came with very bad grace, indeed, and I repeat it, from a gentleman having a record in the public life of this country which is possessed by the minister of public works."

Mr. Pugsley.—I am quite content to allow my record in public life to stand side by side with that of the honorable gentleman. From time to time during twenty-six years, I have appealed to the people of my native province on my record, and I have always been sustained upon that record. When the last appeal was made I came back with a majority of ten supporters, and when we go to the people again, be it very soon or at a later date, I venture that we shall come back with twelve supporters at least from the province of New Brunswick.

Dr. Sproule declared the discussion was out of order.

The Speaker agreed, and the discussion stopped.

Then, on motion to go into committee of ways and means, Mr. Crockett brought up the Gaspereaux dredging investigation of last session, which has been discussed in the House several times before.

ORTHUMBERLAND TORIES SELECT A VICTIM

Chatham, N.B., July 25.—The Conservative convention for the county was held here this afternoon when 83 delegates put in an appearance. Commodore Stewart presided. T. W. Butler also spoke. Nominations were then called for and in response Donald Morrison, ex-M.P.P., of Newcastle; Dr. Byrne, mayor of Chatham, and T. W. Butler of Newcastle, were nominated. Mr. Butler declined. The ballot was then taken, with the result:

Morrison, 50.
Byrne, 33.
The nomination was subsequently unanimous.

Mr. Morrison, in accepting the nomination, said he was so badly beaten last time he didn't think they would give him another chance.

IMPORTANT TO HOTEL KEEPERS

Mr. John Kenny, Jr., factory inspector, has had his attention called to the fact that hotel keepers throughout the province in complying with the law to provide fire escapes on their buildings, are in some cases using rope of a smaller circumference than the law requires. The rope, to go up to the standard, must be 2 1/2 inches in circumference. Men are out in the province soliciting orders, but it is not with the inspector's authority and hotel keepers who bought rope less than the standard and did so at their own risk. The time for complying with the requirements of the act expires on August 1st.

"STEEL TRUST" HEARINGS RESUMED

New York, July 27.—The so-called Steel Investigating Committee of the House, of which Representative Stanley of Kentucky is chairman, came to New York today to resume its hearings within a convenient halling distance of the offices of the giant corporation and where some of the big men of Wall Street and others who are supposed to know the inside history of the formation and operations of the United States Steel Corporation can be summoned before the committee without loss of time. It is understood the committee will first resume its investigation of the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation. So far nothing has transpired to verify the rumors that J. P. Morgan, George W. Perkins, ex-President Roosevelt and other big men would be summoned to testify, but the belief prevails that the committee will not hesitate to take such action should it seem necessary in order to get at the foundation facts in regard to the Tennessee merger.

PARKER'S RIDGE VISITED BY
WINDSTORM*O. S. Crockett's Anti-reciprocity Speech
Made the Chairman's Hair Stand on End

July 26.—Most of our farmers have commenced haying. So far the season has been an excellent one for the farmers. A better yield is expected this year than last. The oats are looking fine, also the buckwheat.

Several of our teachers have gone to Fredericton to attend the "Summer School of Science."

This village came near being blown away a few weeks ago. O. S. Crockett who misrepresents York Co. harangued the people on "Reciprocity," and there was so much wind set loose that great fear was expressed for the safety of the village. Game Warden Calhoun was on hand, and acted as chairman, and at one time became very excited and treated the audience with a lengthy oration on "Crockett's Talking Pow'rs," and when he made the statement that no Liberal in Canada could face little "Ossie" shouts of derisive laughter rent the air. Sure we all knew that he was "long-winded." And what an account was published in that DEAR (in more ways than one) sheet called the "Gleaner." It told the public that the large hall here held 500 persons but that three times that many i. e. (1,500) came to hear Ossie speak. First the large hall will not hold 500 persons. Secondly there are not 1,500 persons in the places mentioned. There are not over 900 persons including men, women and children in this district. And also there were not over 300 persons at Mr. Crockett's long-winded, second-hand, non-progressing speech. But hah! what can you expect of the $20 a day Gleaner and the office seekers that cling to the coat-tails of that "Happy Family" known as the "Hazen Government." Ossie in his speech roared so, when he began to talk about the "Stars and Stripes" floating over Canada, that the earth trembled and the foundations of the hall shook, but worse than that, he frightened the chairman so badly, that every hair on his Honor's head stood straight up. When it was over a great sigh of relief burst from hearts that had stood still during the trying moments.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS
TABLED TODAY

Ottawa, Ont., July 27.—Proceedings of the Imperial Conference were tabled in the Commons this morning by the Prime Minister. Sir Wilfrid called the attention of the house to the fact that the report on the conference held by the Dominions with the admiralty on the status of Dominion Navies was not included. He stated that a copy had been received in Ottawa, but could not be made public until the permission was given by the British government which was waiting to hear that the copy forwarded to the Australian government, had arrived so that there could be simultaneous publication.

Sir Wilfrid read despatches which had been sent to the British authorities asking for permission to publish the proceedings immediately. No reply is available yet.

Sir Wilfrid showed a good deal of impatience over the fact that he was unable to make public the report of these proceedings, a garbled account of which was cabled to Canada at the time the conference was going on and placed him in a rather unfavorable light as to co-operation of Canada and the British forces in time of war.
