WOLGAST KNOCKED MORAN OUT IN THIRTEENTH ROUND

Tremendous Crowd Saw Great Ring Battle--Englishman Fought Game Battle and Excelled in Long Range Fighting.

San Francisco, Cal., July 4.—A stiff solar plexus blow followed by two lightning stomach punches, and a heavy swing to the jaw, ended Owen Moran's march to the lightweight title in his battle here with Ad Wolgast, the world's champion today.

It was one of the best fights ever seen here, and until the 13th round, when Wolgast scored his knockout, the men seemed evenly matched. Moran excelled at long range fighting, but at infighting the champion proved himself the shifter and in the fiercest rallies showed himself able to stand a tremendous amount of punishment.

A large crowd witnessed the fight, the gate receipts being estimated at nearly $40,000. Wolgast was the favorite in the betting, at odds of 10 to 6.

Jack Welsh refereed the bout. The ring was cleared at 3.05 p.m., and time was called a minute later.

ROUND 1.

After shaking hands, they closed in slowly, and almost immediately the crowd yelled for the referee to break them. Moran protested that Wolgast was butting, and the crowd jeered. Wolgast broke a clinch with two powerful lefts to the jaw and they mixed in, each fighting vigorously. They went to close quarters with Wolgast hooking his left viciously to the jaw. Then he started the blood from the Briton's mouth with a volley of short arm lefts. A hard body blow by the champion closed the round which was in Wolgast's favor.

ROUND 2.

Moran's supporters shouted at him to keep away, but the Englishman rushed in. Wolgast rocked his head with short arm punches and paved the way for a volley of lefts by sending in rights to his stomach. Moran fighting back gamely, sent Wolgast across the ring with a hard right to the jaw. Wolgast bled from the nose as Moran followed his advantage by clipping the champion several times with hard left and right punches to the face and head. It was Moran's round.

ROUND 3.

Wolgast covered up, crouching low and missed a terrible left swing for the jaw. They roughed it head to head, but scoring frequently while in this position. Wolgast almost floored his man with a left swing to the jaw, and then closed in, lashing out with left and right. Wolgast sent three lefts in succession to the body, and received in return a stiff left to the jaw. The round was even.

ROUND 4.

Wolgast's right eye was badly discolored and Moran's mouth was bleeding as they toed the mark. Moran shot a stiff left to the face, and again they roughed it with their arms locked. Wolgast was doing the greater execution. Moran drove a straight left to the jaw and then clouted the champion with a left to the same place. Wolgast sent his right with great force to the body and they seemed disinclined to break from the clinch. Wolgast hooked a left to the body and drove the Briton against the ropes. They were quickly backed in the centre of the ring, fighting like tigers. Wolgast's seconds taunted Moran, to which the Britisher replied: "He won't get me today," and then protested vigorously to the referee that the champion was intentionally elbowing him. Moran had a shade the better of the round.

ROUND 5.

They clinched, with Wolgast uppercutting to the face with right and left. Moran jarred the champion with a short arm right to the jaw. Wolgast swung wildly and Moran ramed him twice more with rights to the face. A long clinch followed. Wolgast breaking it with a hard right to the face. They danced about the ring and Wolgast landed twice to the jaw with short arm rights. Wolgast seemed the stronger as the bout ended an even round.

ROUND 6.

The fighters slowed up a bit at the outset of the round and then Moran shot a straight left to the face. They went to close range, Wolgast landing several rights over the kidneys. They fought at a hot pace against the ropes, each scoring repeatedly. Then followed a smart long range rally, both landing lefts to the face and both spitting blood. Moran, breaking from a clinch, rocked the champion's head with a right hook, and the round ended with the men mixing it at a fast clip. The round was about even.

ROUND 7.

Up to this stage Moran apparently had landed the cleaner punches, but seemed to be the weaker of the two. They at once went into a clinch and a heart breaking rally followed, Moran having much the better of the wicked exchange. Wolgast crowded Moran against the ropes, the Englishman making a determined stand. Referee Welsh finally parted them for the first time. Moran, steadying himself, ripped uppercut after uppercut to the body with telling effect, and Moran reeled across the ring to the ropes. Wolgast shot a left to the jaw that sent Moran hurtling against the ropes and the bell ended a round much in favor of the champion.

ROUND 8.

Moran found Wolgast's face three times with his left. They clinched and Wolgast drove his right powerfully to the kidneys. Moran almost sent the champion through the ropes with a rush and then went nearly through himself from the force of his onslaught. Wolgast drove a terrible left to the stomach and followed it with right uppercuts to the jaw. Wolgast started the blood in a stream from the Briton's mouth and Moran wilted like a leaf. Wolgast sent in a storm of blows following his man about the ring and using both hands with equal facility. Moran went to his corner with a bloody face and appeared to be in sore straits. Wolgast had the better of the round, with Moran tiring.

ROUND 9.

Wolgast chatted with friends about the ringside during the minute's rest. At the gong he rushed to close quarters, sending his right to the kidneys. Moran retaliated with two straight rights to the face and the champion swung back wildly. However, he landed several hard rights and lefts to the stomach and the round closed with the fighting going at an awful pace. Wolgast almost sent the Englishman through the ropes with heavy punches, but Moran came back gamely and scored frequently on the body. Another rally followed with both fighters apparently suffering from the hurricane pace. Wolgast had the better of the round.

ROUND 10.

Wolgast forced the issue but was met with a straight right on the jaw and they slowed up. The champion then swung his left to the jaw and almost sent the Englishman through the ropes with right and left to the body and face. Moran brought the crowd to its feet when he met Wolgast at his own gate, beating him to the punch and starting the blood from the champion's mouth. Wolgast slowed up perceptibly and they rested in a clinch. Moran swung a hard right to the jaw and they were in another slashing rally when the bell sounded. It was Moran's round and he was cheered to the echo.

ROUND 11.

Moran opened with two lefts to the face, and a moment later shot two more to the same place, and escaped a return. They clinched and exchanged rights to the face. Moran, after blocking several rights, drove a left to the face. Wolgast countered with slashing body punches, but Moran did not give way an inch. The Briton swung right and left to the jaw, and cleverly escaped the champion's vicious assaults. It was Moran's round and he appeared to be gaining strength.

ROUND 12.

They clinched, hammering away at each other's body and face. Wolgast sent two right uppercuts to the body. Moran then shot a straight left to the face, and another to the nose. Wolgast retaliated with two forceful body blows. Moran swung his right to the jaw at long range and quickly followed it with a left to the same mark. Wolgast started Moran's mouth bleeding with a hard right just as the bell rang and the Briton spat out a tooth. Even round.

ROUND 13.

Wolgast rushed desperately and finally forced the Briton into a corner. They had not been fighting thirty seconds when the champion shot his right with terrific force to the pit of the stomach. The impact of the blow was heard clear across the arena. Quick as a flash Wolgast sent two

THREE NEW PLAYERS FOR THURSDAY'S GAME

Bob Conlay, Sullivan and Joe Callahan to Report Here Tonight--Infield to be Strengthened.

Three new players are expected to arrive here tonight and report to the Fredericton Baseball Club. Bob Conlay, who was to arrive yesterday, did not put in an appearance. He, together with George Sullivan and Joe Callahan, will arrive tonight and in all probability will be seen on the Fredericton team when it plays the Marathons tomorrow afternoon at Scully's Grove.

Callahan is the player most recently secured by the Players' Committee of the local club. He was with the Boston Nationals on their spring training trip and later played in the Tri-State League. He is an infielder, like the other two. Sullivan, however, can play the outfield as well as the infield.

COUNCILLORS INVITED.

The executive of the Fredericton Baseball Club has issued invitations to Warden Rogers and the other members of the municipal council at York County which is in session here, to attend tomorrow's game. The Thursday half-holiday is now in operation and a big crowd is expected to turn out to see the game.

Messrs. Howard Rogers and A. B. Kitchen have joined the merchants who have agreed to close their places of business on Thursday afternoons.

PACKY MCFARLAND PUT YOUNG AHEARN OUT IN EASY STYLE

Albany, July 4.—Young Ahearn, one of the shiftiest boxers in the east, who have stood toe to toe with all the leading lightweights of this section, was put away by Packy McFarland of Chicago with a right hook to the heart in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round encounter here last night.

It was McFarland's match all the way, his cleverness and his ability to deliver with either hand having the dancing master dazed at all times. After McFarland had felt his man out in the first two rounds, he put up practically no defence, pulling his guard and permitting Ahearn to jab him at will.

McFarland sent in a shower of lefts and rights in the sixth and seventh rounds that would have put a less shiftily boxer than Ahearn away. McFarland entered the ring eight pounds heavier than his opponent. Ahearn was timid and refused to mix with the stocky champion.

Announcement was made by Emil Thery, manager for McFarland, that the winners of last night's battle would meet Ad. Wolgast at Jim Coffroth's club in San Francisco on Labor day. McFarland has been guaranteed $8000 and 30 percent of the gate receipt.

more rights to the stomach and as Moran began to fall a left hook found the jaw. Moran went to the floor with his mouth open and his eyes glassy. He was counted out, while in a recumbent position.
