have every reason to be satisfied with their investment. Those who first paid up on their stock only $20 per share. Their holdings are now up to $65 per share, the difference or $45 per share having been paid by bonuses over and above a regular dividend of 8 p. c. on the amount paid up. It will therefore be seen that the original shareholders are now receiving a dividend of 26 p. c. on their investment and the market value of their holdings at the present price is 450 p. c. of cost.

It is doubtful if any other institution can show such a remarkable record combined with such conservative management.
A safe investment with an attractive yield.
