RECIPROCITY WILL MEAN MUCH FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

Mr. Wm. J. Scott, the Well Known Lumberman Gives Expression to His Views--- Is Strongly in Favor of the Agreement and Gives His Reasons--- Says Farm and Lumber Lands in This Province Would Be Greatly Enhanced in Value.

"I am a firm believer in reciprocity and I honestly believe that if the agreement entered into between Canada and the United States is ratified it will greatly enhance the value of farming and lumbering lands in New Brunswick, especially along the St. John River. So far as this province is concerned, we have all to gain and nothing to lose by such an agreement."

Thus spoke Mr. William J. Scott, of the Scott Lumber Company, in conversation with a representative of The Mail on Saturday.

"I am a Conservative in politics," said Mr. Scott, "but if my party opposes reciprocity and it is made an issue in the next election, they will have to get along without my support."

Mr. Scott is one of the best-known lumbermen along the St. John River and is well qualified to discuss the subject of reciprocity. He lived upon a farm the greater part of his life and thoroughly understands conditions in the country districts. He knows the disadvantages under which farmers along the St. John River labor at the present time and his opinion that reciprocity will bring about a radical improvement in conditions ought to be entitled to some weight.

"I figure," said Mr. Scott, "that under reciprocity our lumber lands will go up in price; I figure that our farm lands will be worth far more; farm stock will be worth more; eggs, butter, poultry, etc., will be worth more, and potatoes will bring a higher price in nine years out of ten."

ALL CLASSES WILL BENEFIT.

"The opening up of a great market like the United States to our farmers means that more money will be brought into the country and all classes will share in the benefits. Vacant farms will be quickly taken up and there will be better times all around. I venture the statement that in the counties of York and Sunbury today one-fifth of the farms are vacant and two-fifths of the farms are not worked to more than one-half of their capacity. What is the cause of this state of affairs? The farmers tell us that they have practically nothing but the local market to depend upon and if they were to increase their output it would mean the lowering of prices. Give them the United States market and I am confident you will soon see a change."

LOOKS FOR DEVELOPMENT.

"We have in the St. John River one of the finest streams on the Atlantic seaboard. It should be a great artery of commerce, its banks dotted with flourishing towns and villages. Compare it today from an industrial standpoint with some of the rivers of the New England States and it is almost enough to make one lose faith in the future of the country. Take the Penobscot River, the Kennebec or the Connecticut Rivers, for instance. They are harnessed at different points the water is used over and over again for power purposes and flourishing industries of all kinds are to be found along the banks of those rivers. The rivers I have named do not compare with the St. John in any way, shape or form, yet all we can boast of in the way of industries along our noble river is a few saw-mills."

"I look upon the St. John Valley Railway now as an assured thing. The indications are that the reciprocity agreement will go into effect, and mark my words if it does, American capital will be attracted to the province and flourishing industries will spring up at many points along the St. John River. Our farms will then be worked to their full capacity vacant farms will be speedily taken up, and if more farms are needed we have plenty of uncleared land along the St. John River well adapted for farming purposes."

EXODUS WILL BE STOPPED.

"We have millions of acres of unimproved lands in New Brunswick, yet under present conditions who would think of going into the woods today and clearing a farm for himself? It would be folly for any man to do so, while there are so many vacant farms that can be bought for a song. Make the farmers prosperous by enlarging their market and the vacant farms will soon have occupants and more land will soon be put under cultivation."

"There are some opponents of reciprocity who tell us we ought to let well enough alone. I cannot agree with that proposition and never will so long as conditions in New Brunswick remain as they are. Should we be content to let well enough alone while our young men are being hauled away in train loads each year to assist in building up the prairies of the west? The majority of those young men are experienced in farm work—they are certainly the equal of those who remain at home and New Brunswick can ill afford to lose them. If we let well enough alone the chances are that this exodus will continue, but if farm life in New Brunswick is made more remunerative and attractive, it will stop."

BETTER TIMES AHEAD.

"As I have already stated, I believe the ratification of the reciprocity agreement will greatly enhance the value of lumber lands in New Brunswick, and you can rest assured that any lands in which I hold an interest will not be disposed of until this question is decided. I have had some experience in the lumbering business and know a little about it. You will scarcely credit the statement that the duty on lumber which our concern shipped to the United States in a few years amounted to $80,000. Without the duty we would have saved at least half of that amount and the consumer would have got cheaper lumber."

"I do not take any stock in the annexation cry, which is being made to do duty in connection with the reciprocity question. I look upon it purely as a matter of business, and what benefits New Brunswick and Canada is pretty sure to benefit the Empire. Because a man sells lumber or farm produce in the United States it does not necessarily follow that he is going to become a Yankee."
