

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, or certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption, may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

THE WEST AT VARIANCE WITH BORDEN'S NEWS

(Toronto Globe.)

The tour of the opposition leader in the west does not seem to have affected his attitude as to the benefits of obstruction and the evils of freedom, but it could scarcely have failed to convince him that the west is emphatically at variance with his views. The man who advocates or defends an obstruction must always assume an apologetic attitude, consciously or unconsciously. While he wants to restrain or impede his fellow-citizens he must explain or give reasons. The opposition leader was confronted with the necessity of explaining why he would deny to the people of the west the measure of relief which the government is prepared to grant. That he failed goes without saying, for no explanation is possible, but the chief lesson of his tour was the obvious willingness of the people of the west to longer endure present tariff burdens.

There are many who would freely submit to the present imposed losses if convinced that the manufacturers could not get along without so much artificial aid. They would freely make sacrifices for the benefit of less fortunate fellow-citizens. But among these the conviction is growing that the present rates of aid are not necessary. They think that what may have been regarded at one time as a necessity of existence has developed into a means of aggrandizement. They hold that the protected classes, instead of merely levying necessary aid, are securing inordinate profits. The result of this is a demand for a limited measure of relief, such as is afforded by the pending change. Feeling entitled to this and seeing it opposed by the class that has so long profited by their generosity, there is a strong tendency toward impatience and even indignation. Mr. Borden has encountered this at many points, and has faced it with remarkable courage. He must have known that the men he was addressing were losing by the obstructions he was desirous of continuing and would gain by the relief he was opposing. Yet in the bondage of other allegiance he faced their unassailable logic with the old attempts at explanation.

The opposition leader also found another element in the west—an element unwilling to be subjected to any loss whatever for the benefit of other fellow-citizens. With those willing to accord some protection at their own expense the question was one of degree, but with the men who unconditionally demanded their rights and insisted that industries be put to the test as to their ability to give value to their patrons the question was far more difficult. This attitude was most prominent at the Saskatoon meeting. It shows that when any class has been imposed upon and its restlessness takes form in a demand for partial relief it is generally better to accede to such demands than to force a discussion and arouse more radical opinions. Perhaps the opposition leader and the interests behind him will be convinced by the attitude of the west that it will be wise to accept the reasonable compromise of the government's proposals.

WORKING HARD IN CAMP SUSSEX

Sussex, July 7.—Today has been the best day since coming to camp in respect to weather, and work done by the men. The rain last night and the pleasant wind today add special pleasure to the whole camp.

The morning was spent in skirmishing and the afternoon was taken up with company drill. The men readily caught up the work and at the close of the parade could go through the various movements called for by the orders for the day.

One of the most important departments of the camp is the Army Service Corps No. 7 Company, under Capt Fred McKeen, of St. John. The master baker is R. J. Carless and about 1,000 loaves of bread are sent to the men. Instruction in sword exercises was given to the officers of the 73rd Regt. tonight at 4.45 by Sergt. Major Duncan, sergeant of the 73rd Regt. Sergt. Maj. Duncan has had over 38 years experience in army life and his military affairs down to a science.

Instruction in equestrianism is given daily under the command of Lt. Col. Wedderburn, 8th Hussars, and Maj. C. H. McLean, 28th Dragoons, and 8th Hussars are making plans for a celebration in the form of a ball invitations to be extended to the wives and lady friends of the officers. Very little sickness is reported considering the high temperature.

Mrs. Eaton and children and Miss Helen F. Randolph sail from England for Canada on July 28.

TORY LEADER'S TOUR TO CLOSE TODAY

Winnipeg, Man., July 7.—Mr. Borden's tour of the prairie provinces which opened in Winnipeg on June 19 comes to an end tomorrow with meetings at Morden, Rosebank and Summerset in the constituency of Macdonald represented by W. D. Staples.

Today was one of the busiest of the entire tour. Mr. Borden spoke at Gladstone a strong Liberal district in the morning, met the grain growers at Portage La Prairie, in the afternoon and also addressed a large public meeting. Tonight he was at St. Pierre a French settlement near St. Boniface. The Portage La Prairie grain growers brought forward the opposition leader a sharp reply when they accused him of not being sincere in his stand against reciprocity. He declared that he thoroughly respected their sincerity in favoring it and expected equal respect for the sincerity of his own views thereon. They also accused the Conservatives in parliament with blocking legislation in the farmers' interest, which brought from him the statement that it was obviously unfair of them to take that stand and let reciprocity blind their eyes to the policy of the Conservatives in respect to chilled meat, Hudson's Bay Railway and Terminal Elevators. Mr. Borden's party was joined today by T. W. Crothers, M.P., W. E. Middlebro, M.P., who have been stumping Manitoba; J. G. H. Bergeron, who has been addressing meetings in the French settlements Hon. Robert Rogers and Hugh Armstrong.

Republicans of Kentucky will nominate a State ticket at a convention to be held in Louisville Tuesday. Judge E. C. O'Rear of the Court of Appeals is their probable choice for governor. No instructions are issued and probably none will be given.

The progress of King George and Queen Mary in their tour of the United Kingdom promises to furnish the most of the week's news from the other side. Concluding the four days' visit in Ireland their Majesties will leave Dublin Wednesday for Wales. At Carnarvon Castle the next day will take place the investiture of the Prince of Wales by the King. On Friday his Majesty will open the new University College at Bangor and on Saturday he will lay the foundation stone of the Welsh National Library at Aberystwith.

The notable conventions of the week will include the national reunion of Elks at Atlantic City, the annual convention of the National Education Association at San Francisco, the meeting of the Imperial Council of the Majestic Shrine at Rochester, the annual meeting of the National Editorial Association at Detroit, the national convention of the Building Owners and Managers at Cleveland, and the annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canada at Portland, Me.

Other events that will figure more or less prominently in the news of the week will include the opening of the Canadian Industrial Exhibition at Winnipeg, the international athletic games in England between the teams of Harvard and Yale and Cambridge and Oxford, the opening of the Grand Circuit races at Indianapolis, and the national ballroom race, which is scheduled to start on Monday from Kansas City.

HEART RIGHT

When He Quit Tea and Coffee

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble.

The reason is obvious.

This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an unexpected thing and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings."

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till, on applying for life insurance I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum I began its use."

"The change in my condition was remarkable. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared and most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the Life Insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum Co. Windsor, Ontario."

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.
