SENSIBLE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST PNEUMONIA

(Montreal Herald)

There will be about 1,500 cases of pneumonia in Montreal this winter! Do you expect to escape its ravages? For of these 1,500 over 400 will die. Statistics carefully kept for nearly a thousand years prove this.

The ancient Greeks, especially Hippocrates, described pneumonia exactly as we know it today. It is a malignant inflammation of the lungs due to minute organisms or germs. These blockades the air passages, poison the breathed air, and weaken the heart.

There are several forms of pneumonia, but the common type is produced by the tiny shot-shaped germ, the pneumococcus. Under the microscope this is a tiny, black speck, surrounded by a transparent capsule. It belongs to the lowest order of living, moving plants. Despite its active motility, it is not an animal, but a vegetable parasite.

Pneumonia is commonly associated with cold weather. In point of fact it is most prevalent in winter, but it is a disease of all seasons and all climates. Wherever you find civilized beings, there you will find pneumonia. It is at its worst in January, and is least met in July and August. A sudden chill, however, in summer, is just as apt to end in pneumonia as a sudden chill in Christmas.

At the start, the symptoms are much like those of a severe "cold" or influenza. A sharp chill is commonly followed by a high fever. Then appears a darting pain in the chest, a dry cough with a blood stained sputum (internal infection), and quick, jerky breathing.

Pneumonia when complicated is a self-limited disease. The attack cannot be shortened. The patient must be placed in a light airy, well ventilated and plenty of water, lemonade and easily digested food such as egg-Albumen, milk and fruit juice, given to him. Modern physicians employ ice-packs to the head and chest to reduce the fever and relieve the pain.

Minor devices are used to alleviate the cough and support the strength of the sufferer.

Against the pneumococcus itself, nature must still wage her war unaided. But it is often possible for the alert doctor to lend a helping hand to the over-burdened heart.

Once upon a time whiskey was extensively used as a stimulant but progressive physicians still hold that its employment is dangerous and other measures are now applied. Fresh (but warmed) air, and plenty of it, is the thing most needed. Tents and hospital roofs are the best places to bring a pneumonia patient to health.

In the old days a person afflicted with pneumonia was imprisoned in hot close rooms and all sorts of powerful drugs were taken. Today good nursing is known to be superior to drugs.

Experiments are now being made with a new vaccine for pneumonia. The vast technical difficulties in the way of producing a pneumonia antitoxin, has led to the injection of preventative doses of killed pneumonia germs, the pneumococcus. There seems to be some promise at last for a conquest for one of our dread maladies.

The man who hardens himself by cold baths and cold "rubdowns" in the morning and by wearing rational clothes is far less apt to fall a victim than the man who bathes in hot water and bundles himself up in absurdly heavy underclothes. Sailors and savages seldom have pneumonia, clerks and indoor workers generally fall before it often.

A man with a half pint of whiskey in his stomach feels snug and warm. In reality his bodily temperature is far below normal and the germ killing corpuscles and fluids of his body are weak and stunned.

Fatigue and other excesses also cause the natural powers of resistance of the body to disappear. Overwork, loss of sleep, worries and intemperance of any kind may make you a shining mark for pneumonia.

WAS A GREAT SUFFERER FOR FIVE YEARS FROM DYSPEPSIA.

Dyspepsia is one of the most prevalent troubles of civilized life, and thousands of people suffer untold agony after every meal, for nearly everything that enters a weak dyspeptic stomach acts as an irritant.

The long train of distressing symptoms, which render life a burden to the victim of dyspepsia, may be promptly cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. Mrs. Wm. J. Boyne, Lepeau, N.B., writes:—"I thought I would write and tell you of the good Burdock Blood Bitters has done me and also tell you how thankful I am."

"For five years I had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and tried different doctors and proprietary medicines, but could get no relief. One day a friend told me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did not have much faith in it, but I thought I would give it a trial. To-day I am completely cured, and I will always recommend it."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for about thirty-five years and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LEADERS OF INDUSTRY ARE IN CONFERENCE

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 11.—Many of the foremost business men of the nation were assembled in the gold room of the Congress Hotel today at the opening of the three days' conference called by the National Business League of America. In his opening address President George W. Sheldon explained the purpose of the gathering to be firm "for the consideration of imperative measures for the general welfare." The speaker further expressed the hope that the conference would aid in determining what all the business of the country and what remedial legislation should be asked of Congress.

During the three days of the conference speeches will be delivered that will command the attention of the nation not only because of their commercial and political significance, but because of the prominence of the men who will make them. Among the scheduled speakers are John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Frederick A. Delano, president of the Washburn Railroad Company; George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago; Robert W. Bonnyne, member of the National Monetary Commission, and Frederick Townsend Martin of New York.

Resolution will be adopted urging upon Congress the necessity from a business point of view of early legislative action dealing with currency reform, questions of transportation, the promotion of American foreign commerce, and the creation of an American merchant marine.

FOES OF SALOON IN SESSION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Delegates from all over the country are assembled in the capital for the biennial convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America. The business sessions of the gathering will last four days and will be followed by a national conference to consider the question of the interstate liquor traffic. Men and women prominent in temperance work, together with a number of members of Congress are expected to speak in support of movement for federal legislation relative to the interstate liquor question.

The Anti-Saloon League of America was started at Oberlin, Ohio, about fifteen minutes ago by the late Rev. J. H. Kynett of the church extension board of the Methodist church, and Archbishop Ireland. The organization is a federation of churches, temperance societies and individuals opposed to the drinking saloon without regard to party lines or denominational differences. The league now has nearly 150 offices scattered over the country from which large quantities of anti-saloon literature are distributed each year.

HEAVYWEIGHT COUPLE TRAVELLED BY TRUCK

Dover, N.H., Dec. 9.—Samuel Chesley Drew, the pride of the New England's Fat Men's Association, who weighs 457 pounds, was back at his home here today, after a honeymoon trip with his wife, who was Miss Rose Lavigne of Rochester, and who, he says, tips the scales at 258 pounds. As there was no carriage in the town capable of transporting the happy couple, they were carried from the train to their home in a bay truck.

Out of every thousand of those whose occupation calls for constant work in dusty quarters, five died of consumption, according to German official figures, whereas among those who are not exposed to the action of dust only two out of a thousand die of the disease named.

MANY WESTERNERS GOING TO OLD LAND

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 9.—A solid special train pulled out from here yesterday morning over the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, bound for Portland, Maine, in connection with the sailing of the White Star Dominion Line steamer "Teutonic," which sails from Portland next Thursday. Bearing a full complement of passengers, who have taken advantage of the Christmas holidays for a visit to the Old Country. The special will run via Portage la Prairie to St. Paul and Chicago, thence via the Grand Trunk to its destination.

Give your servants GOLD DUST to clean with, treat them rightly and you will have few occasions to insert a "help wanted" ad

They say a good workman is known by his tools. You cannot expect your maid to keep everything ship-shape unless you give her every modern help. To keep house without GOLD DUST is to do work by hard, old-fashioned methods. For cleaning everything and anything about the house—from cellar to attic—GOLD DUST is worth its weight in gold. It cuts grease and dirt like magic, does away with scouring and scrubbing, and saves time and tempers.

Your servant can do more and better work and keep sweet with the aid of GOLD DUST in all household cleaning.

STILL TRYING MADRAY GANG

Council Bluffs, Dec. 11.—The case of Benjamin Marks, alleged to have been a member of the notorious Madray gang of swindlers, came up for trial in the district court here today. J. C. Madray, the leader of the gang who was recently released from Leavenworth prison is to be tried on other charges pending against him as soon as the trial of Marks is concluded.

SHOT BLACKBIRDS FROM AN AIRSHIP

Mineola, N.Y., Dec. 9.—Flying a biplane yesterday afternoon, with Lee Hammond as pilot, Wm. Simonson an expert marksman of this place, shot three black birds with as many shots from a 12-gauge shot-gun which he carried. A flock of black birds was chased over the aviation field here until these were brought down. Two sparrows sitting on a branch of a tree also fell victims to Simonson's marksmanship.

REFORMER SEEKS MAYORALTY AGAIN

Boston, Mass., Dec. 11.—A number of Massachusetts cities are to hold their municipal elections tomorrow. More than ordinary interest is manifested in the mayoralty contest in Salem, where Arthur Howard, the young editor whose reform methods caused a great stir in the "Witch City" during his former term as mayor, is seeking election again.

BASEBALL MEN IN SESSION THE USUAL CHRISTMAS RUSH TO EUROPE

New York, Dec. 11.—Some interesting reading for the baseball fans is expected to be furnished by the series of meetings which began here today and will occupy the greater part of this week. In addition to the annual meetings of the National and American leagues, there will be meetings of the National Commission, the National Board of Arbitration, the Eastern league and the Baseball Writers' Association.

The American league assembled today to wind up the business of the past season and discuss preliminary plans for the coming year. The season of 1911 was a very successful one for the league and as nothing has occurred to disturb the harmony among the magnates the meeting was little more than a love feast.

Livlier proceedings are promised tomorrow when the National league meets in annual session. The recent death of President Russell of the Boston club has caused a revival of talk of "syndicate baseball" and Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh, who has led the fight against the so-called syndicates, will probably bring the matter to the attention of the directors. Rumors are still current that an attempt will be made to oust Thomas J. Lynch from the presidency of the league, but these in a position to know declared today that while the meeting might develop some surprises the "passing of Lynch" would not be among them.

The special meeting of the National Commission the supreme governing body in the baseball world, will transact considerable business left over from the recent Cincinnati meeting. It is considered doubtful however if the commission will devote much serious attention to the charges of collusion between scalpers and officials of the New York club in the sale of tickets for the world's series last fall. The majority of the magnates are now inclined to let the matter drop though all are in favor of adopting some plan that will prevent a repetition of the scandal in the future.

The Eastern League also seems to have troubles of its own, which are due to have an airing at the league's annual meeting. Owner Chapin of the Rochester club has come to town with the avowed intention of returning home with the scalp of President Ed. Barrow dangling at his belt. Chapin has a number of grievances against Barrow, but as most of them are of little concern to the other club owners, the probabilities are that Barrow will be returned to the presidency for another year at least.

TO HONOR DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

Montreal, Dec. 11.—A special convocation of McGill University for the purpose of conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on the Duke of Connaught will be held in the Royal Victoria College tomorrow afternoon.

THE USUAL CHRISTMAS RUSH TO EUROPE

New York, Dec. 9.—A dozen transatlantic steamships have departed from New York during the past forty-eight hours taking out 10,000 or more steerage passengers. This marks the flood tide of the exodus of those who go abroad each year to spend Christmas in their native lands. Steamers say that the holiday steerage traffic this year is likely to fall a little short of the previous high record, though no one would ever think so to see the busy scenes at the docks along the North Shore. Italians and natives of other countries of southern Europe make up a large percentage of the outgoing steerage passenger lists. They come mostly from the country east of the Mississippi River. Other steamships carry out large passenger lists made up entirely of Scandinavians, and those from northern Europe. A majority of these come from the North western States.

PRINCESS PATRICIA DID NOT SEE MONTREAL

Montreal, Dec. 9.—Although Princess Patricia of Connaught, passed Montreal on her way to Ottawa at eight-thirty o'clock this morning, she failed to obtain even a fleeting glance of Canada's largest city, as her private car attached to the first section of the Halifax express was transferred at Montreal Junction to the Ottawa train and left at once for the capital.

There are at present fifteen international organizers in Minneapolis Minn., and at least a dozen of them will remain there indefinitely.
