DO YOU KNOW why the STOCK of the Dominion Trust Co., Limited.

Is so SAFE?

BECAUSE:-

It is non-speculative, well and carefully managed.

It is doubtful if any other Trust Company in Canada has been so successful in handling business so economically although efficiently. The gradual reduction in percentage of expense to earnings speaks well for the future. It has been reduced from

53.9 per cent. in 1906 to 40.3 per cent. in 1910

At the present price the Stock pays a good dividend on the investment in addition to a BONUS.

We recommend these Shares as in our opinion a Safe Investment in which there is an unusual opportunity for increase of PRINCIPAL and INCOME.

BAD HIGHWAY ROADS CAUSE FATAL ACCIDENTS

To the Editor of the Daily Mail,

Dear Sir,—As I see a good deal in the newspapers about the terrible state of the highways I just thought I'd write a line to your paper and tell you, that from what I've seen "Bullwarks" "Unbearable" "Impassable" "Rotten" etc., etc., don't convey an idea of some features we have up this way. Why, sir, the culverts—nearly every one of them—never were so bad, or so far out of the ground, or so full of holes, in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, as they have been this spring and summer. Unless you stopped at every one as you came to it and let your team creep over it you were in danger of life and limb!

One at Howard Stair's Corner, though not much worse than scores of others that could be named knocked a sleeping two-year-old child off its mother's lap and it was a wonder it was not seriously hurt or even killed. Afterward this same culvert was the direct cause of Mr. Schriver's untimely death. He was riding on the stretcher of his wagon, which was a high one, with a bent or slung axle. When the front wheels struck the high loose plank the jolt knocked him off. He fell so that the bent hind axle doubled him up and broke his back. He lived for a day and night during which he recovered consciousness and told just how it occurred. A minister at the funeral said: "You can talk about Providence all you like but if that culvert had not been allowed to remain all these months in that dangerous condition, brother Schriver would be alive today going about his work as usual."

Last spring a year ago, young Bartlett of Temperance Vale got drowned in one of the most terrible mud holes ever seen on any road in any civilized country. It was at the foot of Maple Ridge Hill—not more than one mile back of Mr. Pinder's house. This mud hole was several rods long and the whole width of the road with woods on both sides of it. It was axle deep and six barrels of potatoes was all the best team could haul through it. A business man of Hawshaw got a pair of horses stuck in it hauling a cook stove and had to unload the stove in the mud and go home without it. It was either that or leave team and all. But how did the young man lose his life? He was subject to fits, but went every where alone. Taking one while passing along this section of road he fell in the mud and was drowned.

Now I liked what was written in your paper in reply to Dr. Crockett. What do we care about "pleasure seekers" if they want the roads "Macadamized" let them work as hard as we do and help do it. But what we do want is good dry fairly smooth roads, safe culverts and bridges. The Hazen government have betrayed us. They have showed that there is such a thing as going from bad to worse. They promised to let these works by tender. Not ONE in TEN has been let by tender and I can prove it. For Graft and Partisanship, the old government was a mere kindergarten to this gang of adventurers who while they have taxed us nearly double, have given us far poorer roads. This is not a Gleaner lie. It is the truth and the proof is right before our eyes.

Yours etc,

RATEPAYER, Rossville.

THE WORST ENEMIES OF CANADIAN NATIONALITY

(The Toronto Globe)

The greatest and most powerful enemies of Canadian nationality are within the gates. They are the men who at every time of popular excitement seek to set race against race and creed against creed. The most conspicuous object of their venomous pursuit is Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Of undiluted Norman-French blood, he is the first citizen in a country in which men of British birth are in the majority. A Catholic, he holds the reins of government in a land where Protestants are dominant. He presents a shining mark for the poisoned arrow of racial and religious antagonism.

During the next six weeks in every part of Canada in which there is a prospect of injuring the Liberal party by such tactics it will be whispered about that Laurier is over-mindful of his own. His loyalty to the Empire will be jeered at. Demagogues like Tate Blackstock will have the hardihood to tell the people that Laurier and Fielding are conspiring against Canadian nationality. The Toronto Telegram, with the monotonous iteration of a caged parrot, will scream "Continentalist! Continentalist!" Behind tiled doors the brethren will be urged to vote against a Catholic Premier. The Belleville Intelligencer will continue to cement the unholy alliance between Ontario Toryism and Quebec Nationalism by declaring that "the Nationalists are preferable to the Laurier Liberals."

Who are the Nationalists whose alliance is so keenly desired by the former Grand Sovereign of the Orange Order? What are their ideals? They are the most anti-British, the most frankly ultramontane propagandists that French Canada has ever seen. There is no concealment about their methods. They hate Sir Wilfrid Laurier and seek to destroy him for exactly the opposite reason put forward by their allies in Ontario. In this Province Laurier is to be destroyed because he is not British enough because he does not safeguard Protestant rights. The Nationalists wish to destroy him because they assert that he has betrayed his race and religion at the Orangemen of Ontario.

This is not a fanciful sketch of the situation. At a meeting at Fraserville, reported in Le Devoir of July 24, Mr. Armand Lavergne, the young orator who wore a garb of solemnity and impartiality when he addressed the students of the University of Toronto some months ago, is reported as follows:-

"I shall address myself to the Rouges. I hope to be able to convert some one. As for those who are not willing to understand, the party of honest men has no use for them." "Here some one in the crowd cried: 'Hurrah for Laurier!'"

"Yes, hurrah for Laurier, my friend! I also cried, as you do, 'Hurrah for Laurier!' when in 1896 I heard him proclaim at St. Rosh in Quebec that the great principle of the Liberal party was respect for minorities, and that when he obtained power he would do justice to our brothers of Manitoba. Some months later he sacrificed the Catholics of Manitoba to the 'Orangeist' fanaticism. Hurrah for Laurier! "Hurrah for Laurier, my friend! While in 1896 Mr. Borden wrote in Le Soir denouncing the purchase of rifles by the Tupper Government, three years afterwards in 1899 Laurier despatched 5,000 Canadians to Africa to fight a little people who had never done anything to us, and who battled for their faith, their language, and their liberty."

There is in the speech much more to the same effect deliberately intended to rouse racial feeling and to picture Laurier as an enemy of his own people. The most serious feature of the situation is that because of the difference in language few Ontario people read Le Devoir or other organs of Nationalism and few French-Canadians read such papers as the Toronto Telegram, The Mail and Empire, or the Belleville Intelligencer. Were it not for the fact that the men in Quebec who denounce Laurier for sending troops to South Africa and for the settlement of the Manitoba school question are fairly confident that their incendiary utterances will never be repeated in the Tory Press of Ontario there would be an end to such disgraceful methods of campaigning.

The Liberal party would be justified, as a means of stopping the racial and religious enemies of Canada from injuring the country in posting on every dead wall in Ontario the evidence furnished by speeches like that of Mr. Bourassa's presence, that Laurier is held up to the hatred of his own people for keeping the balance justly between English-speaking Protestant and French speaking Catholic.

TO VISIT THE CANADIAN WEST

London, August 4.—With a view to acquiring first-hand knowledge of western Canada with especial reference to the needs and opportunities of that section in relation to immigration from the home country, a party of well known journalists representing a dozen of the leading newspapers of Great Britain sailed today for the other side. The party was organized by J. Obed Smith, assistant superintendent of emigration in Great Britain who will accompany them on their tour of the western province.

Miss Florence Hawthorn has returned from a two weeks' outing at Westfield.

Mr. R. B. Rossborough, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Charlottetown, is in the city visiting his parents. He is accompanied by his son.

TRIED TWO DOCTORS WITH NO BENEFIT

Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Wrought a Lasting Cure

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made so many remarkable cures in serious cases that people are liable to overlook their value as a tonic for the blood and nerves in debility and general run-down conditions. That such conditions are the cause of much misery and unhappiness is fully known to those who suffer from them and the need of curing them is as vital as is relief from diseases with higher sounding names. We commend the following statement to any one suffering from weak, thin blood, or shattered nerves. Mrs. Mae Macabee, Gleichen, Alta., says: "A few years ago I became run down, not seriously ill, but just tired and weak all the time. I consulted our family doctor, who gave me tonic after tonic, with no effect. I gradually got weaker and weaker until I could not do my work. Then I went to another doctor, who pronounced my case one of decline and recommended a warmer climate and complete rest. This I could not afford and I began to worry and fret until I became a complete nervous wreck. One day while visiting a neighbor, an old gentleman who was taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for partial paralysis, recommended them to me. I sent out and got three boxes, but without much faith that they would help me, but before they were gone I noticed an improvement and I continued taking the pills, constantly growing stronger until I had taken seven or eight boxes, when I was completely cured. I could do my work as easily as ever I had done it in my life, and the doctor told me that he could scarcely believe the change in me, as he had not had the least hope that I would be strong again. Now I always keep the pills on hand and if I feel fatigued or weary take them for three or four days so as not to get run down."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
