HILLIARD LANG
AND HARRY LEWIS
MEET TONIGHT

Young Nitchie wants Match with the Winner of Bout at Toronto—Lewis the Favorite

(Toronto News.)

Leo Flynn, the well known boxing promoter, writes that Harry Lewis was only travelling under wraps in his bout with Lavin in Buffalo on Friday night, and that he did not let himself out until the last few rounds. "He was saving his hands for his battle with Lang in your city next Thursday night, and didn't take any chances. He will beat your champion to a dead certainty."

Flynn doesn't believe that Lang is in the same class with Gibbons or Lewis, and thinks that the latter was stalling when he boxed the "Fisher-man" in Winnipeg. At any rate, it is his intention to be at the ringside at the Agnes Street theatre on Thursday night and challenge the winner on behalf of young Nitchie. Lang, on the other hand, says that he not only beat Gibbons, but that had the bout been at twenty rounds instead of fifteen he would have won decisively. His injured hand is all right again and he will show Lewis a thing or two before they get through with their ten-round rum-puss.

HALIFAX ARENA

ADOPTS BIG LEAGUE
PRICES FOR HOCKEY

(Halifax Recorder.)

The Halifax Arena directors met last evening and had a busy meeting, in view of the coming season, which promises to be the best in its history. Those present were Pres. A. B. Crosby, James Campbell, T. D. McRae, E. W. Crease, T. F. Courtney, James A. Scribner and William Glassey. The directors confirmed the bookings made by Manager Maher, which include the Big 4 League, Church, Bankers, Garrison, H.M.C.S. Moose ships' company, and Moose boys' league, besides other minor games. They decided to fix the prices for the Big 4 League at the same prices as have prevailed heretofore, 25, 35 and 50 cents, and when a team comes from the upper provinces the prices would be 25, 50 and 75 cents. This is a good move on the part of the directors, as patrons will now know the prices in advance, instead of wondering as to what will be charged when the announcement is made that a team is coming.

BILLY ALLEN MATCHED WITH "ONE ROUND" HOGAN

Toronto, Dec. 19.—The National Sporting Club, of this city, last night closed with "One Round" Hogan of New York, and Billy Allen of Syracuse, to meet at the next entertainment of the club for the Flanagan belt, emblematic of the Canadian lightweight championship. No date has been set for the mill, but it will be the main bout at the next show, to be held probably during the last week in January. The deeds of gift fixes the weight in the contests for the belt at 133 pounds ringside. Hogan wanted 133 at 3 o'clock, but the donot, as well as Allen and his manager, refused to deviate from the conditions originally set down.

MARITIME TEAMS
MAY NOW CHALLENGE

Ottawa, Dec. 19.—The Stanley Cup trustees will probably lift the lid this season on the Maritime Province League and accept a challenge from the easterners with the holders in the N.H.A. at the close of the season. A few years ago a team from New Glasgow, N.B., played Wanderers for the cup in Montreal and the showing of the challengers was so much below par the trustees decided to make some discrimination in future and permit only teams of senior strength to make a bid for the trophy. This year the Maritime Province promoters are conducting a full fledged professional league and have sent scouts down this way after players. They will be quite up to the calibre of teams that were permitted to play for the cup last year and should be allowed to take a crack at the trophy this season. A couple of years ago a challenge from the east coast organization was turned down.

William Elmer of Cleveland and Jack Kennedy of Baltimore will do umpiring in the Cotton States league next season.

BETH MCLEOD PUT OUT IN FIRST ROUND

Sydney, Dec. 18.—The ten-round boxing bout at Glace Bay tonight between Mickey McIntyre and Beth McLeod of St. John, was won by McIntyre in the first round, who scored a knockout in one minute and a half. Dannie Smith refereed. There were about 500 spectators. The bout scheduled for Moncton Christmas Day between McIntyre and Parsons, has been postponed.

BILLY DELANEY VERY ILL IN OAKLAND, CAL.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 20.—Billy Delaney, the well known trainer of pugilists, is confined to his Oakland home with an illness which his physicians fear may end fatally. They say he will never enter another training camp.

Delaney, who is suffering from internal complications, came here from New York thirty years ago. He put Corbett in condition to meet Sullivan in New Orleans in 1892. When Corbett retired he developed Jefferies for the match in which Fitzsimmons lost his title. Delaney's last work was the training of Jack Johnson for the championship contest at Reno.

Not only will Toronto not be allowed to play this winter, but they will be soaked for the annoyance and trouble they caused up to date. They will have to pay a heavy penalty or lose their franchise.

GOOD PROGRAM OF HORSE RACES FOR CHRISTMAS DAY

Arrangements have been made by the Fredericton Park Association for a racing meet at the Trotting Park which will surpass any winter meet which has been held in years. Five class races have been arranged in addition to a matched race. In all but the matched race the conditions are half-mile heats, two out of three. The admission fee for gentlemen will be 25 cents, ladies free and grandstand free.

The entries are as follows:

CLASS A, GREEN TROT.
Teddy Bear, Judson Burden.
Pauline Barry, C. G. Burke.
Rapidly, J. E. Sullivan.
Darryl, Murray Rowan.
Carrie R., J. H. McMurray.
Kitty C., Harry Crotty.

CLASS B, GREEN PACE.
Eastland Jr., John Carten.
Bridgetown Girl, N. J. Kierstead.
Molly O., Wm. A. Clark.

GANDIL WHO WAS WANTED BY WHITE
SOX, GOOD PLAYER

Starred on Pacific Coast in 1909—
In Following Season Failed to Make Good at Chicago

Commenting on the now famous Gandil deal, by which Montreal was to sell that player to the White Sox, which missed fire, The Chicago Daily News says of the player in question: No baseball official was in a position to know Gandil's true value better than Hugh Duffy, former manager of the White Sox. Comiskey's former chief "wised up" Clark Griffith to the fact that Gandil was of major league size and the new manager of the Washington club made a bid for the former Pacific Coast League star. Pres. Murphy had better material to offer in trade, however, and Owner Lichtenhein of the Montreal club, finally accepted the offer from the Chicago club.

PACIFIC COAST STAR.

"Chic" Gandil was a star of the first order in the Pacific Coast League in 1909. He bordered on a sensation that season. Pres. Comiskey secured him from the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast League. Gandil, Zeider and Blackburne were the trio of recruits expected to make a big sensation in the major leagues. Gandil made the training jaunt with the White Sox in the spring of 1910 and looked to be all the press despatches had painted him. Glowing accounts of his exploits with the recruit division of the south side club indicated a great season for the youngster at Jiggs Donohue's old post.

When the championship season of 1910 had advanced a month or so, it became evident that the new combination of infielders was not a success. Blackburne went poorly at short, Gandil seemed an impossibility at first and Zeider—well, the trio had seemed the pick of the trio. Gandil fielded well, but was considered a failure as a batsman. His mind was not on baseball. Duffy decided that Gandil must go.

GANDIL SORE.

Gandil thought he was discriminated against by the White Sox manager and fretting under this feeling, played worse ball than ever before when given another trial near the close of the 1910 season. His sale to the Montreal club in the Eastern League followed.

That Gandil has learned a valuable lesson is probable, for his work in the big minor circuit of the east has been of a high order. He has a batting average round the .300 mark and his fielding has steadied down until he looks the part of the star first baseman he was on the Pacific Coast in 1909. Gandil may prove a big "find" for the Cubs and fill a gap in the machine occasioned by the retirement of Frank Chance, one of the greatest stick sackers the game has ever seen.

"KID" MCCOY SCORED
KNOCKOUT IN PARIS

Paris, Dec. 20—"Kid" McCoy, the American pugilist, tonight knocked out Harry Croxon, an English aspirant in the third round.

Dr. Jerry Laflamme will not turn professional but will likely be seen with one of the senior O.H.A. teams. "Hamby" Shore has accepted $800 with bonuses from the Ottawa Club, and Albert Kerr is now the only hold out.

Boston Journal—When the St. Michael's College team of Toronto files on the ice at the Arena on January 31 for its match with Harvard it will probably receive the best reception a Canadian outfit has ever been accorded at the local rink. The remarkable display of hockey by the Canadians last year against the Boston Hockey Club is fresh in the minds of local fans. The clever Jack Spratt will be with the team this year. It looks like a warm session for Harvard, but at that the Crimson is stronger today than the Boston Club was last season when the latter played St. Michael's.
