CANADIAN PEPPER HEAVILY ADULTERATED

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 5—That the pepper used throughout Canada has been forty percent adulterated for the past 33 years has been shown by a pamphlet issued by Mr. A. McGill, chief analyst of the department of inland revenue.

All kinds of adulterants have been used, including wheat husks ground coconut shells, maize, and different kinds of foreign starches. Perhaps the commonest adulterant is ground olive stones which is common in adulterant that it is called "Pivrette" or "Little pepper," by the authorities.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Breakwater at Escuminac, N. B." will be received at this office until 4 p.m. on Wednesday October 25, 1911, for the construction of a Breakwater at Escuminac, Northumberland County, N. B.

RECIPROCITY SURE,
SAYS DR. PEDLEY

(Montreal Star)

There should be an interchange of produce between two countries like the United States and Canada, and reciprocity not only in the tariff but in everything will ultimately and must inevitably come.

In such terms spoke the Rev. Hugh Pedley, before a large congregation in the Emmanuel Congregational Church, last evening.

He pointed out that there were already a certain amount of reciprocity. We send men across the border and people from across the border have been pouring into our western provinces by the thousands every year. Canada and the United States are so situated that in the opinion of the preacher reciprocity may be fought off for a time but it cannot be downed and the ultimate end will be free and open interchange of everything as in the olden times between Tyre and Israel.

He said that the two countries, Canada and the United States were as a young man and a man advanced in years. Canada is as yet young and inexperienced, and she could learn much from the United States which was much older, and wiser, therefore capable of teaching and instructing its neighbor.

The speaker said also that the United States had much we did not want, and in fact that the Americans do not want themselves and should there there at any time become a close and intimate relationship between the two countries, he prayed that Canada should be spared from some of the curses that exist in the United States. He touched on the high death rate through carelessness in the American factories and railroads. There was the curse of readily granted divorces, and the absence in certain sections of a young generation. Yellow journalism was one of the evils that might spread and it was probable might pollute the country and people were permitted on this side of the line. There were other things also that would threaten Canada's purity, things the Americans themselves deplored but could not help.

NEFARIOUS APPEALS TO RELIGIOUS PREJUDICE

(Montreal Herald)

"La Presse" is vicious; the "Witness" is stupid; the "Orange Sentinel" is mischievous. All this we learn from our evening Conservative contemporary. It is interesting as an analysis by a candid friend of the character of these newspapers but it can hardly be accepted as a full explanation of why in Ontario circulation was given to the doggerel of which we published a few specimen stanzas the other day. On its face this alleged poetry was meant to influence Protestants against the Catholics and therefore against Laurier. It is charged that it was so used by the Ontario allies of our Conservative contemporary and "The Orange Sentinel" lends color to the charge by claiming the defeat of Laurier in Ontario as a Protestant victory.

It is not necessary for us to rush to the defence of the three papers attacked. They are quite capable of taking care of themselves. But it is quite in place to point out that abuse of these journals does not clear away the stain that rests upon a section of Mr. Borden's following by the dissemination of this villanous and incendiary appeal to bigotry. If the St. James Street Conservative paper can prove that its friends had neither part nor parcel in this nefarious work it will better satisfy the Roman Catholics of this city, and all Protestants who abhor the introduction of religious passions into election contests, than by hurling opprobrious adjectives at those public journals which have drawn attention to succeeding Lieutenant General Schofield's evil.
