TWO NEW INFELDERS SECURED BY LOCAL CLUB

Bob Conley Reports Today and George E. Sullivan Tomorrow--Players' Committee Decides on Shakeup in Infield--Fans Demand That Team be Strengthened.

The Players' Committee of the Fredericton Baseball Club has taken immediate steps to strengthen the infield of the team. Bob Conley, of Dorchester, Mass., left Boston yesterday to arrive here today, and George E. Sullivan, also of Dorchester, is expected to report here tomorrow. Both players are infielders and are highly recommended. They will be given a thorough work-out before being put on the team.

Bob Conley is a brother of Larry Conley of the Fredericton team, and played last year in the New York State League. He is a six-footer and has a reputation for heavy-hitting. Sullivan has been with the Cincinnati team this season and also with the New Britain team of the Connecticut League. The latter team was disbanded when the Connecticut League was cut to eight teams, and so Sullivan is at liberty to come to Fredericton.

STRONGER INFIELD NEEDED.

The Players' Committee has taken the step of importing more players because its members have determined to make the infield of the Fredericton team equal to any in the N. B. & Maine League. The local men on the team have been given every opportunity to get into the game and show themselves capable of holding down their positions. It is the opinion of the members of the committee that the infield has shown itself to be decidedly weak in recent games and that opinion was strengthened by what went on at Scully's Grove on Saturday when Woodstock won 4 to 2. The fans have demanded that the team be strengthened and the committee has decided to strengthen it, and will continue so to do until its standard is as good or better than that of the other teams of the league

THURSDAY'S GAME.

On Thursday the Marathons will play here, the game beginning at 3.20 p.m. It is possible that the new players will be seen in action on that day.

WOLGAST RULING
SLIGHT FAVORITE
IN TONIGHT'S BOUT
Both Moran and Yankee Lightweight in Fine Condition--Englishman Has the Punch.

Of the many bouts scheduled for this week the one between Ad Wolgast and Owen Moran at San Francisco tomorrow for the lightweight championship is the most important. That champion Wolgast is to meet with a stubborn battle to retain the title appears to be the opinion of the fans, but those who have been following the champion since he defeated Battling Nelson expect to see him win.

That Wolgast has never been extended is the belief of the good judges of the game. Moran, who is the best man he has met, will it is thought, make him display all he knows about the sport.

Wolgast has shown in nearly all his battles that he can assimilate punishment in great shape and he can hand it out harder and as fast as any one in the game. Moran is a trickier and more experienced boxer than Wolgast but the latter has the better punch and besides does not fear punishment. He feels confident that he can defeat Moran before the limit of the bout which is 20 rounds and that means that he will carry the fight to Moran all the time.

Moran has a good punch but whether it is hard enough to check the winning career of Wolgast remains to be seen, but the sports generally do not think it has force enough behind it to do the trick Moran is just as pure alightweight as Wolgast.

The latest betting on the battle is 10 to 7 which is figured about the right odds to give on Wolgast.

While the champion is battling to retain his title his brother Johnny Wolgast, will be seeking honors in the ring at Muskegon, Mich. The younger Wolgast has only been a short time in the game but is touted as a very promising boxer.
