J. M. ROBINSON & SONS WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REVIEW

NEW YORK.

This week's market has been a continuation of remarkable and unexpected developments as regards variation of prices and activity in trading. On three days the total shares traded in have been well over a million and in one case well over two million shares, the greatest activity seen in more than a year. This in itself is sufficient matter for comment and would make this market distinctly an object of interest, but added to this great activity there has been a very curious range of prices. On Monday week, Tuesday was strong, Wednesday the market went both ways, Thursday it was quiet with a good undertone, and Friday still more quiet with a tendency, if anything, towards slightly lower prices.

The storm centre this week has been United States Steel stocks, owing apparently to the fear of government investigation. Late utterances, however, by the authorities have had a quieting effect and it is not likely that there will be any further fireworks in these particular stocks.

Wednesday was the day of greatest activity and greatest change and, speaking of the day, The New York Post says:

"Such a market cannot safely be judged except in its immediate sequel. But it may be recalled that days of similarly chaotic movements, on a similarly prodigious scale, have been witnessed, not once, but on half a dozen occasions, at times when the wild 'bull movements' of years like 1901, 1906 and 1909, under the auspices of the new generation of speculative capitalists, were reaching their culmination. Then, as now, there would be stretches of hours when it was impossible for the reader of the tape to determine whether a disastrous general collapse was under way or the market was starting with renewed fury to achieve far higher prices.

The causes which made those markets possible in the 'boom days' were exactly the same as those which made possible the bewildering market of today—the quite unprecedented amount of concentrated capital which is devoted today to day stock exchange speculation."

MONEY.

Money on call in American centres is easy and in plentiful supply. The Bank of Montreal rate is unchanged and the statement of that institution shows but little variation from that of the previous week. Conditions in this regard are entirely favorable to a more active stock market and advancing prices.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

General conditions are undoubtedly strained as instanced by the declaration of war between Italy and Turkey and European finances are evidently not in the prosperous condition one could hope, as illustrated by a prominent bank failure in Germany on Friday. It is remarkable on the face of these happenings that the New York market has shown no response, but rather remains strong.

MONTREAL.

The Montreal market has continued its strength and activity in face of the excited and fluctuating conditions in New York. This is a great matter of congratulation on the part of Canadians, for it is the Montreal market alone which has been practically wholly unaffected by the decline in New York, all other exchanges in the world having felt the influence.

MONTREAL STREET.

A special meeting of the shareholders has been called for next Thursday to secure authority of the shareholders in the matter of the purchase of the Park and Island Terminal roads and their transfer to the Montreal Street Railway. It is expected that these roads, with the Central Company, will be brought together under the name of the Montreal Tramways and that there will be a distribution to the present shareholders of new stock and possibly a bonus. With regard to the earnings of the Montreal Street they have never been better, showing increases over last year in earnings and decreases in operating expenses, and the present high price of the stock is in anticipation of some readjustment such as suggested above.

DOMINION CANNERS.

Our advice from Montreal this week are to the effect that there is likely to be a strong advance in the stock of this company. The Financial Post, in its last issue, says that it has been predicted that the common stock of Canners should cross 75 within the next fortnight. Just what price this stock should advance to is of course problematical. It is, however, fairly definitely known that a dividend will be declared by the Company this autumn. It will be remembered that the statement of the Company for the year ending December 31st last year was a most remarkable one so far as earnings were regarded and that on the strength of this statement the 6 per cent bonds of this Company found a very ready and a very strong market. It is understood that the current year has been equally successful and that very large profits are being made by the Company so that they will be in a position to pay any reasonable rate of dividend on the common stock the directors may judge fit.

CANADA CEMENT.

Ever since the election, there has been greater activity in trading in Canada Cement shares and prices have been well maintained. To quote The Financial Post, "the general position of the Company is understood to be improving all the time, which will doubtless be reflected in the price of the shares from time to time."

BONDS.

The bond market has been extremely dull of late and it is quite a question when improvement will take place. Judging from the lack of tenders for the recently offered Montreal loan and other indications, it would seem that the demand has about reached its lowest end and that there should very shortly be a marked improvement in the inquiry.

CANADA IRON CORPORATION.

This concern seems to have experienced a very satisfactory year, the balance sheet for the year ending 31st May last showing a decrease in indirect liabilities from $158,475 to $52,469. Reserves for contingencies have been reduced from $22,141 to $14,951 in consequence. The most striking increase, however, is in the profits which for this year are $401,085 against $265,836 for 1910 and after allowing for bond interest and various other expenses, net earnings applicable to dividends on stocks amounts this year to $210,380, as compared with $18,994 for the previous year. This is a particularly good showing for this Company, which has mines and factories at a number of places, including the mine at Bathurst, N.B., and that of Torbrook, N.S.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL AT METHODIST CHURCH LAST EVENING

The audience which heard the recital by Gatty Sellars the great English Organist-Composer and Mr. William Short, L. R. A. M., the King's Trumpeter, at the Methodist Church last night was small the majority of music-lovers of Fredericton evidently not being aware of what they were missing. The program consisted mainly of compositions by Gatty Sellars. There were also the Coronation and other trumpet calls by Mr. Short. An organist of the ability of Mr. Sellars has never been heard in Fredericton and the music which he produced was a revelation to all who heard.

The program follows:—

PART I.

1. Concert Toccata in C P. J. Mansfield
2. (a) Repose Gatty Sellars
- (b) Cradle Song Gatty Sellars
3. Song, The Survey of the Cross..... Gatty Sellars

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to be exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is turning gray or coming out, don't delay, but get a bottle of this remedy to-day, and see what a few days' treatment will be done for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

WRITER IN FAR WEST PRAISES ELWOOD BURTT

To the Editor of The Daily Mail

Dear Sir:—As I spend my leisure time in reading papers from home and as my home happens to be in New Brunswick somewhat closer to the man who wants reciprocity than the witty correspondent of the Gleaner who signs himself "Very truly yours, Kingsclear" I feel it my duty as a man who has been brought up with Mr. Elwood Burtt and who has worked in his employ both in his mill and lumber camps and who can speak from experience (as I have worked for lumber companies through many parts of Canada both east and west) I can honestly say that I never worked for a more honest and practical man than Mr. Burtt. He pays one hundred cents to the dollar and always pays the standard wages I have worked for this gentleman without ever setting the wages and in the spring he paid standard wages and now Mr. Editor I fear would do that for the jealous writer who slanders a man who started but a few years ago with three hundred dollars and although he has met with heavy losses in many ways, yet through hard work and honesty has prospered. I am not talking because I expect to work for this man again as I am many miles from his employment now and expect to remain unless the farmer of York county has a more promising market in the future than he has had in the past. But I do wish Mr. Burtt prosperity and if it is his ambition to have five automobiles and pays for them whose business is it? And if his employees are satisfied with their wages why should "Kingsclear" kick?

Mr. S. B. Hatheway is a perfect pondent had no better ground to stranger to me but if the corrector criticize him than he had Mr. Burtt, he had better sign his name Springfield because Mr. Burtt was always held to be a gentleman among his friends and neighbors and I have heard it remarked by Conservatives that Mr. Burtt has done more for the community at large than any other man in that place.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have only cast two ballots in my life and they were for the Conservative party, but in the present election I feel it my duty to cast my vote for reciprocity and I don't expect to receive one cent of either Canadian or Yankee money for it and yet I don't claim to be any more liberal than a Conservative, neither am I a politician nor do I think a man should be able to judge between good and bad and it seems to me if Kingsclear had raised potatoes paying thirty-three dollars per ton for phosphate and sold them for forty cents a barrel he would be looking for a better market as I believe the majority of the farmers of the Dominion of Canada are looking for today.

Now Mr. Editor, don't you think any man who polls a vote has a right to face the public and tell them his reasons for supporting the pact which he confidently believes will defend his country without being picked up by some sharper who endeavors to deceive the public and did not sign his name, which is sufficient proof that he had no foundation for his argument.

Thanking you for your space in your valuable paper.

Yours truly,

DAVID B. BIRD,
