Along the three thousand miles of frontier between Canada and the United States it is impossible to maintain a Chinese wall. The reciprocal pressure of human convenience and human wants between two peoples speaking the same language would require the removal of the wall sooner or later.--London, Eng., Spectator

Mr. Carvell spoke for about an hour, taking up the various phases of the reciprocity question. Among other points which he took 'up was the question of the effect of the trade agreement upon the laboring man. He showed clearly that the increased demand for labor and the increased wages which must result from reciprocity would far more than equal any slight advance which there might possibly come He took up also the different alleged objections raised against the agreement by opponents of the measure and in a conclusive way showed that the arguments made by the per sons who are fighting the trade pol icy contradict one another in every instance.
