

"BLACK HAND" AT WORK IN QUEBEC

Quebec, July 23—Police authorities are today looking for an unknown agent of the Black Hand, who would export $1,000 from Thomasso Zacharia, Italian grocer, whose house was gutted by fire early yesterday morning. The Black Hand writer threatened to burn Zacharia in his house if he did not pay up. Zacharia refused to be blackmailed, and his house was set afire.

WERE NOT AROUND.

Strong wind Friday afternoon sent clouds of dust flying about in Regent and Queen streets. There were many enquiries in regard to the "whereabouts of the water wagon."

The Original and Only Genuine Beware Of Imitations Sold on the Merits of Minards Liniment

Was Never Free From Diarrhoea

More Than a Month at a Time Suffered Greatly, But DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HIM

Mr. P. Victor, Peterborough, Ont., writes: "I would be very much surprised if I could find a person who has suffered greater from diarrhoea and sickness than I have, never being free from it for more than a month at a time. Many a time I have contemplated taking my life. Several visits from leading physicians failed to do me any good. A friend of mine, who knew how I suffered, visited me one day, bringing with him some of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which after I had taken a few doses, gave me great relief. I sincerely hope this will catch the eye of those who suffer with the same complaint as I did."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for close on to seventy years, and has been so universally used, from one end of Canada to the other, that many firms have undertaken to produce a substitute for it, and even going so far as to claim that their preparation is "The Same" or "Just as Good."

Do not accept their word for this, as these no-name, no-reputation imitations may be dangerous to your health.

Ask for "Dr. Fowler's" and insist on being given what you ask for.

The price of the original and genuine is 35 cents, and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE UNCANDID MARY

Mary had a little shoe, It certainly looked well; But when she went out for a walk Her corns would give her Hall Columbia.

—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mary had a little glove; Now this is on the level; It made her hand look small, but oh It pinched her like the mischief.

—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Mary's heaped-up mass of hair Was very largely sham, It made her head ache frightfully. But she didn't give a whoop.

MOVIE MAN KILLED BY A LION

The thousands of persons who saw Paul Rainey's wild animal moving pictures were given photographic proof of the dangers braved by the man who obtained them. Several times the life of the photographer was saved by the marksmanship of a hunter. At one time a rhinoceros was charging toward the moving picture machine, when a bullet felled him. At another time a rhinoceros charged against a tree in which was perched the photographer.

The wonderful pictures at the water pool were taken while the photographer was on a little platform in a swaying tree. He was surrounded by beasts of the jungle, who easily could have killed him had they known of his presence and exerted their strength.

The success of the pictures induced others to brave the manifold dangers of the African wilds, and in the following dispatch the hazardous nature of the enterprise is illustrated.

Nairobi, British East African Protectorate, January 27—An encounter with a lion caused the death here today of Fritz Schindler, a member of an American moving picture expedition engaged in taking pictures of wild animals in their natural surroundings in Africa. Schindler with others belonging to the expedition, was attempting to photograph a lion in the jungle when the animal sprang upon him.

The Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures have been secured by the Gaiety Theatre at an enormous cost and will be presented in Fredericton on Friday and Saturday, July 31st and Aug. 1st.

The proportion of gainful workers in the female population of the United States ten years of age and over increased from 14.7 to 23.4 per cent. from 1880 to 1890, according to a report recently made public by the Bureau of Census.

NEWS FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

Washington, D.C., July 25—It has been a long time since the national capital has seen so much official activity in mid-summer as is the case at present. Ordinarily at this season of the year the machinery of the government slows down almost to a standstill. But with congress in session and the president and heads of the departments all at their desks, with important developments in the Mexican situation of almost daily occurrence, with presidential conferences with the representatives of "big business" on the tapis, with the railroads of the country in a state of watchful waiting—under these circumstances, it is scarcely possible for the Washingtonian to distinguish the season from mid-winter, were it not for the extreme heat.

The hot weather of the past few weeks has imbued the powers with a strong desire to get away on their vacations before vacation time is entirely ended, and in consequence it is likely that the congressional mill will be speeded up from now on. Even so, there is little prospect that the congressmen will be able to get away in time to escape any of the heat of summer.

Thousands of persons from all parts of the country are expected to gather along the eight miles of waterway at the formal opening of the Cape Cod Canal next Wednesday. The governor of Massachusetts and other dignitaries, including probably a representative of President Wilson, will speak. The new water route will cost $12,000,000 and was built by a corporation headed by August Belmont of New York. The canal will shorten the distance seventy miles for coasters sailing into Boston and in addition will eliminate the dangerous passage around Cape Cod.

Union and Confederate survivors of the battle of the crater, which took place on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va., July 30, 1861, have been invited to participate in a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the engagement, which is to be held on the battlefield next Thursday. The battle is regarded by many historians as the most notable of the Virginia campaign, as it delayed the surrender of the Confederate troops for nearly a year.

Many competitions of interest to followers of sport and athletics are scheduled for the week. Included in the list will be the elimination tennis matches for the Davis Cup, the Grand Circuit races at Detroit, the trial races for the America Cup defender, the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club, the Royal Canadian Henley regatta at St. Catharines, Ont., the automobile races at Galveston, Texas, and the international motorboat races at Lake George for the championship of North America.

Among the notable gatherings of the week will be the annual national convention of the United States, the Loyal Order of Moose in Milwaukee, the annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations in Washington, D. C.; the fifth annual meeting of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America in London, England, and the Twelfth International Ophthalmological Congress in St. Petersburg, Russia.
