KIRK PICNIC.

The annual Kirk picnic will be held Thursday August 13. Further particulars will be announced later. —2 ins.

THE BEST YET.

The big midsummer sales at R. L. Blacks are always watched for with interest. His great sale next Wednesday will be the best yet. Read his ad on page 3.

FOR TOURISTS.

The Secretary of the Tourist Association will be glad to receive addresses at the Board of Trade Rooms on Queen Street, of people who can take roomers or boarders. Inquiries are often received there for table board or roomers.

SUCCESSFUL PICNIC.

Messrs. James and John Harding of Manguerville, are in the city today settling up the accounts in connection with the Manguerville Union Temperance picnic. They say the picnic was in every way the most successful they have ever held.

STEAMSHIP NOTICE.

In future the D. J. Purdy will leave for wharf at Fredericton at 8 o'clock every Tuesday and Saturday instead of at 7.30 in order to take picnics down river if any should want to go. On Thursday the steamer will leave in her regular time, 7.30 picnic or no picnic.

HALIFAX TOURISTS.

J. A. McDonald, with his wife and child, R. W. Elliott and wife, N. E. Copp and A. E. McDonald arrived here by automobile yesterday and registered at Windsor Hall. They are on a motor tour, which began at Halifax. They went on to Woodstock this morning.

THE COTTON MILL.

Manager Dolphin of the Marysville Cotton Mill, assures The Mail that the published report to the effect the mill is to shut down next week for a fortnight is not correct. He has received no orders to that effect and is hopeful that none will be received.

WILL COME HERE.

St. Omer Commandery, Knights Templar, of Dorchester, Mass., will go on a pilgrimage to St. John, N. B., August 9, returning home on the following day. They will be brought to Fredericton via the St. John River by the St. John Knights Templar as part of their entertainment.

WINDSOR HALL ARRIVAL.

Arrivals at Windsor Hall are as follows:—J. V. Kenney, H. J. Marshall, Boston; C. F. Stebbings, Lindsay, N.B.; H. C. Creswell, Sussex; H. S. Sloat, Aroostook Junction; R. A. Corbett, St. John; Dr. Dougan, Harvey Station; A. P. Ryan, St. John; H. J. Turner and wife, Augusta, Me.; James H. McGrath, St. John.

A GREAT PAPER.

The circulation of The St. John Telegraph on Friday reached a total of 18,000 copies, thus establishing a new record for the maritime provinces. Here in Fredericton since the graft enquiry was started, the demand for The Telegraph has been unprecedented. This morning every copy was sold out shortly after ten o'clock and dozens of people were disappointed.

COULD NOT REMEMBER.

Robert Brooks, a young Indian of the St. Mary's Reserve, appeared before the police court this morning on the charge of drunkenness. He informed Police Magistrate Lamerick that he could not remember from whom he got the liquor. His Honor gave young Brooks a severe lecture and informed all in the court that loss of memory in future would cease to be accepted by himself as a reason for not giving the names of persons supplying liquor. The accused was arrested last night by his own father, Solomon Brooks, the Indian policeman at St. Mary's, who did not let parental feelings interfere with the discharge of his duty.

THE GRAFT MOTH.

There has been an influx of brown moths to the city during the past week, and myriads of them, are seen nightly clustered about the arc lights which illuminate the streets. This moth has been called the "graft moth" because it made its advent here during the first summer following Hon. J. Kidd Fleming's accession to premiership. It was first seen near the Parliament Buildings, and has reappeared each succeeding year in increased numbers. Last night about two million of these moths clustered about the street lamp in Queen street in front of the Royal Bank Building where Mr. H. F. McLeod has his office and about four million held forth around the arc lamps adjacent to the departmental buildings.

DEPRESSION HAS NOT AFFECTED LOCAL EXPORTS TO STATES

Good's Worth More Than Quarter of Million Shipped During First Quarter of 1914--Second Quarter Kept Well up

Depression in business is reported from many parts of Canada, but has not reached this part of New Brunswick, according to the statement of exports to the United States, which are invoiced through the United States consular agency in Fredericton. For the first quarter of 1914 goods entered for export at that office were valued at $258,000. A statement for the second quarter of the year has not been prepared yet, but the export trade to the United States kept up well during the period and is also good in the present quarter.

Lumber is the chief item of the export trade with the States. For the first quarter the value of lumber was $194,000. Laths were valued at $21,000 in addition. Hay was valued at $21,000. The products of the two larrigan factories located in Fredericton alone made a considerable item, but no figures are available.

One noticeable feature of the lumber trade with the United States is the falling off in the quantity of cedar shingles, being shipped across the line. This is said to be due in a great measure to the building ordinances in American towns and cities, which forbids the use of wooden shingles on account of the fire risk.

The trade in live cattle has become quite a large item in the export trade of the province. This is carried on chiefly along the border, cattle being driven on foot into the State of Maine.

"WHITECHAPEL" ALMOST A THING OF THE PAST

One Resident Still Holding Fort--Refused to Leave His Dwelling When Ordered to do so by the Police

That district of Fredericton which has been known for years past as "Whitechapel," is now almost a thing of the past. But two of the buildings which originally comprised the place are now standing on their former sites and they are to be moved shortly. Other buildings have either been destroyed or removed. Argyle street joins Smythe street right at the heart of "Whitechapel" and runs right through the place. A water-main has already been laid in Argyle street and a fire hydrant is located at the corner of Smythe street. A crew of employees of the water and sewerage department is following the water service with sewerage and surface sewers will come later. The final result will be that the district from one which was well known in police circles, will be one of the best residential sections of Fredericton.

Alex. Hoyt is still holding the fort in one of the buildings on the right-of-way of Argyle street, but is the last of the inhabitants of "Whitechapel" to stay, the other colored residents having left. The city recently purchased the land and houses from W. E. Seery and sold the buildings to Harley J. Patterson on the condition that they be removed. A few days ago Detective James Roberts visited Hoyt's dwelling and ordered the occupants to vacate. They refused and Hoyt sought legal advice.
