LOCAL NAVIES BEST

The London Spectator, as every well-informed reader knows, is strongly Unionist in its politics. This is its well-considered view of the question of naval defence in the overseas Dominions:

"If we turn from the past to the future we may see how well and truly the theory of sea power is developing overseas. The Spectator during the last fifteen years, sometimes, we fear, to the horror and amazement of our naval readers, has advocated local and colonial navies, and this in spite of our full recognition of the fact that naval power to be effective must be centralized and not localized, and that home waters, whether for England or the Colonies, are by no means necessarily the place in which our homes are defended. We felt however, that the essential thing was to interest and so to instruct the Britons overseas in the truths and realities of sea power. Next we realized that they could not attain to that interest unless they had navies which they could call their own, and feel were their own because they had provided them. The notion of hiring sea power and of paying our admiral so much a year to protect them was, we knew, a barren idea from which no real help could ever come."

The best informed opinion in the Old Country, as in Canada, is in favor of the Laurier policy which is the only practicable policy and above all, the safest policy for Canada to adopt.

It will not mean that Canada will have her own navy, but will mean the establishment of mammoth ship-building plants in the Maritime Provinces.

SOME GOOD REASONS

A writer of more than ordinary ability gives a baker's dozen of reasons why he should buy at home instead of placing his patronage elsewhere. While apparently directed against the mail order houses, they apply equally as well to that class of individuals who are so long on bargains and so short on civic pride, that they place their orders in another community, to the disadvantage of the present and future prosperity of their own. Here they are:

Because my interests are here.
Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.
Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.
Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.
Because my home dealer carries me when I run short.
Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of my town.
Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.
Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Hartland Observer:—Over in Aroostook County oats are bringing 75 cents a bushel and hay $22 a ton. Yet on account of there being so much more profit in potatoes the farmers there raise little of either crop for their own use. The balked reciprocity issue prevented New Brunswick farmers from sharing this market—duties of 25 cents a bushel on oats and $4.00 a ton on hay take the profit off.

Score one for the Fredericton High School—Miss Esther Clark, one of its pupils, has the honor of leading the province in the matriculation examinations. The Mail heartily congratulates Miss Clark and it heartily congratulates Principal Foster on the showing made. In the matter of educational facilities Fredericton takes second place to none.

The new roadmaster has been doing good work on the roads and streets this year. He should now give his attention to the grass crop which grows about the streets.

The announcement that the Borden government will make a gift of dreadnoughts to the mother country appears to be premature. The premier says that the naval policy of the government will not be announced until after he returns to Canada and consults with his colleagues.

If the parties who are installing an iron fence around the Officers' Square would get a move on they might get the job completed before snow flies.

The Canadian Premier and his colleagues seem to have been royally entertained in Paris. It looks as if Canada would always be a factor in maintaining the entente cordiale.

If the weather man will only do his part Old Home Week will be a grand success.

It is almost time that the federal authorities were making a start on the proposed improvements to the post office building.

AFTER HAY-SHIPPIERS

The St. John Board of Trade has been agitating for some time against river steamers carrying loosely baled hay from upriver districts. The board members say, with others, that it is very dangerous to have loosely baled hay in passenger steamers. The matter has been taken up with the marine department at Ottawa and a letter was received yesterday by the secretary of the Board of Trade from the marine department stating that the steam board inspector at St. John had been ordered to enforce the law in regard to the shipment of hay on the river steamers.

HEAVY REALIZING SALES
SOFTENS STOCK MARKET

(By direct private wires to J. C. Mackintosh & Co., 604 Queen Street, Fredericton, N.B.)

New York, Aug. 2.—The stock market opening was active and strong, although the market was obliged to take heavy volume of realizing. Bear traders seemed to derive some encouragement from a statement of Congressman Redfield qualifying the interview which he had given out on Wednesday but the Street in general thought that what Mr. Redfield had said when his enthusiasm overcame his discretion was more important than what he said after realizing the imprudence of telling what had passed at a private conference.

L. V. crossed 170 and R. I. stocks showed continuance of bullish activity. The accumulation of Southern Railway stocks appeared to be in progress. Hill issues were among the strong features and it was confidently asserted in well informed quarters that the spring wheat crop would be the largest on record.

ALLEGED CRUELTY

Secretary Wetmore of the S.P.C.A. was in Woodstock yesterday for an investigation in a case of alleged ill-treatment of a young girl. The matter is now in the hands of the local society which has instructions to take what steps are necessary to prosecute those who are responsible for any further ill-treatment of the child. The affair has caused considerable talk and some comment is heard concerning the evident desire of some persons to hush the matter up. It is rumored that a ladies' society in town may take action in the matter.

TO SEND DELEGATES

At a meeting of the Chatham firemen Monday evening, it was decided, after a good deal of discussion, that the firemen as a body should not attend the firemen's reunion being held in Fredericton during Old Home Week, owing to the high railway rates, but that two delegates should be sent. Chief Fitzpatrick and Captain Ryan were chosen to attend from Chatham.

GRAND LODGE, I. O. O. F.

UNIQUE ANIMAL ACT

The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows have the most unique trained animal act ever produced, composed of bears, ponies and blue faced monkeys. Professor Chas. Duncan, who has created this act, says without doubt there is not another act in the world to equal it. The blue faced monkeys which are used in this act are a great specimen of animal intelligence, being as near the missing link as can be found. Words will not express the many remarkable qualities of human intelligence that are shown by these blue faced monkeys. The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows will exhibit at Fredericton on August 9th.

EASTERN METHODS ON THE PRAIRIE

The western farmer with all his interests devoted to grain-raising, very often is able to boast bigger crop returns to his old neighbors in the east who have continued to follow the rule of farming that gives live stock raising, fruit growing, dairying and crop growing each a place, but occasionally disaster visits his part of the prairie and he is forced to look east for relief. This spring, when many western farmers found themselves with thousands of bushels of frozen wheat on their hands, the folly of "carrying all their eggs in one basket" must have struck them forcibly, if not painfully. The damaged grain could only be used in one way for a profit. Mr. Simon Dymont of Allandale, who owns farms both east and west, was one of a number to appreciate the situation. He had the manager of his eastern farm buy up several hundred hogs from the Barrie district and ship them to the prairie to convert the frozen wheat into high-priced pork. Why did he not ship the wheat east? The reason is plain. There are so few mixed farmers in the west that the Winnipeg market maintains the highest price for hogs in the Dominion.

Stick a pin through the cork of every bottle that contains poison, and you may save tragic mistakes when searching for medicine in the dark.
Brooms should always hang when not in use. When left on the floor they loose their shape, and will not do good work. Have a hole bored through the handle four inches from the end and large enough to slip over an ordinary nail.
