DON'T GROW BALD

It's Quite Needless. Nourish the
Hair Roots—Remove Dandruff
Use Parisian Sage

If your hair is getting thin, losing color, or has that matted, lifeless and scraggy appearance, the reason is evident—dandruff and failure to keep the hair roots properly nourished.

Parisian Sage applied frequently for a week and then occasionally is all that is needed. It removes dandruff with one application; almost immediately stops falling hair and itching head; cleanses, cools and invigorates the scalp and makes dull, stringy hair soft, abundant and radiant with life. Equally good for men, women or children—everyone needs it.

This refreshing hair tonic can be had at any drug or toilet counter in fifty cents bottles only. J. A. Ryan always sell it with agreement to refund the money if you are not satisfied.

Get a bottle at once. Delighted users say Parisian Sage is the best and most invigorating hair tonic made.

WORLD CHURCH

PEACE COUNCIL

New York, July 22—Representatives of numerous religious denominations including both clergy and laymen, sailed from this city today to attend the world church peace council which is to be held early next month in Constance, Switzerland. The council is intended as a preliminary step toward a church peace congress of monumental proportions to be held in 1916 at the time of the Hague Peace Conference. It is understood that the congress will be held under the auspices of the Church Peace Union, which was founded by Andrew Carnegie recently with an endowment of $2,000,000. The union was organized that the clergy might be used as a medium toward bringing about arbitration of international disputes. Dr. David H. Greer, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, is the president of the union and among his eminent members are Cardinals Gibbons and Farley.

The coming meeting in Constance will be attended by delegates from the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Norway, Russia, Belgium, Italy and Austria. Prominent among the members of the American delegation will be Bishop E. R. Hendrix of Kansas City, Bishop J. W. Hamilton of Boston, Rev. William Adams Brown of Union Theological Seminary, Rev. Walter Laidlaw of the Federation of Churches, Edwin D. Mead, secretary of the World Peace Foundation, and Hamilton Holt, the New York editor.

INSECTOLOGY

Of work the bee is not afraid,
And hard times can't expel it.
For when it gets its honey trade
It knows just where to sell it.
Cincinnati Enquirer.

Consider, too, the little gnat,
He's fortunate in that he,
Whatever the styles are—thin or fat—
Can hang on to look gnatty.
—Chicago Inter Ocean.

And then we know there is the ant,
Who works to beat the band,
And really does a pile of work
Because it's got the sand.
—Yonkers Statesman.

Do not forget mosquitoes,
These little beasts, so rum,
Who stick around each evening,
For they always stay to hum.
—Daily Advertiser

Still yet there is the spider,
With its legs so long and thin,
The life it leads is childish,
Because it likes to spin.

Ald. Osborne spent Sunday with his family at Sand Point, returning home today.

COLD CHEERLESS HOMES

Igloos of Eskimos Crowded and Unsanitary

The igloos used by the Eskimos of the bleak north are small in size necessarily overcrowded, and every crevice is carefully sealed during the long winter months in order to maintain a comfortable temperature within. The different forms of dwellings on the Arctic coast are the sod igloos which are the standard and are constructed on two different plans.

The first type of igloo, with windows and doors in the walls, is a frame structure of logs or lumber. The walls and roof are covered thickly with sod, and one or two windows are set into the walls. The home contains two separate compartments which are connected by a small door. The living-room proper and the entrance. The shed is somewhat smaller in size than the living quarters and is used as a storeroom for provisions, clothing, sleds, and other articles too numerous to mention. The entrance into the igloo is also constructed of timber, and covered with sod, but the plan of construction differs somewhat from the one just described. This igloo also has two compartments, a living-room and a storeroom, connected by a low passageway. The entrance into the home is through an open hatch in the roof of the entry by means of a ladder. Then by passing through the tunnel one enters the living-room.

The living-room of some of the igloos are curtained off to separate the sleeping quarters from other parts of the household, but the majority have no such arrangements, all the household duties being conducted in the single room. The furniture equipment usually consists of a small stove, a few dishes, and improvised beds. The board floor, which is usually fairly clean, serves the purpose of chairs and tables. A few of the families own sewing machines and occasionally a phonograph.

THE BEGUM OF BHOPAL

Javanese Marriages

A marriage among the Javanese is quite a lengthy ordeal. Such a thing as courtship is practically unknown. The parents choose partners for their children, although the latter are consulted and their consent obtained. The parents discuss among themselves the terms of the marriage, and then the girl's parents give a betrothal pledge to those of the bridegroom, who soon after offer the purchase price for the bride in silver, jewels, stuns, food, and so on. Each of the girl's parents also receives some special personal gift. On the day when the presents are delivered all the relatives and friends on both sides are invited to a series of festivities and banquets, which last several days, being furnished first by one side and then by the other. The eve of the actual wedding, which usually takes place a week later, is spent by the future husband and wife in a vigil, without which it is thought that great ill-fortune would follow. Next day the happy couple, with their parents and friends, appear before the priest, who duly unites them.

A healthy person must eat healthy food. Do you know how to distinguish healthy from unhealthy food? For instance, a good egg will sink in water. Boiled eggs which adhere to the shell are fresh. The shell of a fresh egg has a lime-like surface.

Locomotor ataxia is a chronic, progressive disease of the nervous system. It affects the spinal cord particularly. On this account it interferes with muscular co-ordination. It causes the gait of the patient to be irregular and uncertain.

The British coast is so well protected with lighthouses that if a ship sailed right round England, Scotland and Ireland by night, only on six occasions would it be where it could not see the flash of a lighthouse lantern.
