

NEARLY IN CONVULSIONS

With Acute Indigestion.
"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Me.

NEWBURY, ONT., MAY 29th, 1913
"I am not a strenuous user of medicines or patent medicines, but I have taken nearly everything recommended for Indigestion and Constipation."

I have been so bad with Acute Indigestion that I was nearly in convulsions and had to be held. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" and I have not had another attack nor suffered at all with Indigestion since taking them.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy I ever used that did me any good, and I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives" for making me as well as I am today, and everyone agrees that I look in first-class health.

My husband likes "Fruit-a-tives" very much and takes them whenever he has occasion to use a remedy for Constipation."

Mrs. D. McRAE

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or will be sent to any address on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

G. A. R. MEMORIAL DEDICATED TODAY

Topeka, Kan., May 27.—What is likely to be the last great reunion of the civil war veterans of Kansas was held here today in connection with the dedication of the G. A. R. Memorial Building. The Memorial Building was erected by the State and is one of the finest edifices of its kind in the country. It is three stories in height and constructed throughout of steel and marble. In addition to providing a large auditorium, library and other conveniences for the Grand Army and affiliated societies, the building is to serve as a State museum and a home for the State Historical Society and the Academy of Science of Kansas.

Good Boots

Talking about a shortage of food at one period during his last expedition, Sir Ernest Shackleton told an amusing story of one of his companions.

On his return to England his boot maker met him and asked: "How did you find those boots I made for you?" "Best I ever tasted!" was the prompt reply.

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN FREDERICTON

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. Mr. George Y. Diblee states that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.

FEEDING YOUNG CHICKENS

A Few Suggestions Given by the Poultry Division, Experimental Farm, Ottawa

When the chick is hatched it has a sufficient supply of nourishment in the yolk of the egg to last it for several days. What the chick requires for the first few days is not feed but warmth and rest.

When the chicks are removed to their brooding quarters there should be some coarse sand or fine chick grit scattered where they can have free access to it. They should then be left until they show positive signs of hunger which would be between the second and third day after hatching. They may be given some bread crumbs that have been very slightly moistened with milk; this may be scattered on clean sand or chick grit if being brooded by a hen she will see that no food is allowed to lie around, but if in a brooder that part of the food that the chicks do not pick up in a few minutes should be removed as nothing in feeding cause so much trouble as leaving food of that nature around until it is sour.

The following daily ration of five feeds given about two and a half hour apart and continued from the time the chicks are two to three days out of the shell until 10 or 12 days of age may be altered or adopted to suit conditions.

First feed: Dry bread crumbs slightly moistened with milk.

Second feed: Finely cracked mixed grains or commercial chick feed.

Third feed: Rolled oats.

Fourth feed: Dry bread crumbs moistened with milk.

Fifth feed: Finely cracked mixed grains.

In addition to the above give the chicks daily a little green food such as grass, lettuce, sprouted oats, etc. Do not have the moistened bread sloppy but in a crumbly state and during this period let the chicks out on fresh soil or grass every day if possible.

WHERE CANADA LAGS

Technical and Industrial Education
Performs Wonders in Europe

Dr. J. W. Robertson, who investigated technical schools and industrial training for the Dominion Government as chairman of the commission which looked into these matters abroad states that the claim that Canada has yet the best schools in the world "is tommyrot of the rottenest kind." Dr. Robertson leaves no doubt as to his opinion on the subject by quoting scores of cases wherein the Dominion is hopelessly behind many of the European countries.

In Canada, on virgin soil, the western grain grower is proud of a maximum of 20 bushels per acre, but in Britain, Dr. Robertson points out, farmers raise 36 bushels on soil under cultivation for over 30 years. This is due to industrial training and the system of technical education in vogue in the Old Country. And as confirmatory of this a published report on conditions in Russia may be employed. This report will prove a surprise to Canadians who have been so accustomed to look upon the Czar's country as a backward and unenlightened state. In the ten years from 1898 to 1908 Russia's population increased from 130 millions to 171 millions, a higher birth rate being shown than in any other country in Europe. Not only has Russia's population thus grown, but her productivity has increased in proportion. From 1902 to 1912 her exports of wheat rose from 70 millions to 139 millions—an increase of 98 per cent! This agricultural advance, says the report, has been aided by the state, "which has instituted technical schools in many places through the country, and these already have some 10,000 pupils; agricultural banks have also been established to care for the needs of the farmers, and of these latter there are now 17,000."

RUSH TO GET MARRIED

Canadian Rancher Found Many Girls
Willing to Share His Lot

The chairman of the Eastbourne Board of Guardians announced that in response to a letter published in the press from a Canadian chicken rancher with an income of $2,500 a year, who wanted a wife, no fewer than 244 replies had been received from girls willing to go to the Dominion. These replies would be forwarded to the rancher for his consideration. Some of the letters, added the chairman, contained charming photographs, while one girl enclosed some verses of poetry. It was suggested that the rancher should make his selection and hand over the remaining letters to lonely Canadian comrades.
