REDMOND MAKES CALL FOR FINANCIAL AID

Nationalist Leader Issues an appeal to Irish Americans to Help the Cause--An Admission That He Expects a Stiff Fight Before the Goal is Reached--Says Ulster Movement is Financed by Aristocratic Enemies of Popular Liberties

London, June 23.—John Redmond's begging letter to the president of the United Irish League at Philadelphia is the first open admission to overseas sympathizers and friends that the Nationalists are preparing to fight for home rule, should the proverbial slip between the cup and the lip occur.

The Irish Nationalist leader having committed himself to the volunteer movement, is anxious to find funds, as well as men, for the organization knowing full well that Sir Edward Carson's army is well provided with financial support by the Scotch and other Unionists.

That the latest developments in connection with the Irish volunteers is inspiring the Nationalists with greater aggressiveness is made clear from a despatch from a correspondent of The Morning Post, who declares that the tension in Londonderry is due to the increasingly aggressive conduct on the part of the Nationalists. He says that it cannot be exaggerated that every one is awaiting an outbreak which will involve loss of life.

He tells of a young farmer who arrived in the district on a motorcycle, being assailed by a crowd, who believed him to be a despatch-bearer from Carson's volunteer army. The young man had to be rescued by the police.

Today Lord Crewe will make a short statement in the house of lords in regard to the amending bill, to which Lord Lansdowne is expected to reply. After these preliminary addresses, the bill, it is thought, will be given a first reading without debate. The second reading will probably be fixed a week later. As June 30 was originally fixed as the date for the taking of the parent bill to the house of lords, the government had already been obliged to meet the wishes of the upper house, which proceeds deliberately.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS.

Philadelphia, June 22.—An appeal to strengthen the Irish volunteers and "enable them to confront adequately this audacious attempt of the British aristocracy and an Irish minority to put down by force the liberties of the Irish people," was received tonight by Michael J. Ryan, president of the United Irish League of America, in a cablegram from John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists. The cablegram, which was sent from London, was in part as follows:

"Hon. M. J. Ryan, President United Irish League:
"The Irish volunteers have been called into being by the audacious movement on the part of the Tories of Great Britain and the Orangemen of Ulster to overawe by armed force the will of parliament and of the British and Irish democracies. The Orange movement has been financed by all the wealthy and aristocratic enemies of popular liberties, and has been patronized by leading generals in the army; it has been further accompanied by an active and partially effective campaign to produce such a feeling in the army as to ensure that a rebellious body could count on the refusal of the army to maintain the law. This body of Orange volunteers have now succeeded in arming a considerable portion of their followers.

"Thus, then, the people of Ireland are faced by an armed force which threatens to stand between Ireland and the decision of parliament to give her liberty, and at the same time is a serious risk to the lives and property of our people. Such a move made it absolutely necessary that the Irish people should be placed in a position to defend their country and to defend themselves."

The cablegram concludes with an appeal to friends in the United States to financially aid the Nationalist volunteers.

Seventy-First Entrained for Sussex This Morning--Military Scenes at the Parade Grounds

It was no mournful gathering that drew up in the company column of the 71st Regiment this morning at nine o'clock on the parade ground of the barracks to go into training for two weeks at Sussex. The boys looked fresh and fit and the experience of two weeks' camp life, which is novel to many of the young bloods, seemed to put life and buoyancy into them. Every face along the line was bright and expectant.

The force which went to Sussex this morning is one of the largest and best recruited that has ever gone from Fredericton to the training camp, "D" Company being the largest, numbering about sixty strong.

After some preliminary drill on the parade grounds the three companies of the 71st, "D," "E" and "G" companies, fell into marching order under the command of Lieut. Colonel H. F. McLeod and the command came "In succession advance in company column." The line moved forward and the band struck up the thrilling Punjab march and must have gone to the boots of the Fredericton boys.

"The tremor that steals To the soldiers' heels When the band plays the old march past."

The column marched down Queen street to the I.R.C. station and entrained for Sussex.

The following officers were in command of the contingent:

Lieut. Col. H. F. McLeod, Major W. H. Gray.

"D" Company, Captain H. F. G. Woodbridge, Lieuts. C. W. Clark and F. Eason.

"E" Company, Lieuts. G. A. Good and A. Caldwell.

"G" Company, Captain W. J. Osborne, Lieut. T. R. McNally.

Transport officer, Lieut. Eason.

PRINCE OF WALES 20 YEARS OLD

Heir Apparent to the Throne Recipient of Many Presents

Prince Will Probably Take a World Cruise When He Attains His Majority

London, June 23.—The Prince of Wales celebrated his twentieth birthday anniversary today and was the recipient of many presents and messages of greeting from his royal relatives and friends. The anniversary was officially observed by the ringing of the bells of St. George's Chapel and of Windsor Parish church and the firing of an artillery salute in the Long Walk, Windsor Great Park.

Born at White Lodge, Richmond Park, June 23, 1894, his royal highness was baptized there some three weeks later as Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, thus combining the names of his father, his grandfather, his great-grandfather with those of the patron saints of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales. In 1906 he passed the qualifying examination for the Royal Navy and entered Osborne College. He completed his course of instruction there in two years and then entered Dartmouth College.

On the accession of his father, King George, to the throne on May 6, 1910, Prince Edward succeeded to the Dukedom of Cornwall and to the Scottish titles of Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron of Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland, and a short time later he was created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester.

The Prince of Wales was sent to Oxford to complete his education. He is now rated as a lieutenant in the Royal Navy, and within another year will probably make a world cruise as did his father and grandfather in their youth. Ten days ago the young Prince, performed his first public ceremony, laying the foundation stone of a new church on his own London estate.

OLIVER GOODINE KILLED INSTANTLY

Body of Four Year Old Child Severed by Ballast Train at Island View

A sudden and terrible bereavement came to the home of Louis Goodine, on Monday afternoon, when a ballast train at Island View ran over his four-year-old son, Oliver, killing him instantly, and cutting the body in two just below the chest.

When the accident occurred, Mr. Goodine was cutting hay below the track. The little lad and his grandfather, Joseph Goodine were there, and started for the house. The old gentleman saw the danger and shouted to the child, but the lad had gone too far.

Dr. B. M. Mullin was called to act as coroner, and an inquest was held. The jury brought in a verdict of "death by accident."

The neighborhood of Island View, is very much upset over the sad affair.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Thousands of Workers From all Parts of America in Chicago

Every Phase of Sunday School Activity Will be Considered by the Convention

Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Twenty thousand Sunday School leaders from all parts of America are gathered in Chicago to take part in the fourteenth convention of the International Sunday School Association. Every state of the union and every province of Canada is represented among the delegates.

The convention sessions will continue an entire week, during which time every phase of Sunday School activity will be considered under the guidance of experts of the international association and the various denominational Sunday School boards. Besides these general sessions to discuss the work of the various departments there will be sectional meetings to consider evangelism, social service, rural Sunday Schools, temperance and music. A program for Sunday Schools covering nine years will be proposed and probably adopted.

Speakers from Asia, Europe and all parts of the American continent are here to address the convention. Among the noted American speakers on the program are J. A. Macdonald of Toronto, Dr. Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee, N. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh, Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama, Bishop James F. Adkins of North Carolina, Bishop W. F. McDowell of Chicago, Rev. J. F. Williamson of St. Louis, Rev. Purley A. Baker, superintendent of the National Anti-Saloon League, and Dr. Francis E. Clarke of Boston, founder and president of the Christian Endeavor Society.

PRESBYTERIANS ON TEMPERANCE QUESTION

The Editor of The Mail,
Dear Sir,—The following is the text of the Resolution adopted by the General Assembly at its recent meeting at Woodstock:

"Whereas the General Assembly has repeatedly declared for the total suppression of the liquor traffic; and whereas the abolition of the public bar is now an issue before the electors of the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario; and whereas this is a great forward in the direction of the ultimate prohibition of the traffic; therefore resolved that nothing short of the complete suppression of the traffic can satisfy the Christian conscience; that the assembly express their gratification at the rapid advance in temperance sentiment as shown by the present position of the question in the provinces named; and urge all ministers and congregations in these provinces and throughout the Dominion to set principle before party and to unite by vote and influence in the support of this movement for the immediate abolition of the open bar."

This declaration by the largest Protestant Church in the Dominion clearly defines this issue as it appears to that church. It makes no difference which political party first undertakes to give Prohibition. That party will get the support of every honest prohibitionist. The attempt to make the temperance question a political question is as ridiculous and futile as an attempt to make the Ten Commandments or the sermon on the Mount political questions. The time is close at hand when both or all political parties will hasten to subscribe themselves prohibitionists before appealing to the people.

Yours very sincerely,

W. H. SMITH,
St. Paul's Manse, June 22, 1914.

MORE PAYMENTS BY RAILWAY CONTRACTORS

Mr. Carvell Springs a Sensation at the Meeting of the Royal Commission Today--Says the Money was Paid to Premier Flemming--Berry May Refuse to be Made a Scape-goat by the Tories--Timber Land Probe off Until July 29th

(Special to Daily Mail)

St. John, N. B., June 23.—The Royal Commission to investigate the Dugal charges resumed work this morning. At the outset Mr. Carvell stated that he still hoped for Berry's presence. This, it is understood, is based upon an effort being made by friends and relatives who do not want to see him made a scape goat by Flemming and the Tory party, and who are using all their persuasions to induce Berry to return and tell the whole story. To many people Berry has repeatedly said that he only did as he was told and that is the belief of those who have inside information.

The further consideration of the timber charges was set for Monday, July 29th, at 2.10 at St. John. Among the witnesses named by Carvell to be examined were: John E. Moore who has always expressed his willingness to give evidence without the formality of a subpoena.

This morning there was some change in appearances of counsel J. A. Barry of St. John has apparently been eliminated. Teed appeared formally for Hon. J. K. Flemming,

George Fowler, K.C., for the Attorney General representing the Province, T. J. Carter for H. F. McLeod and Daniel Mullin, K.C., temporarily in place of P. A. Guthrie. Counsel for the St. John and Quebec Railway Company Commission decided that Dugal's Counsel should not be required to furnish any information to the opposing counsel other than that contained in the charges and Mr. Carvell sprung somewhat of a sensation by intimating that he had information of another payment or payments by a contractor or contractors to Premier Flemming, evidence of which would be given with almost reluctance and he promised to advise Mr. Teed of the amount and particulars in due course. The absence of the manager of the Prudential Trust Company and a railway official from the Dominion Government to prove payments of proceeds of the guarantee of bonds and subsidies to the railway company caused Carvell to call Divisional Engineer Berton, Mr. Hill of Kennedy & McDonald and Hibbard Construction Company section first. He is now giving evidence as to the construction and road work and the amount to be done.
