Here is a large body of troops in training, the something which looks like plain robteeling is stronger against the intru- bery of the province. Couldn't Mr sion of politics while every one is Baxter work off some of his surplus working for the safety of the empire. The decision arrived at not to contest the return of Mr. Baxter in view of the reasons given in the resolution is not unexpected but it is very evident that Mr. Baxter must await the day of reckoning, The decision of the electors is only postponed.

The nom nation of Messrs. Foster andBentley as candidates when the general election is called on, is an excellent move and the example (lasses. should be followed by every county to New Brunswick. With good candidates in the field and county organizations that can take up the work when the day arrives the friends of good government will be in a much better position.

A good start has been made in St. John County. Two better business men or citizens than W. E. Foster and A. F. Bentley it would be difficult to find. Mr. Foster is manager of the wholesale dry goods house of Vassie & Co., and, while living in St. John City, he was born in St. Martins lived there for years and is today manager and controls the railway from St. Martins to Hampton. He has been president of the Board of Trade in St. John and occupied other prominent positions in the business and social life of the metropolis of the province. Mr. Bentley's legislative careet was for only three sessions but in that time he showed himwere of the same moral intensity as Mr. Bentley, there would be no trouble in the government of New

Mr. Morrissy may find himself part of the dust before the Tory broom of the new attorney general carries out his threat.

Mr Pinder and this associates, acting on the principle that "misery loves company," are proposing to set up the public works department to be shot at first. The bombardment promises to be lively and it is hoped for the interests of the public, that the opposition will be permitted to show up some of the Tory boodling that has robbed the highways through out the province. We venture to predict that Mr. Baxter's investigation will be behind closed doors, and that both the opposition and the public will be kept on the outside. Hon. Mr. Morrissy will, however. have something to say about this. He has never been charged with cowardice whatever indiscretions his unwise support of the Flemming crowd may have led him into and he will demand that the men who have been acting for the Tory members in the different parishes, grafting for them in may cases, shall be exposed and punished.
