SUCCESS FOR THE ALLIED ARMIES IN GREAT BRITAIN

ing upon them important losses. "On the other part of the front there is no general action, but slight offensive movements have been repulsed by the Allies and by the enemy."

REBELS ABUSE

London, Nov. 1.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Cape Town says:

"Col. Alberts has defeated the rebels in the Lichtenburg district of the Transvaal, killing thirteen, wounding thirty and capturing two hundred and forty. Among the captured is Commandant Claussens."

"Commandant De Villiers was out reconnoitering when he met a strong rebel commando with white flags attached to their rifles. De Villiers approached the band, whereupon the rebels attacked him and captured one hundred and ten of his men. The rebels then advanced against Col. Alberts' force from two directions, but Alberts defeated them and chased them twenty miles across the border. In their flight the rebels discarded their carts and bicycles."

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—via London, Nov. 1.—The ambassadors of Russia, Great Britain and France have received their passports. The Russian and British ambassadors will leave Constantinople tonight. The French ambassador will leave tomorrow.

GREAT BRITAIN OFFICIALLY 'AT WAR.'

London, Nov. 1.—It is officially announced in London that the Turkish government summarily shut off communications with the British embassy at Constantinople Friday last, and that the British government must take whatever action is required to protect British interests and territory and Egypt from attacks made or threatened.

Petrograd, Nov. 1.—The Turkish ambassador will be given his passports today.

SHE MUST TAKE IT FIRST.

London, Nov. 1.—Turkey has formally annexed Egypt, according to a German official statement, which has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company.

OPTIMISTIC REPORT.

London, Nov. 1.—"The way to Bruges is now open to the Allies owing to their recapture of Roules, and the Germans are digging new trenches behind Ghent with feverish energy. To do this is to announce their retreat."

This statement is made in The Observer in a despatch dated "Near the Franco-Belgian frontier." The message continues:

"Their (the Germans) losses have been enormous. A German officer captured yesterday estimates that there have been 150,000 killed or wounded since the occupation of Ostend in Northwest Flanders, alone. Whole batteries and battalions have been annihilated by the shell fire from the warships. Thousands have been drowned as the result of the opening of the dikes. In hand-to-hand fighting the German losses have far exceeded those of the Allies. Thousands of bodies of Germans floating on the inland sea bear bayonet wounds."

"Only the main roads and railroad tracks remain exposed above the flooded area."

"The shattered German regiments are being given no time to reform and amalgamate. They are abandoning their wounded, guns and transports. Unless their fleet comes out to create a diversion they will be driven back from the Belgian coast within a week."

ALLIES CAPTURED PRISONERS

Paris, Nov. 1.—The French official statement issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, says:

"There is nothing new to report on the Nieuport and Dixmude front."

"The Germans have continued their fierce attacks throughout the region to the north, east and south of Ypres. All these attacks have been repulsed, and we have made slight progress to the north of Ypres, and progressed perceptibly to the eastward of this locality."

"At daybreak hostile forces, detached from the Lys, succeeded in seizing Hellebeke and Messines, but these two villages were retaken towards evening by vigorous counter attacks on the part of the allied forces."

"The rest of the battlefield yesterday was marked by violent cannonading, and several unsuccessful counter attacks of the enemy which were intended to recover the ground conquered by us during the last few days."

"The struggle is still very violent in the Argonne region, where the Germans, however, made no progress."

"According to statistics furnished by our service in the rear, 7,685 German prisoners were interned during the week of October 14-20 alone. The figures do not include the convalescent wounded in our field hospitals, nor the detachments which are ready to be sent from the front to the rear."

BRITISH CRUISER SUNK.

Dover, via London, Nov. 1.—It is ascertained that the British cruiser, Hermes, which was sunk by a German submarine, yesterday, was attacked twelve miles east, by southeast, of Goodwin Sands, in the Straits of Dover, at 8.15 o'clock in the forenoon.

A number of torpedo boat destroyers and other vessels immediately rushed to the assistance of the wounded ship, which floated three-quarters of an hour after being struck, and then heeled over and sank.

Meantime the destroyers rescued the greater number of the crew of 300 men, while other vessels scoured the sea in an endeavour to locate the submarine. Two men were killed by the explosion, and nine were injured. About forty others are missing. The survivors were landed here.

London, Nov. 1.—The Secretary of the Admiralty last night made the following announcement:

"The old cruiser Hermes, Captain C. R. Lambe, was sunk today by a torpedo boat by a submarine in the Straits of Dover, as she was returning from Dunkirk. Nearly all the officers and crew were saved, but the exact loss cannot be ascertained until the men are mustered. The loss of the vessel is of small military significance."

The Hermes was a comparatively old vessel and from a naval viewpoint was of no great value, but the fact that she was attacked so near home indicates that the Germans must have a base somewhere on that part of the Belgian coast which is occupied by German troops from which they can menace ships of the Allies passing from England to France. Only a few days ago one of them sank the French steamer Admiral Ganteaume, which was carrying refugees to Calais.

How many submarines the Germans have in these waters is not known but several of them have been seen recently. When ships are guarded by torpedo boat destroyers, as are those engaged in bombarding the German positions, they are comparatively safe but the opportunity of the submarines comes when one is found alone, as was the Hermes.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Tokio, November, 1.—Official advices show that a desperate fight is being made at Tsing Tau. For miles from shore the sea reflects the flames from the burning shipyards, gas reservoirs and houses that have been set afire from the Japanese and British warships and land artillery which cover the rushes of the infantry.

The Germans are strongly entrenched, having at least thirty fortified positions with 150 guns, with elaborate systems of barbed wire entanglements and subterranean mines have impeded the advance of the Allies. Since Oct. 23, there have been casualties daily. The losses yesterday were slight.

Aeroplanes and balloons furnished the ranges for the gunners. The Kaiser's fort has replied fiercely. The guns of this fort have done no damage.

It is stated that as a tribute to the gallantry of Meyer Waldeck, the German governor of Kiaochow, no demand for the surrender of 'sing Tau' has been made.

RUSSIANS MOVE FORWARD.

Petrograd, Nov. 1.—The Russian general staff makes the following announcement:

"On the east Prussian front our troops are progressing in the region of Wladislavow, (government of Suwalki), and the forest of Romentin...."

"The German attacks in the region of Bakalarzevo on Oct. 31 have ceased following terrible losses suffered by the enemy."

"Beyond the Vistula we have advanced victoriously along the whole front. We have occupied Petrikau, Opotezno and Ojaroff, where we routed the rear guard of the enemy. We took four hundred prisoners and captured six rapid-fire guns, convicts and provisions."

"Upon the San river near Lezachovo, a Russian regiment which had entrenched itself, step by step reached the enemy's position, and profiting by the panic among the Austrians took by assault a temporary fort. Five officers and 500 soldiers were taken prisoners, and five rapid-fire guns were."

"A column of the enemy which descended from the Carpathians and fortified itself near Nativarna was attacked and put to flight."

HER HUSBAND WAS ILL

In the police court this morning a woman named Sabotie appeared before Magistrate Limerick on the charge of drunkenness. The prisoner pleaded guilty but was allowed her freedom upon a promise to go to her home at St. Marys Indian reserve and look after her sick husband.
