BIG BUDGET OF NEWS FROM SOUTHAMPTON

Southampton, April 18—A most remarkable freak in nature can be seen in the barn-yard of Mr. Ervine Stairs of East Waterville in this parish. The "bell" of the male moose hangs in front of the neck of a large ewe lamb. The "bell" is about three inches long and about two inches in circumference. It is composed of loose skin covered with short wool. As the lamb stands facing you the "bell" is in the same position and is in the same proportion to its size as the "bell" on the moose is to its size. In every other way the lamb is perfectly normal. Mr. Stairs is very patient in showing it to visitors, and has already been offered five dollars for the lamb, but refuses to sell. Mr. Stairs is one of our progressive farmers and has perhaps the largest one year old Durham bull in York County.

While working in the woods last week, Mr. Alfred Stairs had the misfortune to drop a birch log off the bunk of his sled on the instep of his foot. The accident has "laid him up" for several days, but he is now out again.

Mr. Frank Cronk had four cans hung on a large maple tree in a sugary of about two hundred trees, which he had tapped. The two cans on the upper side were brim full of sap. The sap in one of the two on the lower side was over half gone, while deer hairs adorned the edge of the can, and deer tracks were in the snow beneath. But the other can was gone. Young Cronk hunted in vain for the missing can. Next morning as two men were going out the settlement road they were astonished to see standing in a clump of fir trees near the side of the road, a small doe with a sap can on its nose. Its head was forced into the can until it completely covered the animal's eyes. Taking off their heavy boots the men crept up from opposite directions upon the unsuspecting animal till close enough to spring upon it. They caught it around the neck. To their surprise, the animal made very little resistance. It seemed completely tired out. It took considerable effort to remove the can and when they did, several places on the deer's nose were bleeding. They then freed the animal which walked away very slowly, stopping every few steps. The little doe had forced her head into the can in her effort to get all the sap, until she was unable to withdraw it.

Great sympathy is felt for Mrs. Thomas McCorquindale, of Hartfield, whose two sisters lost their lives in the "Apartment House" fire at Boston. One was burned in the building the other while attempting to escape by a sheet rope, from a five story window, fell to instant death upon the rock pavement beneath.

Mr. Richard Cronkhite left last week for Winnipeg, Man., where he will be engaged with William and Ross in transportation work. Mr. Cronkhite will return in the fall and if he likes the West, he will move his family there.

Rev. Mr. Doan preached very acceptably in the hall last Sunday. Mr. D. C. Brown merchant has purchased all the lumber at Dunham's Mill. He has a large number of teams hauling it to Culliton's Siding on the Pinder Spur as fast as it is sawn.

Mrs. Daisy Fountain of Worcester Mass, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Farnham.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Wright gave a large party to the young folk one evening last week. A fine supper was served and the evening greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grant who were recently married, have moved into the vacant house on Mr. Ezra Gran's upper place.

Etawah, the Futurity star of 1913 is reported in splendid form.

MAINE POTATOES TO BE GIVEN EVERY CHANCE

Augusts April 23—Gov. Haines has received a communication from C. L. Marlett, chairman of the Federated board of horticulture, department of agriculture, in response to his letter sent April 07 at which time Gov. Haines replied to the notice concerning the federal quarantining of Maine potatoes. Chairman Marlett assured Gov. Haines that no action will be taken which will put any unnecessary burden or discredit on the Maine potato industry. The letter is as follows:—

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture,
Washington, D. C.
April 20, 1914.

Dear Sir,
"I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of April 17th. I think it quite probable that you misunderstood the action taken by this board in issuing a notice for the hearing on the subject of the Maine quarantine. This action is simply pro forma, and required by the law before any regulatory action can be taken. I think your representatives here in Congress particularly Mr. Peters and Senator Johnson fully understand the situation, and they will be present at the hearing to represent the State of Maine. I hope that other representatives who are more directly connected with the potato inspection work of Maine will also be present. The commissioner of agriculture of the state of Maine has a good viewpoint of this department. You can rest assured that no action will be taken which will put any unnecessary burden or discredit on the Maine potato industry.

Yours respectfully,
C. L. MARLETT,
Chairman of Board.
Hon. William T. Haines,
Executive Chamber,
Augusta, Maine.

The first national exhibition in this country of the wood working industry of America will be held in the Grand Central Palace next month, under the name of the Forest Products Exposition. In addition to the general display of the forest products of this country special exhibitions will show the various manufacturing processes and the machinery used in the affiliated trades. One of the most important exhibits will be that of the United States Forest Service. The government display will include fire towers, equipment stations, models, wood utilization and distillation, paper pulp plants and conservation methods. Lumberman's associations and other organizations in Louisiana, New York, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Minnesota, Illinois, Pennsylvania and several other states are co-operating in the enterprise.
