ANOTHER GERMAN DEFEAT

have come into contact in northern Belgium, near Heffen, and on the French frontier near Oth an.

The meeting of these reconnoitering parties in force has resulted in some pretty fierce fighting, in which according to the French and Belgian official accounts, the allies scored further successes.

The other side of the story is still to be told, for Berlin remains silent. In fact, the German war office has had little to say since it reported the capture of the city of Liege. The position around that fortress is veiled somewhat in mystery. The Germans have resumed their attacks on the forts, but how they are progressing has not been communicated to the outside world.

Brussels had a report tonight that the forts had succeeded in silencing the big German guns, but little credence is placed in this. It may be that for the moment the invaders have stopped their onslaught, either to rest or to adopt some new means of gaining their object.

Lorraine, for the present, seems to have been left out of the fight while Alsace, like western France, is the scene of engagements between the advance guards of the main German and French armies.

The Austrian armies have commenced to move on Russian Poland. Nothing has come from the Russo-German frontier, but much the same is going on there as in the other theatres of war. The Russian and German cavalry are busy trying to discover what the main armies are doing.

The British navy has virtually cleared the trade routes of the German and Austrian ships, or has at least got them so closely watched that the admiralty advises ship owners to send out their vessels as usual. Ships from all parts of the world arrived at English ports today, and what is more important, steamers with provisions are coming from Scandinavian ports.

WORK OF RUSSIAN COSSACKS

Milan, Aug. 13—How 5,000 Cossacks annihilated two picked Austrian cavalry regiments from Lombard is told graphically in a despatch which has reached the Corriere D'Italie by way of Trieste.

Emboldened by the withdrawal of the Russian forces to about fifteen miles on their side of the frontier, the cavalry of Lombard made a dash as far as Bielgoraj. No sooner did the Russian Governor Hadyan get wind of the invader's raid than he rapidly collected a horde of Cossacks and put himself at their head. This force, supported by a field battery, moved in a dense forest surrounding a road two miles outside the town, and set about the preparations of a devilish ambushade for the enemy.

Owing to the rain and consequent overflow of the river Wepte, a tributary from which Bielgoraj stands, the whole country at the side of the road opposite the forest had been converted into a vast swamp. Towards evening the Austrians had to pass this spot on their way to headquarters from their excursion.

THE PRODUCTION IN 7 ACTS AND 289 SCENES BY THE BARKER COMPANY, LONDON

To the generation of today Victoria's serene reign has passed into history. There are, however, many yet living in this country, as well as abroad, who had the rare privilege of seeing the face of Her Majesty, and almost as many heard her voice.

The great film of "Sixty Years a Queen" now gives to those who have neither seen nor heard the Royal Sovereign, an opportunity to be brought to closer knowledge of some of her noble deeds. A pictorial can transmit what words cannot.

The management of the New Gallery Kinema, in London, England, where this impressive pictorial was first presented, was hesitant in announcing the premiere of the work because it realized, in a measure, the magnitude of the subject and the impossibility of encompassing, within the limit of a two-hour exhibition, all the many stirring episodes that marked the reign of Her Majesty.

It was not a question with the London management what to include in the pictures, but what to eliminate for lack of room in the film, for the Queen's life so teemed with incidents that are graven in the world's memory.

Victoria lived for her country. By her life she showed the world the true meaning of feminine greatness.

JAPS GETTING READY

LONDON, AUG. 14—THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THAT JAPAN IS GETTING READY TO TAKE STEPS AS SOON AS IT IS DEFINITELY LEARNED JUST WHAT STATUS JAPAN WOULD HAVE IN THE DISPOSITION OF THE SPOILS IN CASE SHE JUMPED INTO THE FIGHT AND GERMANY AND AUSTRIA WERE BEATEN. GERMAN OFFICIALS AND TOURISTS ARE LEAVING JAPAN AND CHINA AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE.

Paris, Aug. 14.—The French government issued an official statement which says that Germany is violating the neutrality of Switzerland and a great number of Germans were routed by Belgian cavalry.

French commanding officers, however, have strictest orders not to pursue their advantage across the Swiss frontier. Many of the German patriots have therefore escaped almost certain capture.

PRESENT SITUATION IS UNPRECEDENTED

New York, Aug. 11—New York newspapers are having a new experience in war despatches. War correspondents can get little advance information, and are not allowed to go to the scene of actual fighting. Very meagre news is coming, and the little that does reach the newspapers leaves the editors in doubt as to whether it is reliable or not. The censorship in Europe seems to be very rigorous, and even despatches marked "official" and "semi-official" have been later contradicted or amended. Last week there was a story of the loss of nineteen German warships. This appeared in all the American newspapers, and it was accepted in good faith by them. It now appears to have been untrue, and yet the public cannot fairly blame the newspapers, as they are entirely at the mercy of the despatches they receive.

FOR HOSPITAL SHIP.

The full receipts from New Brunswick for the Hospital Ship Fund being raised by the Daughters of the Empire will not be in until next week. In Fredericton the receipts to date have been $1,535.85. A few dollars are yet to be added. From other parts of the province $2,135.56 has been received today. Of that amount $1,100 came from St. John. This amount will be considerably increased, it is expected, as the public is responding readily.

New York, Aug. 14—With the outside public, so long absent from speculative activities is manifesting an increasingly active interest in the stock market, according to developments just uncovered by this organization. Notice we use the word "stocks." The investment demand is also increasing. Since the "Official Trading Market" was established enquiries have come into the street more rapidly and the more widespread the advertisement of such operations with, occasional prices, the greater will be the response. It is significant that when the exchange closed representatives of house have received each as many as six to a dozen new accounts from persons of whom they never heard, mostly WESTERNERS WHO SEND CASH FOR MARGINAL TRADING AS WELL AS FOR INVESTMENT.
