GERMANY IS SILENT OVER NAVAL CONTRIBUTION

Hon. Robert L. Borden, the Canadian Premier.

London, Dec. 7.—Canada's naval contribution has far overshadowed the eastern war as the topic of the week in England. The politicians and newspapers with very few dissenting voices welcome the dominion's gift for its own sake and as a memorable step towards consolidating the Empire.

Uncertainty exists as to whether the government proposes to receive Canada's ships as an addition to the minimum fleet considered necessary to maintain naval supremacy or as part of that fleet.

Lord Charles Beresford will ask assurance in the house of commons that the ships constitute an addition to the English programme, not part of it.

Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur Hamilton Lee, Unionist member for South Hants, who was civil lord of the admiralty in 1903 proposes to ask when the orders will be placed when the ships will be completed, and whether any conditions are attached to the Canadian offer.

Joseph Martin a former Canadian who sits for East Lancashire will ask why, if the admiralty memorandum discloses that the navy will be strengthened without delay, the government should hand over the obligation to Canada.

FEAR CANADA WILL HAVE TOO MUCH POWER

The only feature of the new policy causing uneasiness is giving the colonies a place on the committee of imperial defence. The Manchester Guardian says:

"From the English viewpoint, we view with distrust the admission of a Canadian representative to the committee of defence, especially if he is armed with the power, if his advice is not taken of withdrawing nearly half a squadron from the imperial navy."

"We are certain that this power would not be exercised frivolously or at a time of national danger, but the fact that it exists would give the Canadian member of the committee more than ordinary influence."

INDIAN GIFT STORY A CANARD

Despatches from Australia and South Africa report that Canada's munificence is kindling naval enthusiasm in these dominions.

The report of a gift of warships from the Indian princes proves to be a canard. India's financial load is already so heavy that English opinion deprecates any attempt to induce the native rulers to embark on new expense. If the smaller colonies fall in to line, Great Britain may find herself embarrassed by offers of more ships than she would be able to build and support.

The Westminster Gazette, whose editor J. A. Spender, is the most influential Liberal outside the ministry, makes the following announcement:

"We share none of the misgivings expressed in some quarters. The true system of alliances for the British empire is that of alliances with her own peoples beyond the seas."

"On that basis the British empire will not be drawn into European militarism, but evolved on its own principle of sea power."

"Let the dominion statesmen really be brought into confidential relations with foreign affairs. Let them be told everything and given a fair voice, and that voice, we are confident, will be for peace and moderation."

"The people of Canada do not want to be drawn into the European game. They want only such security as will enable them to live and develop by industry in peace."

"Europe therefore, need not be alarmed by the new developments of British power, for inevitably in the long run they must be a clerk upon any more European adventures on the part of Great Britain."

The Pall Mall Gazette, whose editor, J. L. Garvin, wields much influence among the Unionists, says:

"We render to the people of Canada the admiration due to their virile resolve, and the respect owing to those who see and do, their duty. This is an offering more after their hearts than their floods of careless flattery."

"Great Britain looks on them with the loving pride of a mother who beholds her first born when he dons for the first time the uniform of his regiment or that of an Osborne cadet."

DEATH AT GIBSON.

The death of Mr. William Scott occurred at his home in Gibson on Sunday morning after a lingering illness. He was aged seventy-two and is survived by a widow, five daughters and one son. The children are Mrs. James Burpee of Gibson, Mrs. John Godsoe of Fredericton, Mrs. F. W. Briggs of New York, Mrs. Samuel McCarthy of Lakeville, Miss Jessie Scott at home, and Mr. William Scott of Gibson. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 2.30 p.m., Rev. W. H. Jenkins conducting the service.

TURKEY REPORTED TO BE ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

Baghtche. He expressed the opinion today that peace would be arranged successfully with little difficulty. The Turkish delegates at the armistice negotiations proved to be extremely conciliatory, he said, and the fact that Turkey was willing to leave the besieged fortress without revictualing was considered proof of the sincerity of her declaration that she did not wish to waste time.

TURKS VIOLATE ARMISTICE.

Cetigne, Dec. 7.—Notwithstanding that an armistice has just been signed, the Turks from Tarabosch yesterday made a heavy attack against the Montenegrin front. In accordance with orders the Montenegrins refused to return the Turkish fire which did no damage.

The Montenegrin troops around Tarabosch and Scutari have received the news of the armistice with great discontent. The army was impatiently awaiting a general offensive movement for the capture of Scutari.

GREEKS CAPTURE ITALIAN STEAMER

Corfu, Dec. 7.—The first regiment of the Greek army landed today at Santi Quaranta on the coast of Epirus, opposite Corfu under the protection of the fleet. The Greek flag was hoisted. The Turkish authorities submitted without resistance.

The cruiser Macedonia has captured an Italian steamer embarking Albanian insurgents and stores off Avlona and has brought her to Corfu.

STOCK MARKET

New York, N.Y., Dec. 9.—Irregularity prevailed in the market during the first hour. There were strong and weak stocks but no pronounced strength or pronounced weakness. It was entirely a profitless affair and commission houses said they had practically no business. American Can was weak, selling down to 29½, a new low for the present movement. It was said that the pool which had carried the price up from about 11 to 47, had sold out above 40 and was now indifferent to the stock's fate. Distillers was weak and it was predicted that a dividend would be passed.
