

HEART WOULD PALPITATE.

HAD WEAK and DIZZY SPELLS.

Palpitation of the heart is one of the most common of all heart troubles. The heart will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over the system accompanied by weak and dizzy spells, making you feel that you are surely going to die. When you feel this way what you require is a real good heart and never tonic; one that will strengthen the weak heart and build up the nerve system. For this purpose we know of nothing that can equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. J. S. Nicholls, Listowel, Ont., writes: "I was weak and run down, my heart would palpitate, and I would take weak and dizzy spells. A friend advised me to try your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I started at once, and found that I felt much stronger, and my heart was ever so much better within a short time. I cannot praise your medicine too highly for it has done me a world of good. My husband has also been bothered with heart trouble ever since childhood and finds great relief in using your valuable pills."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE BATTLE SONG

(Air—Tipperary).

Up to see the lumbermen a scaler went one day;
And when they had heard his tale, the devil was to pay;
For the scaler wanted money, touched them every one,
But they all faced the music, and then when the thing was done:

Here's a gold mine, said Billy Berry,
Here's a gold mine, Ho! Ho!
Here's a gold mine, said Billy Berry,
But of course Kidd doesn't know.
Good-bye, E. S. Carter,
Farewell, Dugal dear,
Please give my card to Mr. Carvell,
For my war's right here.

Edgar Teed was Flemming's friend, a patriot was he;
Now, said Kidd to Scaler Billy, don't tell your tale to me;
I may say to you, however, if you do the deed,
And need a man to help you, I would mention Edgar Teed.

Flemming was an honest man, who never gave a bribe;
How he scorned the man who did, and all his evil tribe,
But of course, if a contractor had two thousand plunks,
J. Kidd would try to keep them from the opposition stunks.

Happy is the province where such statesmen may be found,
Teaching people honesty is not an empty sound;
From St. Croix unto Dungarvon, Perth to Campbellton,
The noble three have taught us how great victories are won.

Sing a song to Flemming, then of Berry and of Teed,
Let our politics be pure, from graft and plunder freed;
Lumbermen adore the trio, and so do we all,
For we all pay the fiddler at the Valley Railway ball.

DO CORNS LEAD TO CANCER

As yet this has not been proved, but interested parties will find nothing better for corns than Putnam's Corn Extractor, 25c. at all dealers.

(CAN FLY WITHOUT BRAIN)

Elmer's Balance Purely Mechanical, Scientist Demonstrates

One of the most striking features of the meeting at Dresden of the German Scientific Society for Aeronomics and Aviation was a lecture by Prof. Conheim on balance in the air.

Prof. Conheim drew a bold parallel between birds and aeroplanes. He gave a demonstration with living doves and seagulls from which the cerebrum margin had been extracted and showed that balance with these birds was purely mechanical. Having been deprived of their brain, the birds could exert no will power and maintained their balance simply by reflex movements of the head, tail and wings. Prof. Conheim argued from this analogy that it might be possible in time to invent automatic machinery which would keep an aeroplane stable without requiring any attention from the airman.

Leaders in Scientific Theory
According to a writer in Engineering Magazine mention can be made of but a few names among the many which hold an honorable place in the history of scientific system-making. A man of the very highest genius was Laplace, who enunciated the nebular hypothesis. In geology, Hutton first arranged scattered facts into a coherent account of the geological process by which rocks are worn down and built up. Turning to the biological sciences, we find fine systematizers whose work is closely linked together. The first of these was Linnaeus, who classified living forms on the basis of the conception of a simple scale of ascending complexity. Lamarck rearranged the classification by giving chief weight to differences of organic structure. Cuvier showed that organisms must be conceived as diverging from certain primitive types, as the branches of a tree spread out from the trunk. Darwin overthrew an hypothesis of Lamarck that acquired characteristics are inherited, and showed that evolution proceeds by means of spontaneous variation, and a life struggle in which the unfit are eliminated. And, finally, Herbert Spencer applied the theory of evolution to the institutions of society.

Deserted Town of Blackmailers

Only seven people now live at Dyea, which in the days of the Klondike had a population of 20,000. Of the seven, it is said only two are whites. The townsite has been filed on as farming land by three homesteaders, one of whom is an Indian woman and another a young man who is founding a fox ranch. Dyea, whose post office was established in 1896, became the next year the most crowded, lawless settlement in the world. The residents took toll from the men going in to seek gold and those coming out with pouches of the precious stuff. After completion of the White Pass and Yukon Railway, with Skagway as its sea terminus, Dyea collapsed and was abandoned.

A Word With Subscribers

ar misconception that in times of War a new paper makes money. As a matter of fact, any newspaper which tries to do its duty by its subscribers, loses money during war time. This is true of The Daily and Semi-Weekly Mail. Both of these papers, in spite of their tremendous increase in circulation, are not making any profit out of the war. This being the case, we have to ask our subscribers who are in arrears to be good enough to REMIT. If we are properly doing our duty toward you as a subscriber, we have to ask that you will carry out your duty to us by remitting promptly any amount that may be owing to us.

If you want to help us make our paper better, send us your subscription in advance. We assure you that we will spend it in improving our news service.

Accounts are now being sent out, and we will be very much indebted to you if you will give the same your prompt attention.
