Parisian Sage supplies hair and scalp needs. It surely removes dandruff with one application, stops itching head and cleanses the hair of all dirt and excessive oil.

All drug and toilet counters sell Parisian Sage in fifty cent bottles. Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Try at least one bottle from A. J. Ryan. He will refund the money if you are not satisfied.

CARDINAL FARLEY GOES TO ROME

New York, April 25—A large gathering of Catholic clergy and laity crowded the Hamburg-American line pier today to bid bon voyage to Cardinal Farley, who was among the passengers sailing on the steamship Berlin for Naples. The Cardinal is going to Rome in accordance with the law of the church that necessitates the bishops paying periodical visits to the Holy See to report on the work of their respective dioceses. It is understood that Cardinal Farley's report of the work of the church under his immediate jurisdiction will be supplemented by an important contribution to Peter's Pence. His Eminence is accompanied on the trip by Rev. Dr. Carroll, his secretary, as well as by a special party of clergymen of the diocese.

C. N. R. SCHEME UP NEXT WEEK

Ottawa, April 24—With the return of Premier Borden to the capital this week after a fortnight's holiday in Virginia, the negotiations with the C.N.R. for the bond guarantee which became somewhat tangled during the premier's absence, are again being straightened out, so far as the government itself is concerned.

It is understood that Mr. Borden, is now taking personal charge of the negotiations with Hon. Arthur Meighen as his chief advisor in drafting the agreement. Sir William McKenzie who is still camping assiduously on the trail of the cabinet here and who is daily in conference with the prime minister, is now apparently more content than he was a few days ago.

The "compromise" agreement as to the amount of stock to be put up as security and the other conditions to secure governmental control of the financial operations of the road in connection with its competition, and the application of the moneys to be raised on the new bond guarantee is not yet fully worked out. The negotiations are proceeding along the lines already indicated in these despatches, but the word has gone out that there must be no further embarrassing leakage of information as to what is being contemplated.

It was stated tonight on reliable authority that the government would be ready to present its C.N.R. aid proposals to parliament on Wednesday next.

BARK HAS BEEN SOLD.

The bark Edna M. Smith, commanded by Capt. J. A. Read of this city, has been sold to parties in Mobile, Ala. The Edna M. Smith is the last of a big fleet of square riggers owned in this province, which carried the Canadian ensign to all parts of the world. She is at present at Turk's Island, having arrived there recently from Buenos Ayres. She will take on a cargo for Boston and will be turned over to her new owners in that city. It is the intention of Capt. Read to retire from the sea and make his home with his daughter in this city.

NORTH AMERICA STILL LEADS THE WORLD

New York, April 22—In an address at the annual banquet of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association held at the Waldorf Astoria tonight, Dr. J. A. Macdonald of Toronto said, in part:—

Three years ago I was a guest at the annual banquet of this association. On that occasion President Taft was the guest of honor. The burden of his message to you was the importance of the service which the newspapers of the United States might render in urging upon Congress the trade agreement with Canada which he was so strongly advocating. His advocacy was the more urgent, because he honestly believed such reciprocity in trade would serve the highest interests of both countries. He also was of opinion that it was timely because, as he thought if Canada entered into a fiscal agreement with the rest of the British Empire it might be impossible for her to make a special trade arrangement with the United States. His words were "Canada is at the parting of the ways"—the way of fiscal freedom and the way of Imperial limitations.

President Taft did succeed in putting that reciprocity proposal through Congress. But when it was submitted to a vote of the Canadian electors in September 1911, the Liberal Government and the Prime Minister Sir Wilfrid Laurier, were defeated. Not long afterwards President Taft met a similar defeat at the hands of the people of the United States. These interesting facts come back to mind tonight as I stand again in the presence of this responsibility of making an address.

I recall those incidents not to make excuses or explanations not to express regrets for the political results and certainly not to confess any change of mind, as to the soundness of the policy of international trade then at issue. I speak for myself alone, but for The Toronto Globe, of which I am Editor and for the Canadian Liberalism, with which that journal is allied, when I declare that the experiences of the past two years have brought no regrets, indeed have only confirmed the opinions then held and advocated. Better trade relations, easier exchange of commodities, larger fiscal freedom between the United States and Canada would promote the prosperity of the people of both countries, would strengthen their civilizing forces without uniting their political institutions and would make the life and leadership of North America tell more vitally, more powerfully, more redemptively on all the world.

CURE CHILDREN'S COLDS BY EXTERNAL TREATMENT

Mothers Will Find Nothing so Speedily and Reliable as Old-Time "Nerviline"

It's really a shame to upset a young child's stomach by internal dosing, when external treatment will so promptly break up a cold.

When your boy comes in after play with his feet soaking wet, his throat hoarse and sore, his little chest tight and congested, just apply Nerviline. Give him a vigorous rubbing over his throat and put lots of Nerviline on his chest and rub it right in. To make Nerviline penetrate more quickly, cover his chest and throat with a hot flannel bandage. This treatment WON'T fail. Your boy will be feeling better in half an hour, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing you have warded off perhaps a cold, or gripe, or illness that might have laid him up.

Nerviline is mighty good for preventing colds and for breaking up a bad one, too. For general family use it cures all sorts of external aches and pains—you simply can't beat it. Try it for earache, toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, lame back, rheumatism, or lumbago. Wherever there is congestion, inflammation or pain in the joints or muscles, Nerviline will cure mighty quick. The large 50c family size bottle is so economical, so useful, it should be in every home. There is also a small 25c size. Dealers anywhere sell Nerviline.
