A Word With Subscribers

It is a popular misconception that in times of War a newspaper makes money. As a matter of fact, any newspaper which tries to do its duty by its subscribers, loses money during war time. This is true of The Daily and Semi-Weekly Mail. Both of these papers, in spite of their tremendous increase in circulation, are not making any profit out of the war. This being the case, we have to ask our subscribers who are in arrears to be good enough to REMIT. If we are properly doing our duty toward you as a subscriber, we have to ask that you will carry out your duty to us by remitting promptly any amount that may be owing to us.

If you want to help us make our paper better, send us your subscription in advance. We assure you that we will spend it in improving our news service.

Accounts are now being sent out, and we will be very much indebted to you if you will give the same your prompt attention.

GOES TO WAR AS RED CROSS NURSE

(Boston Record.)
Sacrificing the comforts of a good home and society functions, Miss Elsie P. Burr, daughter of I. Tucker Burr, of the Boston banking firm of Parkin & Burr, a well known Back Bay society girl, sailed away from Boston on the White Star line Arabic at noon to join the Red Cross Society in France.

She was given a rousing send-off at the dock by a number of her friends. Miss Burr was accompanied by Mrs. Francis B. Rice of this city, who is going to Paris.

Former Ambassador Robert Bacon arranged for Miss Burr to join the Red Cross, for he arranged for her to enter the service and on Wednesday will sail on the S.S. Lusitania from New York, and will meet Miss Burr in Paris, when final arrangements will be made for her to enter one of the hospitals and care for the wounded soldiers.

Miss Burr has had two years' training in hospitals and dispensary work, in which line she has taken the greatest interest. She is popular in society affairs in Boston.

There was another young woman on board, Miss Mary J. Young of South Lawrence, who is also going to the front and offer her services in assisting Belgian refugees.

Miss Young is a trained nurse and she was so stirred by the reports of suffering among the Belgians that she gave up her position as a nurse in a well known hospital. Taking what savings she has in the bank she purchased passage on the Arabic. She stated before sailing that she will pay her own expenses and will not ask any pay or reward for the work she does in assisting the suffering Belgians.

THEM THEIR HEAVIES

(From the Washington Star)
These days you don't know what to do.

It sure is tough on us poor men; Once day we put the blame things on. Next day we take them off again.

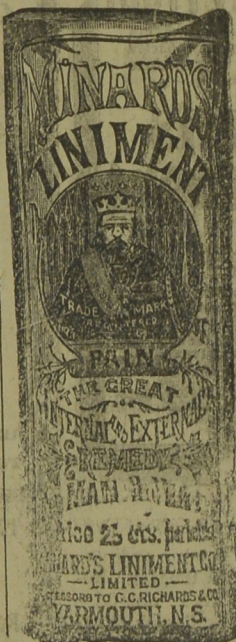

TO THE POLICYHOLDERS OF THE PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE CO. OF AMERICA:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that meeting of the policyholders of the Prudential Insurance Company of America will be held at the Home Office of said Company, in the City of Newark, New Jersey, on Monday, the Seventh Day of December, A.D., One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Fourteen, at Twelve o'clock, Noon, to consider the purchase by the said Company, for cash out of its surplus for the benefit of its policyholders, of such shares of its capital stock as may be offered for sale at the price of $455 per share, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 99 of the Laws of New Jersey, 1913, and the order of the Chancellor of said State, made July 28, 1914.

A Humble Joker

The husband of a great lady author, himself a nonentity, entered his wife's study while she was out, and glanced over the manuscript upon her writing desk.

He read the sentence, "She swept the room with a bright, fresh glance," and, taking up a pencil, he wrote on the margin of the page, "If she would only sweep the room with a bright, fresh broom!"

Reading on, he came to, "She touched a button and a footman appeared." In a marginal note to this was: "Alas! She will never touch a button!"

And now he came upon the sentence, "She decided to mend her ways." And again he wrote, "Hopeless! She'll never mend anything."

ON FISH LIARS

CANADA, so I've heard, possesses the greatest fishing grounds in the world. They tell me that bass and trout anglers come hundreds of miles just to fish in our waters. That's mighty gratifying if it's so. I don't know 'bout the fishing grounds but I do know we have some fast prize fish-lars in this country.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT AT LOWER QUEENSBURY

A very successful pie social in the interests of the Patriotic Fund was held in the school house at Lower Line Queensbury on Tuesday when the very respectable sum of $55 was realized. Considering the fact that the district is not a populous one the showing made was most creditable. Mr. Fred Barr acted as chairman and there was a large crowd present. A splendid program, prepared under the direction of Miss Barton, the efficient school teacher, was carried out and every number was heartily applauded. Some patriotic selections rendered by a gramophone owned by Mr. A. C. McNally added to the interest of the affair. At the conclusion of the program Chairman Barr sold the pies at public auction and realized good prices for them. Besides acting as chairman of the meeting and auctioneer, Mr. Barr was represented on the program by ten of his children, ranging in age from six to ten years. The greatest credit for the success of the affair is due to Miss Barton, who was most untiring in her efforts. On Saturday Chairman Barr and Mr. Whippart O.R.N. visited the city and turned over the proceeds to Colonel Loggie, treasurer of the Patriotic Fund.

MERE MAN AS SEEN BY A WOMAN

Candle light, a hum of voices, explosive laughter, the subdued clink of silver against china, the sombre arm of a somber butler thrust between a black coat sleeve and a figure of ivory swathed in chiffon.

"You are a Yale man?" accepting an olive.

"I am a Yale man," declining the olive, "Not disappointing I hope?"

"How could you be?"

"With you beside me I couldn't be."

"Caught again!" laughing at his own expense.

"Ah, but you are worth catching."

"A fig for your flattery!" tossing him a bon mot with a peppermint from her bosom.

"A fig for my flattery. What is flattery?"

"Flattery is the process."

"Flattery is the process?"

"Or saying what you don't mean at the right time."

"At the right time. And suppose you do mean it?"

"In that case you leave it unsaid!"

"You leave it unsaid. All of which, I suppose, represents a psychological dissertation?"

"What's that?"

"Dissertation is the science of talking—at length."

"And saying—nothing?"

"You have the right to add that for which I've not the courage."

Thus he entertains her.

"Ham'n eggs—chicken croquettes—hashed brown potatoes—roast beef. Go's far as you like!"

"Ham? Me for the croquettes. All right there, rush the victuals now!"

"My, but you're some kid! Where'd you get your flashy pin an' your peek aboo wa st?"

"Shut up, crazy! Bought 'em of course! Did you think I picked 'em off the bushes in the 'carpet factory'?"

"An' your eyes, they're shinin' just like stars! My evenin' star, I wonder who you are?"

"Shut up loon, the girl's comin' with the food!"

"tshkabibble!"

Thus he entertains her.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps?

Peps is a new scientific preparation put up into tablet or pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds and lung and throat troubles.

There is no connection between the lungs and the stomach.

Suppose something were wrong with your stomach—say indigestion, or ulceration—would you think of taking some medicine which went not to your stomach, but to your lungs? Certainly not!

Why then, when your lungs and chest are affected, should you dose your stomach—an absolutely separate organ—with medicine? Is it not far better to treat the ailing organ direct?

Peps provide a direct treatment for coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all lung, chest and throat troubles. Peps contain highly medicinal essences and pine extracts condensed into tablet form. You put a Peps on your tongue, and as it slowly dissolves, these volatile essences turn into vapor.

You BREATHE the remedy to your sore ailing lungs direct—not swallow it to your stomach, which is not ailing. (See diagram.) The healing fumes, thus breathed down, bathe the delicate, inflamed membrane of your broadening tubes and pass right on to the tiny sacs of the lungs—a course no liquid or solid medicine could possibly take.

Peps fumes are healing and anti-septic. They heal sore tissue and kill disease germs. Peps bring pine-forest fumes to your home, instead of you going to the pine forest!

For that cold, that night cough, that touch of bronchitis, don't dose your stomach! The trouble lies in your lungs. Peps go to the lungs direct and will cure you.

All druggists and stores 50c. box. Write for free sample to Peps Co., Toronto, or 52 Princess St., Winnipeg. Send only 10c. stamp for postage and enclose this advertisement.
