JESSE BURKETT
 MAY BE MANAGER
 FOR BROOKLYN FEDS

Veteran Worcester Manager Flirting
 With New League—Jesse Refuses to Confirm or Deny Story

Worcester, March 5—Manager Jesse C. Burkett of the Worcester New England League Club is flirting with the Federal League, in the opinion of his baseball associates and friends and they believe the opinion is well grounded because Burkett will not deny it.

He went to New York without telling his associates the reason, when he was expected to attend the New England League meeting in Boston Tuesday. He returned this afternoon from New York and was just as reticent.

When seen tonight and told that there was rumors that he was going to the Federals he replied: "I have nothing to say." When asked when he would have something to say he said: "Not before next week; probably Monday or Tuesday."

Rumor connects Burkett's name with the Brooklyn club as manager.

WORLD'S HOCKEY SERIES
 SET FOR MARCH 19 TO 23

Montreal, March 6—At a meeting between Frank Patrick, representing the Pacific Coast Hockey League, and President Quinn of the N.H.A., the dates for the world's series were arranged. Should the Canadiens win the championship, the first game will be played at the Arena on Saturday night March 14, and the second match will be played on March 17. The following matches will be played on March 19, 21 and 23.

Due to the lateness in the season it is more than likely that the final two games will have to be played at Toronto, as there is not likely to be any ice in Montreal on that date. Should the Toronto win the championship, the first game will be played at Toronto on March 14, while the other games necessarily will be played on the other dates arranged.

Oldtimer Has Hypnotized French Promoters Into Giving Him a Chance—Frenchman is Strong
 Favorite Over McCoy

New York, March 7.—Recent arrivals from Paris say the Carpentier-McCoy bout, which is set for one week from tonight is being billed all over the French capital like a circus. Which goes to show that McCoy has either hypnotized the promoters or that the promoters have cooked up something to grab a few thousand francs on the strength of the Kid's reputation. It is impossible to find a ring follower hereabouts who believes McCoy has even an outside chance with the young and brilliant Carpentier.

McCoy's last fight of any consequence was with one Curran, a petty officer in the British Navy, at Nice two years ago. The Kid lost several teeth and was knocked down three times in the first round, but kept right on fighting and was awarded the decision at the end of the twentieth round.

AFTER TWO YEARS

Now after two years of idleness he is to don the mitts and face one of the cleverest boxers of the day, if McCoy was the Hoosier demon of ten or twelve years ago, there would be tales of money bet that Europe would see a new champion after the bout next Saturday night. But Father Time permits no turning back of the records and the Kid at forty-one and a half is stacked against a young and sturdy boxer who has not yet reached the voting age on this side. McCoy may still possess some of his old-time cleverness which will enable him to stall for a time, but from this distance it looks as though he is tagged for a trimming.

WONDERFUL RECORD.

A wonder in his day, but always too light to aspire to the heavyweight crown, "Kid" McCoy whose real name is Norman Selby, has had a most spectacular career. He started life in Rush County, Indiana and after battling his way among the youngsters in his neighborhood, he left home and went to Louisille. Here he became known as a crack amateur boxer. His father in the meantime had gone into the grocery business in Indianapolis and induced his son to join him there. But weighing in for a fight suited the Kid better than weighing out sugar and tea and it wasn't long before he blossomed out as a full-fledged professional as about the year 1891. In three or four years he had walloped his way to quite a reputation.

In 1896 he and several other American boxers took the famous trip to South Africa. McCoy was the sensation of the tour and when he returned to America he was considered a to.

In 1897 he knocked out George La Blanche, won a decision over Dan Creedon and boxed a draw with Tommy Ryan. His first real defeat came in 1899, when Tom Sharkey put him out for the count in ten rounds. A year later he encountered his second downfall, this time in the hands of Jim Corbett. But in the meantime he had defeated such fighters as Steve O'Donnell, Peter Maher and Joe Choynski.

In 1901 McCoy took a trip to England. While on the other side he added three more knockouts to his record, his victims being Dave Barry, Jack Scals and Jack Madden. After losing a decision to Jack Root in Detroit in 1903 the Kid retired for about a year. He re-entered the ring, April 5, 1904, in Philadelphia. His opponent was Herr Flacke, who tipped the beam as something about a ton and was hailed as the greatest fighter in Europe. He might have been a great fighter, but in the bout with McCoy he didn't get a chance to show it. In the two rounds he was in the ring he hit the floor so many times it was impossible to keep the count. After this burlesque bout with the big Dutchman, McCoy did the Patil act several times.

During the periods of his retirement McCoy has engaged in the real estate automobile, jewelry and detective business. He has also been a star in the matrimonial game, and at present is burdened with the weight of five marriage certificates and four divorce decrees.

TO HONOR THE MEMORY OF FAMOUS SEA FIGHTER

Washington, D.C., March 6—The imposing bronze statue of Commodore John Barry, the "Father of the American Navy," is now being set up in Franklin Park in this city and arrangements for its unveiling in May are going forward. Commodore Barry was a native of Ireland and the unveiling of the statue is to be made the occasion for a great demonstration of Irish-Americans.

Delegations representing Irish societies in all sections of the country are expected here for the ceremony. Among the societies which have already accepted invitations are the Irish Fellowship Club of Chicago, the American-Irish Historical Society, the Hibernian Society of Baltimore, the Irish-American Society of Scranton, and branches of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and the Ancient Order of Hibernians in New York, Philadelphia and numerous other cities.

On the day before the unveiling the visiting delegations will make a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon to visit the tomb of George Washington. The evening following the ceremonies a great banquet is to be given in this city. President Wilson, members of the cabinet and members of Congress are to be invited.

The Barry statue cost about $50,000 and is the work of John J. Boyle, a New York sculptor. The statue is of heroic size and shows the distinguished naval officer standing erect, his eyes fixed on the distance and one hand resting on the sword which stands in front of him. He is clad in full naval uniform, with cocked hat and a heavy military coat. In designing the statue the sculptor was hampered somewhat because only one photograph of Commodore Barry could be found and that hangs in Philadelphia. The only inscription on the statue will be "John Barry, Commodore of the United States Navy. Born County Wexford, Ireland, 1746. Died in Philadelphia, 1803."

Commodore Barry was one of the most notable of the early heroes of the United States Navy. He was the senior officer of the navy and at one time Paul Jones served under him. Barry came to the United States from Ireland when he was fifteen years old and as he had decided to make the sea his profession he went to Philadelphia, at that time the leading American seaport.

Barry soon took rank as a seaman of rare ability and he was entrusted with the care of many big merchant ships sailing from Philadelphia. At the beginning of the Revolution he was recommended as one of the most

Sydney Beat Socials 4 to 2 at Halifax
 Last Night—Playoff Next Week

Halifax, March 6—Fifteen hundred people saw Sydney defeat the Socials tonight four goals to two, in one of the most strenuous games played here this season.

The victory places Sydney on equal terms with New Glasgow in the fight for the M.P.A.A. trophy, and the deciding games will be played next week.

Before he tackles "Kid" Williams Johnny Coulton will try himself out in a clash with Chick Hayes. The bout is scheduled for Cincinnati early in March.

Joe Coster, the well known New York lightweight, has retired from the ring. His knockout recently at the hands of Young McAuliffe showed Joe that it was time to hang up the mitts.

Chicago Charlie White's recent defeat at the hands of Marcy McCue in Milwaukee cost him his chance to meet Johnny Kilbane for the championship.

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.
 Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.
Dr. Wood's
 Norway Pine Syrup
 CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

competent men in this country to take a place of power in the infant navy. He consequently received a commission to command the brig Lexington of sixteen guns.

The ship left Philadelphia in 1776 and was the first vessel to fly the Continental flag, from which fact Barry has been called the "Father of the American Navy." To this distinction the commander quickly added the glory of capturing the first vessel ever taken by an American warship in an engagement. His prize was the Edward, an armed British vessel. The action lasted about an hour and four of Barry's crew of seventy men were killed. This is said to have been the first blood shed in the naval service in the United States.
