HEART WAS SO BAD
Could Not Do
Her Housework

Many women get run down and are unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung. To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes:— "I thought it my duty to write you how much your Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart could not sleep, eat nor walk about my house. I could not do my housework, and what my husband could do had to go undone. I had two children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills some years ago, and insisted on my trying them, so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble should just give you my pills a trial. If anyone cares to write me I will gladly give them all the information I know concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORKCaptain of the Mauritania to Have New Boat--Old Time Hotel Has Been Razed
--To Celebrate New York's Three Hundredth Anniversary

(Special to The Mail.)

New York, March 7.—Transatlantic travelers who have been passengers on the Mauritania will be pleased to learn that Captain Turner of that vessel is to be honored with the command of the great Cunard liner Aquitania, which is now nearing completion on the Clyde. Captain Turner has had a romantic career, having risen from the position of cabin boy to the command of the world's fastest and now the largest, liner.

Under new regulations of the Treasury Department, passengers from abroad may include in the $100 worth of goods entitled to free entry, practically all kinds of articles purchased abroad. Formerly passengers were permitted to bring only wearing apparel or toilet articles for their own use and persons bringing in a piece of dress goods or a suit length to be made in this country had to pay full duty. The new ruling permits passengers to bring presents for the relatives or friends of table linen, cloth, household goods, cutlery and the like to the value of $100, providing the goods are not intended for sale.

The Victoria Hotel, at Fifth avenue and 27th street, has fallen before the march of progress uptown. Up to the early seventies nearly all of the large hotels were below Fourteenth street. About 1880 they began to appear north of Twenty-third street. Now practically all of the formerly well-known hotels below Union square have disappeared. Of the long list of famous hotels that once dotted lower Broadway the only ones left are the old Broadway Central and the St. Denis. Within the memory of even the younger generation of New York the centre of hotel life in the metropolis has moved from the locality of Union square northward to Broadway and Forty-second street.

The West Side Young Men's Christian Association of this city boasts the distinction of being the largest Y.M.C.A. in the world. It has an active membership in excess of 6,000. The general attendance at the branch last year was 750,567, while the total yearly student attendance was 63,846. In the physical department the total attendance at gymnastic classes was 45,000, with a total yearly attendance in the gymnasium exceeding 150,000. One hundred and seventy-five thousand persons attended the religious meetings during the year. In connection with the branch there is an employment department, which found jobs for nearly 2,000 young men during the year.

The electric light bulbs of the great illuminated signs along Broadway supplied roosting places for thousands of birds during the recent severe cold spell. The discovery was made by employees of the electric light company, who investigated the reason for the dimness of many of the signs. They found that birds had clustered all about the lights. It was evident that the warmth radiated by the bulbs, though small in amount had been sufficient to save the lives of thousands of birds. Most of the birds were sparrows and pigeons, though it was reported that even larger birds and some of them of a variety not usually found in the city, had sought to warm themselves by nesting on the electric bulbs.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is at the head of a committee that is planning for the celebration this year of the three hundredth anniversary of New York as a port of commerce. The celebration is to be ushered in with religious exercises on the twenty-seventh of this month, which will be the anniversary of the granting of the first general charter for regular commerce with what is now New York by the United Netherlands. In April and May the celebration will be confined to exercises in the public schools. During the summer there will be exhibitions of the material resources of the various states of the union and in the autumn the celebration will be concluded with a series of brilliant parades and pageants.

The wardens and attendants at the city prisons are acquainted with about all the tricks resorted to in the smuggling of opium, morphine and other forms of "dope" to the prisoners. But a new one was sprung on the gatekeeper at the Tombs the other day, when a woman called to see her husband, who was a prisoner. The woman's conduct excited the gatekeeper's suspicions and he called the matron, who took the woman to a private room and made a thorough search of her clothing. The search did not confirm the gatekeeper's suspicions but as the woman was about to leave the matron noticed something peculiar about her hatpin. It was found that a fountain pen cap had been placed over the ordinary black bead head. Removing this the matron found inside a quantity of whitish powder, which the Tombs physician said was morphine.

Mrs. Emma B. Kennedy, widow of the multi-millionaire philanthropist, who gave so much of his estate to missions, has arranged to start ten days hence on a world-tour of inspection of the various missionary enterprises in which she and her husband were so deeply interested. She has chartered the yacht Alberta for the cruise, which will last several months. The yacht will sail first for the Mediterranean and at Rome Mrs. Kennedy will visit the new Waldensian Church, which she recently gave in memory of her father. At Constantinople one of the longest stops will be made to visit Robert College, to which Mr. Kennedy left $2,000,000, and the Bible House, which he also remembered. Mrs. Kennedy will visit the American Board School at Smyrna and the Syrian Protestant College at Beirut. She will be accompanied on the trip by a number of guests, among them Rev. J. H. Jowett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Jowett.

This is the liveliest Lenten season New York has ever known. If society has made renunciation of the pomps and vanities of the world during the forty days of sackcloth and ashes, there certainly is little outward evidence of it. While formerly in some of the churches to dance during Lent was regarded as a sin, and many abstained from such gaiety as religiously as a lesser number kept fast days, the present season sees little apparent diminution in the dancing craze. Managers of tea dances and dinner dances and supper dances and cabaret performances report that their patronage has not fallen off because of Lent. The big hotels are continuing their dinner dances as usual right through the Lenten season and in addition many of them have private dances and other entertainments booked for several nights each week.

SAY MEXICO MOCKS

MONROE DOCTRINE

London, March 4.—The Mexican situation and Sir Edward Grey's pronouncement of the views of the British Government in regard to the deadlock in the investigation into the circumstances of the death of W.S. Benton, the British ranchman killed at Juarez are the subject of much comment in today's evening newspapers. The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The temperate and restrained language in which Sir Edward Grey referred to the Mexican murder will have the approval of all Englishmen. Its moderation however, will not disguise the depth of the feeling."

The matter is dealt with in a long editorial article in the same newspaper which concludes:—"Every rule of moral and international right requires of the United States that the punishment of Benton's murderers shall be undertaken without avoidable delay. At the present moment civilization stands flouted and Great Britain outraged. The application of the Monroe doctrine is paralyzed and mocked."

The Globe says:—"Sir Edward Grey said much to emphasize the gravity of recent events and very little to relieve the disquietude which those events have inevitably provoked. The public opinion of this country, however sympathetic to the United States will not make considerations for the embarrassments of President Wilson an adequate excuse for acquiescing in such deeds as those for which Pancho Villa with the approval of Venustiano Carranza has been guilty."

If President Wilson cannot be held responsible for the behaviour of the Mexican insurrectionists, his policy is directly responsible for the state of things which has led to intolerable excesses. What the United States has done is not merely to allow civil war to persist but to foment it by allowing arms and ammunition to be supplied to the belligerents.

"The United States is bound to exert that predominant and exclusive influence which it claims for putting an end to things which have become a danger not merely to the United States itself, but to the civilized world."

The Westminster Gazette and the Evening Standard agree with Sir Edward Grey that the only possible policy is to await and secure reparation when circumstances permit it.

A bill has been introduced in the New Jersey legislature prohibiting the employment of women or girls as coremakers or moulders in foundries.
