CHANGED HER NAME

Lady Constance Lytton in Jail as Jane Warton

Finding, after various other adventures, that she was being treated, as Lady Constance Lytton, too leniently, her ladyship changed her name to Jane Warton, disguised herself as hideously as she dared, and set out on a more or less militant career in the jail in which she had been imprisoned as offending suffragette, she said:

"I had noticed several times when I was in prison that prisoners of unprepossessing appearance obtained least favor, so I was determined to put ugliness to the test. I had my hair cut short and parted in early Victorian fashion, in smooth bands down the side of my face. This, combined with the resentful bristles of my newly-cut hair, produced a curious effect. I wished to bleach my hair as well, but the hairdresser refused point blank to do this, and the stuff that I bought at a chemist's proved quite ineffective. A tweed hat, a long green coat, which I purchased for 8s. 6d., a woollen scarf and woollen gloves, a white silk neckerchief, a pair of pince-nez spectacles, a purse, a net bag to contain some of my papers, and my costume was complete!"

And after that Lady Constance got what she wanted, including all the harrowing delights of forcible feeding, until, in the autumn,

"... I had a slight heart seizure. I got out of bed in the morning and was taken with paralysis down one side."

Of such stuff is the modern militant woman made!

Viscountess
De Villelume Sombreuil

The Viscountess De Villelume Sombreuil has two children—a son and a daughter. The son loves Paris and will not leave it. The daughter lives in New York and refuses to go back to Paris. So the Viscountess is obliged to travel first to one country and then to the other in order to visit her two children. She crosses the Atlantic several times each year.

Rhyming Caretaker

Writing to the Loughrea District Council to ask for his quarters' salary, and stating that he had received no reply to previous letters, Mr. T. Colman, caretaker of Athenry Sewerage Works, sent postcard bearing a picture of a suffragette firing a letter box, with the lines:

"If a body write a body,
Getting no reply;
May a body ask a body,
What's the reason why?"

"What," said the chairman (Mr. P. Riordan) "is this body going to do with that body?" "I suppose," said Mr. O'Loughlin, "pay him the same as any other body." (Laughter.) "This body would have paid him before if we had a financial meeting," explained the assistant clerk. "He will be paid to-day."

Setting Bulldog on Crowd

A extraordinary case was heard in Glasgow, when Robert Hill was charged with urging a bulldog to attack a number of persons. His dog had been fighting, and had been beaten off by the crowd with sticks. Hill then urged the dog to "go" for the people, and eight persons were bitten, including a policeman. One sufferer was in the infirmary for a fortnight. Accused was fined $10.

Remarkable Prison Record

In Edinburgh Police-Court Thomas Hyland pleaded guilty to having been drunk in the Grassmarket. Out of the 365 days in last year accused had spent no fewer than 336 of them in prison for various offences. Recently an effort had been made to deal with him under the Inebriates Act, but, unfortunately the conditions of the statute did not fully apply. Bailie Rusk sent him to prison for sixty days.

Photographic Process

Two Frenchmen have invented a process for treating photographic negatives by which the effect of stereoscopic relief is produced in pictures.

"COLONEL" WILKINSON

TO THE BAR

Philadelphia, Pa., July 8—"Colonel" George Wilkinson and his associate, Maylon Van Booskirk, whose promotion schemes are alleged to have about as substantial a foundation as the carpet-tack factory promoted by "Get-Rick-Quick" Wallingford, were arraigned before a federal commissioner today for a preliminary hearing on charges preferred by the post office authorities. The pair are charged with using the mails to defraud. On the strength of a project to transform the little hamlet of Sping City, Tenn., into an industrial and commercial rival of New York City, "Colonel" Wilkinson is alleged to have drawn thousands of dollars from the pockets of gullible persons in Europe as well as in many parts of this country.

The local hack organ gravely tells its readers that the missing witnesses belong to Mr. Carvell and it is his duty to bring them to the scratch. The ingenuity of the hack organ is being surely taxed these days. Its efforts to defend the rascality of the Flemming government are ludicrous in the extreme.

Louis Joseph Vance had made a dramatization of a short story called "Smoke of Battle," by Irvin S. Cobb, the well known humorist writer.

CROWD CHEERS FOR OPPOSITION LEADER

Winnipeg, July 7.—There is every indication at the present that the people of Manitoba are turning against the Roblin Government. Saturday night the Premier came to Winnipeg from the country, where he has been campaigning for the past ten days, to address a meeting which had been advertised throughout the length and breadth of the city as a great rally. It was typical Roblin demonstration in characteristic Roblinian surroundings. At every angle of the big hall and arranged conveniently to the view of the speaker was draped a Union Jack. He seemed to have "hard going." Every reference to the name, Norris, was a signal for prolonged applause and then in order to divert the minds of his hearers to a loftier theme, Sir Ronald would declare most vehemently his loyalty "to that grand old flag."

Mrs. Nellie McClung, who is to speak here tonight, and who has been following the Premier steadily about the province, was criticized by the Premier, in a manner which expressed intense regret that a lady should presume so much as to approach the public platform against him.

Some person in the audience asked "what about schools?"

"Anyone who would try to awaken a feud over the school question in this province, is either ignorant or a designedly bad man," was Sir Ronald's reply. "This cry about schools is contrary to the principles of that grand old flag, which stands for fairness for everyone living under it, whether on the coral strands of India, or as a Laplander on the frozen shores of Iceland."

On the temperance question, Mr. Roblin surprised many people by saying that he stood for total prohibition by the way of local option.

Direct legislation, the Premier says was the only plank in the Liberal platform and to this proposed measure he devoted a very large part of his speech. The other reforms on the Liberal programme relating to "banish the bar," good roads, schools, woman suffrage and the imperial administration of justice, he dismissed as being "just so much verbiage." The attack on direct legislation gave the Premier his greatest opportunity to wave the flag and profess the strength of his devotion to his British connections.

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also --- particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising:
Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
