ANOTHER STATEMENT ABOUT THE MENACE

Ottawa, April 29—The postmaster general, Hon. L. P. Pelletier, made another statement in the commons this afternoon in regard to the exclusion of the Canadian "Menace," published at Aurora (Ont.), from the Canadian mails.

The government has been bombarded with resolutions from orange lodges protesting against this exclusion. Mr. Pelletier this afternoon, in reply to a question by Edmund Proulx, quoted a letter written in reply to a resolution of protest from a Montreal Orange lodge. This letter reviewed the reasons formerly given for barring "The Menace," on the ground that the paper published "immoral, indecent and scurrilous things." Continuing, the postmaster-general said in his letter:

"The publishers came out with a leading article in large type acknowledging that we were right and undertaking not to publish this kind of obscene and immoral language in future. They were told that the ban would be lifted but if they did not keep their promise the privileges of the mails would be withdrawn."

Continuing his reply to the Orange men, Mr. Pelletier said:

"If I were to forget that I am postmaster-general for all Canadians Protestant and Catholic alike, and if I were so bigotted as to think of excluding Protestant newspapers from the mails, there are others than 'The Menace' which would be more worthy of my attention in this respect; but the law does not say because it is strongly Catholic or that a newspaper shall be excluded because it is strongly Catholic or strongly Protestant and consequently I have no right to bar any of them from the mails. The law and regulations do say, however, that no newspaper, Protestant or Catholic, shall be obscene, immoral or scurrilous, and it does not seem possible to me that you and I as christian gentlemen, should disagree in a matter like this."

NOTHING TO IT.

"Why do you object to women running for office?"

"Then we'd have petticoat government."

"That shows how intensely ignorant of existing conditions you are. Women haven't worn petticoats for the longest time."

ada along the lines of the commission's report. Premier Borden said: "The whole subject has been under consideration and has been taken up with the governments of the different provinces. The House will be duly informed of any legislative action which may be contemplated."

As a matter of fact, practically nothing is being done at all at present in the matter by the government.

which teaches a lesson to the young people who long for the "Gay White Way," Miss Storey taking the role of "Purity Jane." She is supported by an exceptionally clever company of selected artists and high class vaudeville acts will be presented between each act. Miss Storey has written over two hundred short stories and thirty plays, retaining a repertoire of ten plays for her own use, presenting three of the best here in Fredricton.

PRESENTATIONS

Mrs. W. R. Fraser, of Brookville, who is soon to remove, with her husband, to Fredricton, received a very pleasant surprise last evening, when the house was invaded by about fifty of the neighbors. On behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor presented to her several articles of value for household use, and this was followed by a kitchen shower from the younger folk. The balance of the evening was pleasantly spent by the gathering.—Times.

THE REFUSAL

Apropos of the starvation rates paid for magazines, poetry, Jerome S. McWade, the millionaire sociologist of Duluth said:

"On a recent slumming trip I gave some aid to a magazine poet. Apropos of the current poetry rates the poor fellow told me a story:

"How much do you want' an editor asked a poet 'for this sonnet sequence on white slavery?' 'Two cents a line, if you please, sir,' the poet humbly answered.

"Don't slam the door as you go out," said the editor."

TORY SCANDAL EXPOSED AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, April 29—What looks like a clear-cut and indefensible scandal in connection with the purchase of the site for a post office at Fort Francis in 1912 was exposed in the Public Accounts Committee this morning.

The case is on a par with several other transactions which have taken place under the present government in connection with the sudden jump in values of land required for government purposes, with consequent profit to those who got in on the deals.

In July, 1912, the justice department authorized A. D. George, crown attorney at Fort Francis, and a prominent Conservative, to act as the agent of the government in securing options and purchasing a site for a post office building. Two sites were named. One lot was owned by a Mr. Frawley, a Fort Francis druggist, and an option upon it for $8,000 was secured by Mr. George Anderson. The other lot was owned by the Bartley estate and was held in trust for a minor by the provincial official guard
